END OF VOLUME 11

"A monument they've reared, more durable Than brass - more lofty than the tow'ring height of Pyramids; which neither raging winds, Nor beating storms, nor the long lapse of years, Nor tide of time, can ever wear away."

-Horace.

"The roots of the present lie deep in the past, and nothing is dead to the man who would learn how the present comes to be what it is."

-Stubb's "Constitutional History of England."
