Dear Miss Ford:

Quite sometime ago we received various amounts in our office designated for the personal aid of displaced persons. It is my understanding that these amounts are to help some displaced person who has already been located here and do not represent amounts which may be used in the general expenses of handling affairs for displaced persons.

It is Dr. Sadler's opinion that these gifts, totaling $208.69, may be used for any phase of the displaced persons' program, but if you find some way in which this money can be used for individual displaced persons, it appears to me that the purposes of the donors will be complied with more fully. I shall leave the disposition of the $208.69 to you, and we enclose our check for that amount.

This is the night (October 31st) when the "spooks and goblins" will be on parade, therefore, I want to be sure and finish my office routine and get home before dark. I am afraid, however, my children will not allow me to stay in seclusion, therefore, I expect to be on the move tonight with a clown and a witch. Let us hope there will be less destruction this year than that which usually occurs with such a celebration.

With personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

E. L. Deane
