J. N. PRESTRIDGE, EDITOR.
J. E. GWATKIN, ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

The Baptist Argus.

INCORPORATED.

THE WORLD-WIDE RELIGIOUS NEWS, WEEKLY.

$2.00 A YEAR: $1.00 TO MINISTERS.

AR. SSB 109

Louisville, Ky. Aug. 28-00.

Rev. J. M. Frost,

Nashville,

Tenn.

Dear Brother:-

Your letter of Aug. 24th received, regarding the enclosed paragraph. Religious papers are being more and more discounted by advertisers. Several of us have been cut off a time or two because our general publications supply the needs in the Baptist denomination. Our general denominational publications and Sunday newspapers are working detriment to the State organs along the lines of advertisements.

I did not mean by this squib anything serious, only to call attention to a fact worth considering. Perhaps it is one of the things that cannot be helped, but not necessarily therefore to be lost sight of. You are right in calling yourself a friend of the denominational journals. We have always held you as a friend.

Yours sincerely,

J. N. Prestridge

The Baptist Union tends to lunch circulation of State papapers — & adv. too. Advertisers say they cover same field.