SOUTHERN BAPTIST HOME MENON FINANCE NO. STANKEN NEWS ACINES K HOFWES K HOFW

VOL. XIV.

AUGUST, 1943

NO. 8.

Youth, Home Missions And the Future

By J. B. LAWRENCE
Pages 14 and 15

DARGAN MEMORIAL LIBRARY
BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL BOAR TO 16 MEIGHTH AVENUE, NORTH
NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

A Task for Youth

An Editorial

Your Prayers Are Answered

By CHAPLAIN TAGGART
Pages 4 and 5

Radio Preaching In Havana

By M. N. McCall
Page 6

Racial Relations

RECENTLY we have had race riots — a small one in the deep South, a large one in the far North. These are explosions like the eruption of a volcano which show that beneath the surface in our social order there is smoldering the disease of racial antipathy, prejudice and antagonism.

The problem of racial relations cannot be solved by race riots. The Gospel of love is the remedy for sick humanity. The challenge of the hour is for Christians to apply this Gospel of love in race relations.

Christianity and common sense converge on one conclusion: man should be treated as man, apart from race, birth or color. The Home Mission Board is giving itself in its mission program to an effort to establish good will between the races. The problem can only be solved around the foot of the cross.

Population Shifts

This is a moving age. We are told that in 1942-43 as many as twenty-five million American people will go from one locality to another. In our Southern Baptist Convention territory many of our cities have increased their population in the last two years by 20%. In addition to this, great industrial centers have sprung up in new sections.

Hordes of people from the country are going to government work, leaving the country churches without adequate leadership and support. This means the development of new urban areas. It means the formation of settlements in many sections. These shifts in population give to us a home mission problem of no small proportion.

World Want

A CCORDING to a survey made by Elizabeth Hoyt, professor of economics, Iowa State College, two-thirds of the world's population is in want, even in normal times. This will be greatly increased by the war; in fact, four-fitths of the world's population at the end of this war will be on the verge of starvation, or at least below the level of healthy living.

We cannot overlook this situation in the building of a new world. Christianity not only carries a Gospel of love, but it implements love with service. We cannot see our brothers going bungry and not minister to them, without violating our Christian principles.

At home and abroad the need will be great, the chance for service supreme, and the opportunity to carry the Christian principle into all the world great.

Youth to the Front

AT the Texas Baptist student convention in Dallas, two thousand young people marched down the streets of that great city with banners flying bearing this slogan: "We buy bonds not beer."

The liquor interests today are trying to do for our young people what the tobacco interests have done, namely, make them all users of the drug.

Christians sat by and let the tobacco interests make our people a nation of cigarette smokers. Shall we sit by and let the liquor interests make our people a nation of drunk ards?

Startling Figures

NOGER BABSON, the statistician, tella us that if the tithing system were universally adopted by our church members it would revolutionize our entire religious program.

"It is estimated," he says, "that the annual business turnover in this country amounts to more than five hundred billion dellors."

He estimates that four-fifths of this amount passes through the hands of church people. One per cent of this amount would be five billion doilars a year. Assuming that there is a profit of 10% on this turnover, it would mean that there is coming each year to the church people of America an income amounting to forty billion doilars.

If the tithing process were in operation this would give the churches in tithes about four billion dollars a year. According to these figures, Southern Baptists would give about five hundred million dellers about if they tithed. What a field for missions here!

A Little Child Shall Lead Them ACODY was once speaking about the marriage supper of the Lamb, and in his sermon he made it very realintic. He imagined himself receiving a letter of invitation. There in the pulpit he broke the seal of a letter, took out the invitation card, and read

Then he wrote an answer and read the answer aloud. It was directed, "To the King of Heaven," and it ended, "I pray Thee have me excused." Moody then held the letter aloft in moody then need the letter slott in his hand and said, "Who will sign this letter and send it up to God?" The great audience was still. Then Moody wrote another letter, closing with the words, "I hasten to say, by the grace of God. I will be there."

He then held this letter up and said,

"Who will sign this letter and send it up to God?"

There was a pause, and then a small childish volce replied, "Mr.

Moody, I will sign it."

Verily, we must become as a little child before we can enter the king-

Many But How Much?

To said that in 200 religious bodies in America there is a membership of more than 64,200,000. It is also naid that 57% of these people are identified with 50 of the larger bodies.

We suppose that 50% of these larger groups.

My, what an army for our Lord if mobilized and equipped. The question is: Are we many but not much?

The spiritual state of our churches is an index of the efficiency and whole someness of their missionary activities. There is an immediate connection between the spiritual life of a church and its ministries. Hence, a need for a Home Mission passion, for we cannot carry abroad what we do not possess at home.

Published monthly by the Home Missis Board, Southern Baptist Convention 115 Re Rock Building, Atlants, Gs.

J. B. LAWRENCE Executive Secretary-Treas-

JOE W. BURTON Secretary of Education

Becretary of Education

Bubacription: Twenty-five Cenis per year.

Five years for $1. Budget rate to churche earnt on request. Entered as second fedite at tar. January 11. Ender the Act of March 1878. Acceptance for mailing at special at of potage previded for in Section 518. Act of Petruary 21. 1273. authorized August 12. 1879.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST

HOME MISSIONS

My God Shall Supply All Your Need According To His Riches In Glory By Christ Jesus.—Phil. 4:19.

VOL. XIV.

AUGUST, 1943

NO. 8.

YOUNG PEOPLE of today will have the task of shaping the social and economic order of the future. They will determine its character. We would remind them, therefore, that there are some things which are absolutely essenti

A Task
For Youth

tial. If they would build a new world out of the rubbish of a destroyed order which this world conflict is now producing they must be spiritually prepared.

For the tasks ahead of us we will need an actual and a factual faith in Christ. We must know that we have met Christ face to face. He must become a real living presence to us; a living, reigning, redeeming, transforming, empowering Saviour. We cannot know this unless we experience it in our hearts. The only things we actually know are the things we have experienced. All else is a matter of faith. Paul says, "I know Him whom I have believed," and because of this knowledge he was persuaded that Christ was able to keep that which he had committed to Him. So must we know Him.

So must we know him.

We must also translate our faith and experience into the actuality of conduct and character so that we may show to the world the type of life the religion of Christ produces. We must demonstrate in changed lives that to be a Christian is to be different, that it is to live a life that is better. What the world needs is not more creeds, but more character; not more protestations of adoration for the beauty of the life of Christ, but more conformity to Christ's life on the part of those who claim Him as Saviour.

We look to our young people as those who shall control the future to put into Christian living a higher type of Christian life. We look to them to make love the motive of all conduct. This must be the basis of action. "He that loveth not knoweth not God." Paul put love above everything, and it is above everything. Though we have every talent and do every sort of good deed, even to the giving of our bodies to be burned, if we have not love it will profit us nothing.

This world is full of hate today. It is difficult to keep from hating those nations that oppose us in this war. When the time comes for the peace to be made, we Christian people must exert very influence possible to base the terms of peace on love and not hate. Chinese Christians must love the Japanese. American Christians must love the Germans, and all of us must love one another. Lasting peace can only be secured on a basis of love.

Home Missions Imperative

THE future of our country is now at stake. The future of Christianity for the world is at stake. No work that we can do in America today will mean as much to the rehabilitation of the world as that of making America Christian. Ultimately and fundamentally the world peace, progress and prosperity is based upon the character of the people who live in the world, and character is rooted in Christianity. Spiritual things, the things that Christianity produces, are the things that the world needs most of all right now, and if we could bring America to the place where Americans put these things first, to the place where Christian ideals were dominant, we would have rendered the greatest service within our power to render to the world. Let America become a leader in righteousness and she will do more toward the restoration of peace, happiness and prosperity among the nations of the world than she can ever do in the economic and industrial fields. We do not need to stabilize the American dollar half as much as we need to give moral and spiritual stabilization to American life.

Selfishness Brings War

S OME of the best theologians tell us that when sin is boiled down to its last constituency it is pure, unadulterated selfishness. The trouble with the world now is that it is deminated by selfish, ambitious, godless men; an unjust social order in which the poor are ground down under the heel of capital is the product of selfish men who would fill their own coffers with shekels coined out of the blooded tears of the oppressed. A world built upon this principle will always be disturbed, troubled, wicked and waring.

The rich resources of the earth do not belong to the favored few who are able to get hold of a title to them; these treasures of the earth are for the whole human family and those who get possession of them are not to hoard for self, but are to share with those who are less fortunate.

A policy of sharing between the nations more than likely would have prevented this world war, and when the peace terms are written if a more generous policy is not adopted than has maintained in the past, the cessation of hostilities will only be a calm before another storm. Peace among nations cannot be maintained on a selfish

Your Prayers Are Answered

By CHAPLAIN WILLIAM C. TAGGART

BELIEVE in prayer. I believe in it both because of my own arperience and because of what I have seen and heard as a chaplain with our forces in the field.

But now we are learning again that prayer works for the individual. Where I have been, it's got to.

In the Southwest Pacific battle zone, the tempo of existence is stepped up. Weeks, months, years of ordinary living are crowded into a single hour. All the courage and self-sacrifice, all the loneliness and terror of a lifetime may be compressed into a few brief minutes.

Under these conditions, diluted faith is not enough. At the front, a man needs his religion straight. And when he prays, he wants his answer in a

I am an Air Force chaplain. For more than a year I have lived with men whose daily job is to risk their lives in combat with the enemy. Unless I can give them the assurance that their prayers will be heard, I have nothing to offer them.

Knows How Men Pray

I have seen these men go off on raissions never to return. I have watched them during bomb attacks against our base. I have crouched with them and helped pass the ammunition while we were being straffed by hostile planes. I know what they think and feel. I know how they

One of our Flying Fortresses was forced down at sea on its way back to Australia. The crew of nine was given up for lost. Weeks later, nine bearded, disheveled men straggled into camp, and I had the story of their rescue from Major Allen Lindberg of Weatfield, New Jersey, pilot of the

"It was before dawn when we crashed." Lindberg told me. "We just had time to shove off on two rubber rafts, without a crumb of food or a drop of water."

EDITOR'S NOTE — This article by Chaplain Taggart of the U. S. Army Air Force is reprinted from The American Magazine, July, 1943, issue. Chaplain Taggart's home is Abilene, Texas, where he attended Hardine Simmons University; he is also a graduate of Southwestern Bembary.

"A grim outlook," I suggested.

"Grim enough. The boys were pretty worried—all except Hernander. Right away that lad from Dallas started praying, and pretty soon he startled us by announcing that help was on the way. He didn't know how or when, but something told him that we should be saved."

Sergeant Albert Hernandez was tail gunner in the plane. Small, dark, quiet and conscientious, he had been a frequent visitor to our chapel services. At the first opportunity I questioned him about his part in the adventure.

"It's the gospel truth," he said. "I'd only been praying a few minutes when I felt like God had heard me and was taking a hand to help us out. From then on, no matter how had things got, I was sure we would come through."

The major continued: "You've no idea what hell is like until you have been crowded with four other men on a rubber bubble built for three, and left to drift beneath a brolling sun. Toward evening we thought we saw the peaks of mountains to the west. When they dissolved into mist, Hernandez just prayed harder. He got the rest of us to pray and sing with him. We sang 'Rock of Ages' and 'Lead Kindly Light.'

Prayers Never Stopped

"The second day our lips were too cracked and our tongues too swollen for much singing. But the prayers never stopped.

"Then something happened. We felt a current reach us and hurry us along. Before nightfall we saw the silhouette of palm trees, the white streak of urf, and—almost beyond belief—the black buils of three outrigger cances.

"Our rescuers were Australian aborigines — black-skinned, kinky-headed fishermen from the mainland several hundred miles away. They told us that, the day before, they had been homeward bound with their catch, when a strange urge came over them. Something impelled them to change their course, and steer for this uninhabited and worthless bit of coral."

Yes, prayer does work. There have been other incidents. Lieutenant Frank Beeson of Tuncalooss, Alabama, lay in our base hospital, a gaping shell wound in his shoulder. A pursuit pilot, he had been shot down'at Part

Chaplain Taggert

Moresby. The doctor's verdict: "He'll never fly again."

Hen at the fighting front have been

this reservoir of pouce

"Oh, yes I will," Frank told me. "How do you know?"

"I asked the Lord to give me strength to rejoin my squadron." A few weeks later, after an incredibly short recovery. Frank was on his way back to Port Moreaby and more dogtights with the Japa.

Protective Mantle Around Globe

I know of men lost and starving in the deserts of Australia, who were found and brought to safety after asking God for help. Of men in bombers shot to pleces by enemy gunfire who, quite literally, "prayed their way back to base. I know, too, that many times appeals uttered by mothers, wives and sweethearts in the United States stretched a protective manile half around the globe to shield us in the South Pacific.

One high-ranking general told me that he owes his life, in part, to the petitions volced by his closest fread and former business partner. I myself am living on borrowed time because my parents prayed for me in a situation of great danger.

As a parson's son, brought up in a devoit Southwest community, I have always believed in the power of prayer. I cannot recall a time when it was not an integral part of my

August, 1943.

Baptist clergymen don't have a lot of money for their children's schooling. If I wanted a college education it was up to me to earn it. Although I had no definite plans for meeting my tuttion and expenses, I went ahead and enrolled in Hardin-Simmons University. I was confident that, when the need arose and I asked the Lord, He would provide. Time and again it happened just that way.

My decision to give up a promising civilian pastorate and join the army —this was before Pearl Harbor—was reached the same way. After weeks of wreating with the problem I turned to prayer. My answer came in the form of a letter from the War Department, offering me a commission in the Corps of Chaplains.

People everywhere are beginning to pray again—really pray, that is. Millions of Americans who in the past relied on themselves are now reaching out for help.

Soldiers First to Pray

Men at the fighting front have been among the first to draw upon this reservoir of power. It has been said that there are no athelats in forbholes. It is also a fact that there are few agnostics in the cockpits of riddled bombers, few unbelievers on tossing life-rafts, few skeptics among the men rescued from the jungles of New Guinca.

Some of the most effective devotional services I ever held were those abourd the little steamer that evacuated our outfit from Java. We were in perilous, Jap-intested waters most of the way, and yot I believe we all felt a protecting presence. We had just cleared the harbor at Djilatjan when the ship was attacked by an enemy plane. For half an hour we stood him off with nothing bigger than maching guns. We think we hit him, too, for he left trailing smoke from one engine, and may have had trouble getting book to his base.

At the next prayer meeting I noticed several soldiers who had never shown up for services before. They attended daily throughout the remainder of the voyage, and many of them continued to come to chapel after we landed in Australia. One young corporal remarked, "I guess it took this war to bring us to our senses and make us realize our need of God."

One night a group of us were taking a 75-truck convoy of parts and ammunition down an unknown road. We were running under blackout condi-

New French Chapel Dedicated

Dedication of a new mission chapel on the French field recently opens up the possibility of reaching thousands of people in the immediate community and vicinity, according to Home Board Missionary Lawrence Thibodeaux. The missionary hopes that the chapel and congregation, shown above at the services of dedication, may prove a beach-head through which a great ingathering of souls in the Atchafalya Basin may result.

The building was made possible very largely by the First Baptist Church of Jackson, Mississippi, Dr. W. H. Hewitt, pastor and member of the Home Mission Board. The chapel has been named for Dr. Hewitt.

tions. Enemy patrols were near. I couldn't see any of my companions But round about me in the darkness I could hear a throaty muttering. The men were praying. Some of the best prayers I know have come from the lips of soldiers previously unreligious, who suddenly in the midst of battle have made their peace with God. One veteran member of a bomber crew confided to me, after a particularly hot engagement with Jap Zeros, "Chaplain, we sure prayed all the way home. And God heard us!"

In order for your prayers to work.
you've got to make a concentrated mental effort. It's not enough to long for something in a formless sort of way. You can't get by with mere yearning. Praying is hard work. It requires discipline.

Then again, if you want your appeal to bear fruit, you must think yourself into the situation of the answered prayer, and live and act on that conviction. When you pray, you can't afford to hedge; you've got to stake everything on God's power and willingness to help.

For anyone who uses it intelligent.

For anyone who uses it intelligently, prayer really provides a sixth sense. And one of the most notable manifestations of that sixth sense is the inward glow which tells us when our prayers are being answered. I have experienced that sensation many times, and never yet has it misled me.

Once, though, I began to wonder.
The squadron had been nearly knocked to pieces. Our few remaining bombers were ordered out on a desperate mission against the advancing Japs. Before they left we held a song service and offered a special prayer for the crews. As the last of the giant B-178 lifted from the runway and roared off into the dark, I turned to the operations officer who stood beside us and said. "Something tells me that tonight everything is going to be all right!"

"I have that same feeling," he replied.

But dawn brought no sign of the bombers. As day were on the radio in our communication shack tood silent. We strained our ears and scanned the horizon for planes that never appeared. Had our hopes played us false?

Late that evening the telephone rang. It was the flying field near Batavia. All our planes were there. They had been wrestling with the Dutch-Javanese telephone system since morning, trying to tell us they were safe.

safe.

The more you practice prayer, the less difficult you will find it to reach out for help in moments of extremity. Daily prayer provides the strength for daily lasks.

It builds reserves of power for use in emergencies. It can banish fear, it will make your life fuller and richer than you would have believed possible.

When you pray with confidence, your prayers will be answered.

Dr. McCall preaching over the radio from the Havana pulpit.

E were about to begin one of the evening sessions of our Convention in Matanzas when a messenger touched my shoulder and said: "There is a gentleman here who wishes to see you"

As he approached I saw that he was a middle-aged man, well dressed and "I wished to meet you and tell you services from Havana," he said "I was fumbling with my radio one Sunday last year and accidentally tuned on the service. I have not missed one since."

but he was in the Baptist church

This is only one of hundreds of ies that have come from all parts of Cubs and some nearby Car-

In one case it was a lady living on ceived her first Gospel message and decided she wished to know more about it. She sent for a missionary to have services in her home for her-

In another case it was a lady who thought she was a Catholic and had been taught that all non-Catholics

After hearing a few radio services she said: "Those Protestants must not be so bad after all."

finally visited the Baptist church in her home town of Beincal

Radio Preaching In Havana By M. N. McCALL

and is now an active member. The last time I saw her she had just been elected president of the missionary society.

Some months ago a man and his wife were present at the morning service in Havana. At the close of the a plantation in Camagney province We always listen in at home, and since we are spending Sunday in Havana, did not wish to miss the service. I was at one time a member of the Presbyterian church in Sancti Spiritus, but I had wandered away."

Villagers Meet by Groups

Do many hear the service? We have no way of knowing definitely, but we believe there are many thousands. friends have written that they do not have to stay at home to hear, for as they walk down the street the service is heard on every hand.

One Bantlet said. "I do not have to turn on my radio, for my neighbor has his so loud that I hear through

We know of many groups that meet regularly on Sunday mornings at neighbors' homes

One man said he was in a country store where the service was turned on. As a customer approached the counter, the merchant held up his hand and said: "Wait till they finish that prayer and I will wait on you." The merchant is not a declared Chris

From outside of Cuba bave come unsolicited testimonials also. Just a few days ago a man wrote from Manati, Porto Rico, to say that he and his wife are a part of our weekly audience.

A former member of our church in Havana wrote from Port au Prince, Hayti: "Imagine our toy Leet Sun day my wife was trying to get a service from the United States. I heard what sounded like a familiar voice announce that Brother Francisco Rodriguez would sing a solo. It was your service from Havana. As there is no Gospel work here in Spanish, we have invited our acquaintances, and a group gathers every Sunday. It will (ii) a great need, for many of our friends do not understand the language of the country, which is most drifted into this work. One day a young Baptist offered to install a peaker set in the church. We told him we were not so much interested in that, but we would be glad for him broadcasting our morning service.

We have completed four years of radio preaching from the Havana

After exploring the situation he reget a telephone connection and broad cast by remote control over one of the local stations.

The response was so encouraging that a year later when our station went into the Blue Chain, we got then greatly increased our range, because goes beyond to other Caribbean areas

So far as we know this is the only service broadcast from a church building in Cuba. Before that we had had occasional services from studios, but it seemed hard to keep them going. cast one of the existing services.

Educators Are Impressed

It is not claiming too much to say that this work has made a place fo itself in the life of many and that we

Five months ago the dean of the sity of Havana told Dr. Martin Vivanco, principal of Colegio Bautista that he had listened in two or three that his wife was so Catholic she

"Get some of your students to take them by shorthand and give them to you," replied Dr. Vivanco.

"A good idea," said the dean, "but l will not get a student, but a young lady 1 know." The other day the young lady said to Dr. Vivanco: "You know I am be that I look forward to the coming of

Dr. Vivanco is also on the faculty of education in the University and it falls to his lot to examine the theses of the graduates in pedagogy

Some time ago a young lady who is not a Christian, at least not openly. is not a Christian, at least not opening presented a thesis on "The cultural benefits of religious propaganda," in which she made reference to services which she was not acquainted, but she

August, 1943.

Ted Pavloff

This Marine's second happiest moment;
DAD WAS SAVED! First: his own conversion. Third: when he preached his first sermon.

was evident to Rev. G. O. Foulon, missionary to the foreigners in Illinois, from the beginning of their usintance, that Ted Pavloff, son of a Hungarian Catholic, was a born leader. There seemed to be in his heart a desire to reach out and influence the lives of others.

Aware of Ted's natural gift for leadership and his interest in spiritual matters, Brother Foulan lost no opportunity for encouraging him in every Ted began attending services at the ('leburne Sunday School; also preaching services and the Vacation Bibl School. Later, he was sent to the state R. A camp by the interested W. M. U. of Zeigler.

He took part in practically all the programs, learned to quote Scripture. and yet while manifesting interest in the church and its various activities he was hard to reach due to his father's objection to his children's join ing a Baptist church. His father had buried his first wife, Ted's mother. in the Catholic faith.

A Hard Decision Ted now had to wrestle with the problem of obedience to his father while his conscience bade him ally himself with the Baptist church. Finally Ted's father told the missionary that his children were free to choose

Then, when Ted was nearing the age of fifteen, he finally gave up. It was at a tent meeting where the new He did not want anyone to know it if e should actually become a Christian.

"I Will Have To Be A Missionary"

By CORA-PAXTON STEWART

but Brother Foulon secured his promise that he would pray earnestly on the way home that God's will be done the missionary assuring him that Ted should be the first one to announce

The next morning Ted arrived early

"Say, Mr. Foulon, I did not know one felt so good when he is saved!"

"Sure!" the missionary replied joyfully. "Are you saved, Ted?"

"When? Where?"

"Last night on the way home when I reached the bridge about half-way

The next evening, Ted remarked to his friend that it must be fine to stand up and speak to the people as he did. "I feel that I would like to do that," he confided. "You may some day, Ted." Brother

Step-by-Step Christian Growth

Ted was baptized. Soon he led in public prayer, read the Scriptures at the services, and preached several times. He was later taken to a W.M.U. State Meeting at West Frankfort. He was enthusiastic about it all, and was very much pleased when the W. M. U. secretary had Brother Foulon intro duce him to the audience and whis-

"I will have to be a missionary and preach to the foreigners," he whispered to Brother Foulon. He speaks Hungarian well Brother Foulon reports that after hearing Ted Pavloff preach several times, he marveled at his zeal. He later enlisted in the Marines. had now reached the age of eighteen and a half years ) The following are excerpts from Ted's letter to Brother

July 23. 42.

Since now that I am a liscensed minister, I am more determined than ever. The boys have noted my able reading, etc. They have given me a title that I am proud of, "The most decent boy around."

I thank God that I have created a small impression. Anyway, pray with me for these fellow-soldiers and friends. Maybe God has sent me here.

A real joy to hear from you. To preach is the third happiest moment of my life. The first was my conversion; the second would be to see Dad and Mom (step-mother) saved. All the chances, don't forget to talk to Dad and Mom, for I really think they are softening up.

Fortunately I have the book of Proverbs. Two boys borrowed it. I explained as best I could passages they could not understand. A boy said the other night, "Pavloff, pray for me."

Glad, as usual, to hear from you. The chapiain sent for me. Advised me to finish my enlistment, and then study for the ministry at the expense of the Government - become a com missioned chaplain in the Marines. I don't believe I'll do this. Pray for Dad and Mom.

Then an undated note from Ted

I baven't but several minutes, but I just had to write to you about the most wonderful news I think I've ever beard. DAD WAS SAVED! I don't suppose there is a hapric fellow on the whole Naval Air Station. I just received the news about an hour ago in an air mail letter from my sister. Maybe you already know all this, but I'm telling you just the same.

Now for my Mother. Don't forget to pray for her, and of course, Dad, too. Yours in Him.

Here is a life, at the very beginning of its dedication to Christ, already reaching out to reclaim the lost; a consecrated life, realizing the power of the Gospel to transfigure lives of all who accept the way of

I Believe In Missions

By JOSHUA GRIJALVA

repay Southern Baptlate. I can but give my most, which is the least-my life-to the missionary cause.

Thus I reasoned four years ago when I felt the certain call to preach. Two years ago mission supporters somewhere, somehow made it possible for me to enter Howard Payne College. Brownwood, Texas, where I continue my studies for the ministry.

Zarzamore Church, in San Antonio itself a product of missionary enterprises and of which I am pastor, more than confirms the hopes of those who helped provide for it, for it is ver

Saintly Women's Prayers Heard

Known in its beginning as "the Church of the Widows," Zarzamora has become a decided influence in a Catholic community of thousands Prayers of these saintly women have gained for our church God's promises and blessings.

Shall I give you in abstract form figures and facts of our church? For the year of 1942, our total membership of forty-eight members gave a intal of $801.30, making an average of $15.77 per member for the year.

The spirit of missions has inspired me to this work. For our church to cease giving to missions would be to commit self-murder would be to rebel against God's plan the lost. To cease giving would be t binder the missionary spirit of those who gave with the hope that I might Christian I have but one conclusion must give and lead my church in giving to missions that the will of God may be done on earth as it is in heaven.

FOR Recreation AND Re-Creation BOOKS ARE BEST

THE HEAVENLY GUEST

By H. E. Dana

THE MARCH OF GOD IN THE AGE-LONG STRUGGLE By John J. Wicker

Compiled by J. M. Price

Baptist Book Store SERVING YOUR STATE

FLAMING FAGOTS

By Rosalee Mills Appleby Fresh, informal, friendly essays in the nimitable Appleby mancer. A Broadman Book of Marit.........$1.78

BAPTIST LEADERS IN RE-LIGIOUS EDUCATION

ORDER FROM THE

Seeking the Solution for SUFFERING ISRAEL

By JACOB GARTENHAUS

OT since the crusades has Israel passed through such a tempestuous period of suffering. Whereas in the past their persecution was more or less localized, today it has spread to every corner of the earth. Jews have fled from one pursuing enemy only to fall into the clutches of a more ruthless one. Millions of them have been left homeless and starving; jamilies have been torn apart; disease has been spreading rapidly among them and death has taken its toll.

"The Nazis are writing in blood one of the uglicat pages in history," says Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin. "No tyranny and no persecution an compare with the ruthless pillage, the carnal conquests, and the mass murdering of the Nasi regime. More than two million of your race (Jews) have been added to the funeral pyre. Another 500,000 have been doomed to death by Hitler's blueprint for exter-

According to Prime Minister Winston Churchill, "The systematic cruelties to which the Jewish people-men, women and children-have been exposed under the Nazi regime are among the most terrible events of history."

Waiting for Freedom

And the end is not yet in sight. With the prophet of old, Israel today cries out in agony, "O thou sword of the Lord, how long will it be ere thou be quiet?"

"is there no baim in Gilead?" Is there no end to this horrible suffer-

"Thy bruise is incurable," cries ou the prophet Jeremiah, "and thy wound is grievous. There is none to plead thy cause that thou mayest be bound un; thou heat no healing medicines all thy lovers have forgotten thee" (Jeremiah 30:13-14).

Ben Hecht, writing in The American Magazine, paints a most pathetic scene on the theme, "Remember Us." He pictures the peace table after the war with representatives of all down-trodden nations pleading their cause. From Poland, from Holland, from Norway, from Greece, all will be there, says speak for the Jews who more than any other people have borne the brunt of Hitler's heel? After this horrible war has brought devastation in which our loved ones have been cruelly tortured and murdered, who will plead our cause? cries the Jew in agony." "When this world struggle ends."

declares Mr. Churchill, "with the en-

But he sake "Who will appear to thronement of human rights, racial persecution will be ended."

Secretary of State Cordell Hull has stated: "The Jews have long sought a refuge. I believe that we must have an even wider objective; we must have a world in which Jews, like every other race, are free to abide in peace and

"Of all the inhuman and tyrannical acts of Hitler and his Nazi lieutenants, their systematic persecution of the Jewish people is the most debased.

"The fate of these unhappy people must ever be before us in the efforts we are making today for the final vic-tory; at the moment of triumph under the terms of the Atlantic Charter the United Nations will be prepared not only to redeem their hopes of a better world based upon freedom, equality, and justice, but also to create a world in which such tragedy will not again

Oft-repeated Promises

But will it? The Jew has listened to such promises from well meaning people in the past. Personally, the writer is inclined to agree with Count Coudenbove-Kalergi, Austrian aristocrat, founder and president of the Pan-European Union, who in discussing the Jews in post-war Europe, said

"For centuries anti-Semitism was rooted in the religious rivalry between those who proclaimed that Jesus was the Messiah and those who fought this belief. This religious struggle will last as long as both religions ex ist. It will be soft-pedaled whenever and wherever the fanaticism of both camps wanes; it will flare up again whenever and wherever religious fanaticism holds sway over the masses. As human beings, Christians and Jews may very well grant each other con plete equality. As adherents of Chrislingity and Judaism they cannot."

"How explain all this persecution?" many sincere Christians ask. Israel's enemies will reply that it is an act of hostility on the part of God against the Jews who have disobeyed Him.

Such an answer is not scriptural.

The prophet Jeremiah says: "Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the Lord; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and he quiet, and none shall make him afraid.... Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee. Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured; and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that pray upon thee will I give for a prey. For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 30:10, 15-17).

Christ Offers Only Solution

Meanwhile, statesmen of the world are still vexed with the ever recurring question, "What shall we do with the Jews?" Certainly, he cannot be ignored. Many have been the answers, but all have failed.

Count Coudenhove-Kalergi states his solution of the Jewish problem: "The solution of the European Jewish probiem is two-fold; complete assimilation of those who can be assimilated and who desire to be assimilated; a Jewish national home for those who cannot be or do not wish to be assimilated completely."

Many of the leaders of world Jewry say that the return to Palestine will solve the problem. Israel must be recognized as a people—with her own country. It is very doubted whether that will bring an end to the age-old

There is but one solution, and that is Christ. Jewry must realize that in Jesus, the Jewish Messiah, lies her only hope. In Him they will have a spiritual rebirth and will rise up as a mighty army under the Messiah's banner to conquer the hearts of mankind.

Then, and only then, we shall see an end to Israel's long night of suffering and the beginning of a new day. ls to that end that we should work and pray.

product of Home Missions, he is now the missionary pastor of a missionary church.

AM a product of the Baptist missignary spirit. Some missionaryspirited Christian provided the evan gellat who won my parents to Christ. reared in a Christian bome.

assecrated Christians with the vision of missions built a beautiful church for Mexicans that became "my heaven on earth."

Missionary Baptists throughout the Southland provided the maintenance of the pastor who pointed out the

For having provided the means of A Mexican W. M. U.

Thirty-Year Career Ended As Death Claims Mrs. Ruiz

DEATH has ended the missionary service of Mrs. Donato Ruiz of San Angelo, Texas, for over thirty years a missionary with her husband to the ly, her strong spirit yielded to the ravages of disease on Friday night, June 18. Burial was in San Angelo where she had worked with Brother Rulz since

Mrs. Ruiz

A Christian since the age of ten and a missionary from before her marriage, Mrs. Ruiz combined in her personality superior training and inherent native talents which made her a leader among Mexican women for a

Trained in Mexico

Agustina Flores de Ruiz was born n Matchula, state of San Luis Potosi Mexico, September 21, 1887. She was educated in the grammar school in Parras, state of Coabulla, the Presbyterian College of Saltillo (A.B.), and Government Normal School of Saltillo with teacher's diploma, with courses also in stenography and typewriting.

She taught for several years in the public schools of Parras, and two years in Madero Institute, the Southern Baptist school for girls in Saltillo.

She was converted at ten years of age, being baptized at Parras by Dr. A. C. Watkins, missionary of the Foreign Mission Board, Southern Baptist Convention, and became active in the work of the Parras church and later of the Saltillo church, having charge or a time of one of its mission sta-

While a teacher in Madero Institute she met and was married to Rev. Donato Ruiz, August 30, 1909, and went as a bride to the ploneer work

Brother and Mrs. Ruis were appointed by the Home Mission Board Christi. They were then stationed at which field they were transferred to San Angelo in 1924.

Prior to that time they were in Los Angeles two years and three years in the pastorate at San Luis Potosi, Mexico.

Among the surviving children is a daughter. Miss Gloria Rulz, a graduate of Mary Hardin-Baylor College and of Woman's Missionary Union Training School and since 1936 a teacher in Anglo-Mexican Institute. Home Board mission school in El

Home Mission Book Shelf

We Who Are America by Kenneth D. Miller. Friendship Press, 181 pages. Cloth, $1, Paper, 60c.

Through his association with the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions and through years of study of the problems and backgrounds of Americans of European and Asiatic descent. Dr. Miller has gleaned a wealth of study material for one who is interested in knowing "Our America"—who we are, how we came to be American and when, and what Chris tians can do and are doing to solidify the nation. The statistics and historical facts make the book one not to be read lightly but studied carefully and prayerfully.

Everything Counts by Margaret F Cobb. Friendship Press. 127 pages

A book for the use of the leader in conducting a study group for inter mediate boys and girls such as Vaca tion Bible School or a mission study class. Parts of the book can be adapt ed for use in Sunday School worshin compiled by the author through years of service in the field of religious and missionary education, particularly with the intermediate age group.

The Pigigil Twins by Anna M. Halladay. Friendship Press. 126 pages. Children of Sunbeam ages will delight in this attractively written story of the twin daughters of a ministe and their many friends of varying racial and national backgrounds in America. The events of the school years with Janey and Judy, the Pigtall Twins, and their classmates will guide boys and girls to think of all who live in the United States as Americans who should have equal op portunities for happiness

Tommy Two-Wheels by Robert N. McLean. Friendship Press. 127 pages.

Tommy is an English lad in America for the duration of the war who makes friends with and comes to understand some of the people of different racial backgrounds who live in America. The story of his adventures will prove interesting as well as instructive to American boys and girls who also need to know that gious Revivals by Frank G. Beardsley American Tract Society. 181 pages. $1.50

Historical review of the great spiritual revivals in the progress of Christianity. The story of the forward movement for Christ should inspire readers to greater effort in the pres-

Your BEST Advertisement of mestings, services, etc. (or Churche. Chasee, Scottle or Personal use The Hitle Monthly with a let of power. Four pages of account of the control of the contro

THE DOGRATEP EVANGEL
Dr. Willard M. Aldrich, Editor
P. O. Box I-H Vancouver,

MAKE MORE MONEY THIS GERLINEMAS

With our "mike Text Special"

50 heauthful Christens [older: imprinted with name and sheise at Bible verse. Soll for our text Libert assembles, Also our cesspice line, Greeting Garde, "Shinahira" Pingues Chiendary, Bible Gannes, Hoveline, acc., pay rose returnable samples, and free Display Packet no "Bible Verse Special". (Cur agnot's Bright book and Bible estatog included free for rytext and believe the control of the control

181 Windows Ed., Dogs. EM. Dayton. Ohe

Christmas Cards

We need 500 Christian Workers to sell our splandid religious line of Christmas and every-day greatings, calendars, stationery, safred music, plaques, motices, Bibles, and books. Bend for our large catalog and commission rates.

THE BOOME PUBLISHING COMPANY
P. O. Box 2001
Des Moines, Inwa DINTE CHURCH SUFFLIER

(Only a parties of roll)
Write for Full Particulars
Wm. H. Diets 10 S. Wahneh Dept. 63 Chicago

August, 1943. Why I Know The Lord Called Me To Preach BIBLES CRUTTER LAW Etc. MOTOES Christians successful to the Maxicans THE calling to the ministry is the Thighest responsibility that any mortal ever received. God salls men for this important task. He called me; I followed Him. From my childhood, I attended Sunday School in my home town in Mexico. My grandfather was a Christian. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of the town. When he died, on his tombstone this Scripture was engraved; "The Lord Why I Know The Lord Called BIBLES CRUTTER LAW Etc. MOTOES Christians successful to convenience of the Maxico Motor of the School of the Convenience of the School of the Convenience of the School of the Maxico Motor of the School of the Scho

When he died, on his tombstone this Scripture was engraved; "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." I did not understand those words then.

I left Mexico and came to the United States In this country I became a member of the Woodmen of the World, and, an active one.

One day one of our members died and it was the duty of the members to be present at the funeral. I was appointed to address the people in A large crowd gathered there. I stood in their midst and, as the casket lay before me, addressed the crowd. Among other things, I quoted the Scripture passage that was written on the tombatone of my grandfather years before: "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; blessed he the name of the Lord." I do not know how I said it, but the Spirit of the Lord must have had influence at the particular moment.

Convicted by His Own Preaching After the funeral, an old man asked me if I was a Christian. I did not know what to say, at last I told him

He then said, "Where did you learn than verse which you just quoted?" I told him the story of my dead grandiather and Scripture on the tombatone. He listened with interest and invited me to church, which hap pened to be Bantist.

went to church a few days after. and thanks to the Lord I was gloriously saved! I now became interested in telling my new experience to others From then on, I had a new vission, a new theme for the people, a new disposition towards my fellow

After a while a new opportunity was given to me. I entered the Mexican Baptist Institute at Bastrop Texas, in preparation to preach the

THE LIGHTHOUSE PRESS

A NEW MOSES ARISES!

AUGUST

"PROPHECY MONTHLY"

READ ALSO answer to strike in the liberal Christian Content of the liberal Christian Content of the strike in the liberal Christian Chri

AMERICAN PROPHETIC LEAGUE, INC.

Publishers of "SEEK", 322 W. Washington Street, Chicago

David Espuryon

Gospel of Christ. Since then, I am the happlest man in this world, knowing that God in His mercy has chosen me to preach the good news of salvain spite of circumstances, the oppotunity of entering Howard Payne College to further my meager education to better serve the King of Kings.

came to me. For this, I praise the Lord, knowing definitely that He has

Scofield Bibles
Matters, Greeling Cards, Tracts and Other Active Items
Seen Quickly—with profit—You can seen extra called me to preach.

Finally, to my astonishment and

Young Indians Dedicate Lives To Service Among Tribesmen

By HELEN LLOYD Missionary to the Indians

RTY-TWO were enrolled and forty-two received certificates in our Vacation Bible School at Cedar River Baptist Church on the Indian field in Oklahoma. We feel that this is a record.

Indeed the school accomplished a number of things which seemed to be

The Cedar River Church really took camped in the church cabins during arrangement, we were able to have classes of an hour and a half in the

The afternoon period gave us a eplendid opportunity to teach much-A. W. Hancock took charge of this and was able to give a most vivid prestect. "Music for Worship."

The morning classes were conducted in the usual manner, with an added period in the afternoon for mission

Three Chilocco students who are helpers for several weeks proved their worth in this first school. One assisted me with the Intermediate class; nother, daughter of the pastor, taught the Primary class and trained her own assistants; and the third directed the boys' handwork and belped with the recreational activities and general work of the school.

Thursday evening which included the beautiful candlelight service featuring missions, a visiting Home Board Indian missionary, Rev. Abei Brown, led in a "Call to Service" meeting. We were thrilled and lifted to see one of the three students dedicate her life to definite religious work among her people, and to see the young lady who assisted with the primaries dedicate her life to the musical ministry among the Indian churches

Adults in Bible School

The adult class taught by Mrs. Habcock, was the banner class, with an enrollment of twenty-one. Four of the class were preachers.

We know that adults do not ordinarily participate in Vacation Bible Schools, but many of the Indians have not had the educational advantages nor religious training which most white church members enjoy.

For the subject used in both the adult and Intermediate classes, we chose the ever-challenging one "Growing in Christian Living."

Said one of the visiting ministers. an old man who has given many years to the service of the Lord: "This is the first time I have ever seen a Vacation Bible School conducted. am going back to my people and tell them how much it has meant to me And we must have one in our church." Later in the summer a school was onducted in his church

"I have been sitting on the bank in Three of these Indian children enrolled in Vacation Bible School did not understand English. Interpreter for the missionaries was the tall lad in the center

Even two-year-olds came regularly to to play, especially the bean ball game the shade, fishing in shallow water not caring whether the fish bits or not." said the teacher of the young sionaries to teach us, wake us up, and we have learned something this week that's going to make us better fisher-

"I have had the scales taken off my eyes as Paul bad," sald another. "I believe I know now what God's love means.

Another said. "I never knew there was so much to learn about the Bibl and Christian living. I've learned much this week; and you are going to see how much I've learned by the way I'm going to put it into practice."

That night this young woman dedleated her life to faithful work in her

Learns How to Feed Sheep

The most glorious testimony of all came from the pastor of the church With tears streaming down his face. he said: "I have not been a preacher very long Brother Hancock told me that he would come over and help me learn how to feed my sheep. He held a meeting for me and I learned a lot

"But during this Vacation Bible School I have realized that I have not even been giving my sheep the right food. Some of it has been bitter. I have been dabbling in shallow water. I have not lived before my people at a pastor should. But, now with God's help, I am going to launch into the deep."

If one short Bible School can meal so much to one small Indian church, how much will an aggressive, extensive program of Bible instruction and religious training mean to our Oklahome Indian Baptists as a whole?

Mexican Youth—A POTENTIAL POWER

By HIRAM DUFFER

Sunday School and Training Union Fig'd Worker of the Mexican Bantist Convention

EXICAN young people in Texas? Why, there are none! That is, there are only a very few. The thousands of young Texans whose parents and grandparents immigrated from Mexico are not Mexicans, but natives of the United States, as much so as those whose ancestors came from England, Holland, Germany, or any other European country.

These Texas young people of Spanish and indian ancestry, forming approximately from a sixth to a fifth of the total youth population of the state, are horn citizens of the United States They dress, talk, and act like the rest of our present-day Texas youth. Few of them read Spanish, the majority are quite at home in the English language - including even our slang and "cuss words"!

Their patriotism is undeniable. Their brothers and friends are on the North African and Pacific fronts alongside our brothers and friends. Almost every home boasts from one to four or five stars for men in servand the Stars and Stripes wave proudly from pictures, on porches, and

The children's favorite songs are God Bless America," "There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere." and the songs of the different branches of the armed forces. They are proud o he Americans.

A Doctrine Which Needs Practicing

Those who remain at home are to be found at school, at work, and at play alongside the Anglo-Americans. Would it not be reasonable to invite them also to the English-speaking Segregation is the way not to win people to Christ. To successfully preach equality and brotherly love, one must practice equality and brotherly love. The eyes of the world are fixed upon America, and the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention is today a laboratory in which democrati Christianity is being tested. If we cannot practice what we preach-

But we can practice what we preach. Let's invite these young people to our Sunday School and Training Union services, (Whether Spanish-Americans or other "hyphenated-Americans," they will appreciate it.)

o know the Spanish-American is to love him. He is courteous, kind, respectful, and highly appreciative. Artietic by nature, he quickly learns chalk talk, singing and instrumentplaying, and is a valuable addition to any church.

Young Beople's Chair of a Mexican Church

The Home Missian Board has given increasing support to Spanish-speaking missions and churches during the past years. There are still thousands of adults who speak little or mô English. They need the Gospel and need it soon. Our Home Mission cfforts should be increased, but should be supplemented by an enrolling of Spanish American young people in the various organizations of the Englishspeaking churches.

Forty Impressive Potentialities

The past session there were forly Spanish American students enrolled in the English speaking Baptist schools of Texas, without counting others who attended the Mexican Theological Seminary at El Paso and various state colleges and universities.

Of those forty, five were in Southwestern Seminary, three in Haylor University, two in Hardin-Simmons Uni versity, three in Mary Hardin Baylor College, and twenty-seven in Howard Payne College.

The majority of them are preparing for religious work. Fourteen are ministerial students, four are ministers' wives, and thirteen are girls studying for kindergarten and missionary work. Thirteen of the ministerial students are active in pastorates.

These students have distinguished themselves in various ways. One was valedictorian of his high school class; one was a vice-president of the B. S. U.; one carned his sweater in the college press club; one has won statewide fame for his voice. Others are high-ranking athletes, and all are active in campus clubs and society. These are the hope of our Spanishspeaking mission work for the future. Today's youth is tomorrow's leadership. Let's make it Christian!

The Spanish-Americans in Texas are a potentially powerful bloc of our citizenship. Unconverted and super-stitions, they are an undesirable element. Won to Christ and educated. they are the best citizens and neighhors one could want. Let us take advantage of this challenging oppor-

OUTH telescopes the future. If we think of the course of history as a flowing river, we should not forget that around every bend in that river there is a new generation and with each generation there is the possibility of civilization's regeneration.

Nothing now existing will continue to exist unless the rising generation picks it up and carries it on. The course of history can be drastically changed by each new group of young people as they grow to maturity. The continuance of any ideal and every institution depends upon the support which they receive from the rising generation. Here lies the hope of the future for good and also the danger for evil.

I think I know something of the enthusiasm of youth. I have watched it in operation on the college campus. The hope of our young people is undless and their energy unlimited. Knowing these things, every time I come in contact with virile, vigorous, red-blooded young Americans I am swent by the current of a great desire; a desire that we today might cash in on the enthusiasm of our young people for world building and by transmuting the overflowing energy, hope and aspiration of the rising eration into kinetic energy and dynamic force might direct it in the evangelization of our homeland and the conquest of the world for Christ

Wise indeed is that generation of men who see the potential power of youth and direct that power in right channels. Right here we face our supreme task as well as our superlative

I am sure that everyone will agree with me that this is no time for timid or provincial Christianity, but a time for the disciples of Christ to be courageous and militant. If we look at the present colossal cataclysm resistically, bonestly and courageously, we must admit that our very existence is at stake. A bewildered humanity with fear in its heart and darkness in its mind cries out, Is there no hope? We should face this urgent question and answer it with a frankness and simplicity which will leave no doubt in any mind. In its fundamental essence the problem is not new, nor is the answer movel or designed to meet the specific need of one time as set over against the need of another time.

Youth Needs Spiritual Preparation

What we need is not new information, but rather the practice of what we have long since known. The Gospel speaks its timely message to our eternal hunger. Christ—and Christ sione—is the answer. What we need to meet the problems of the future, no matter how complicated and menacing they may be, is spiritual preparation.

Of all people today, the youth of our land will be more affected by the outcome of this conflict than any other group. They will have to live in the world order established. They will have to pay the war debt incurred. They will inherit the results of the war. They will be burdened by the task of heilding a new world out of the rubbish left from the devastation of this senseless conflict.

There is no use to dream now of what might have happened it the followers of Christ had been more misionary-minded in the past twenty-five years, or if they had sacrificed and given to send missionaries to evangelise the world in anything like the proportion that they are now being forced to sacrifice and give to defend our land against a foreign foe. We are now concerned with the harsh realities of the present as they affect the tuture and the magnitude of the task of world-rehabilitation which lies ahead of us after the war is over.

Few of us have yet begun to realize how wast and far-reaching are the changes socially politically, reographically, economically and religiously which the present world conflict makes inevitable. In fact, the world that we have known and lived in is being destroyed. It will never exist again.

Who Will Build New World?

Out of the rubbish and devastation and destruction of this present world conflict the rising generation will have to build a new world. The quetion of all questions is, What kind of a\world will that be? The answer is, It will be the kind of world that the people are who build it.

What we need now is the spiritual preparation to meet whatever changes may come, whatever conditions may arise, whatever problems may be merged, so that out of it all there may be built a new civilization based upon the Christian philosophy of life.

Out of great crises arise great opportunities. Christians never had a better opportunity than this to demonstrate the steadying and transforming power of Christianity. I say in all candor to our young people that they never had a better chance to show what Christianity can do than they now have.

Of all times for Christianity to demonstrate its power and for Christian people to exercise their influence for good, it is when the world is in a crisis such as it is in now. When hate stalks abroad over the land and rapine and murder unglove their bloody hands, love needs to show her smilling face of peace and with fingers of tenderness to bind up the wounds that help lease made.

that hate hiss made.

I do not know how long this war will last. It may go on for years.

Our Government is evidently preparing for a long war, and on account of the tremenous tempo it will be a war of exhaustion.

After it is over the nations will be completely exhausted, and no doubt the enervated world, a world morally, apiritually, and economically exhausted and depleted will come to Americar a blood transfusion. What kind of blood will we be able to give the war-forn, distillusioned and morally maladjuscied nations?

We must prepare now for that hour of opportunity. No matter when the war ends or how, the world will need Christ. Our task as a denomination is to prepare our homeland spiritually to meet its obligation to the world with the Gospel of Christ when peace has been declared and order in the world established.

Present Superlative Need

This makes missions in the homeland a present and superlative need. Whatever elso we do, the evangelization of our land and the mobilization of the homeland forces for the world evangelization must not be overlooked or side/racked to an unimportant place.

The task of getting ready for an all-out world crusade for Christ when the war is over is of vast and vital moment. The evangelization of our own land is imperative if we would be spiritually prepared for the world's evangelization when the opportunity arrives.

As I see it, there never was a time when Home Missions was needed more than now. There never was a time when Home Missions was more important and more vitally related to the Kingdom of God than now.

We are facing new issues, new conditions, new problems. These call for adjustments in our mission program. They demand new emphasis. Woe unto us if we do not read aright the signs of the times and adjust our work to meet the conditions we face.

In order to prepare our land to become a base for the international propagation of Christianity, we must root the religion of Christ in the life of our land and cause it to bloom and fruit in the national order.

This means more than the sending out of missionaries and the establishment of mission stations. It means to shoot our social, political and economic order through and through with the spirit of Christ.

Even though all the places on the map of America were filled tomorrow with missionaries and mission stations, our task would not be complete. There are other regions than those that are territorial that must be claimed for Christ.

Every province of our thinking, every area of our lives, every region of

Chaplain Turner Killed on Aleutians

PEATH in action of Chaplain Guy Henry Turner, former paster of Central Baptist Church, Memphis, Tennessee, has been reported by the War Department.

Chaplain Turner was on duty on the Aleutians. This is the first fatality reported of a Southern Baptist chaplain, according to Dr. Alfred Carpenter, superintendent of camp work.

A graduate of Union University and of Southern Seminary, Chaplain Turner had been ten years pastor in Tennessee, including pastorates at Milan, Halls and Memphis. He was endorsed by the Home Board's committee on chaplaincy July 6, 1942, and was commissioned September 8.

"I knew Guy Turner weil," a fellow chaplain, Milton O. Beebe of the Second Army, said of him. "He was a young man of spiendid ability and unusual devotion to the ministry. He had those personal qualities which draw men to him.

"He was eager for the responsibilities of the chaplaincy. I never knew a more enthusiastic chaplain, nor a more capable one. He gave unatinlingly for the cause in which he he lieved. His last gift was his life."

Chaplain Turner

Mrs. Turner, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Cox, of Bolivar, Tennessee, is living in Memphia, her address heing 1793 Madison Avenue, Apartment 48.

our relation to others must be taken for Christ. The whole life of the nation throughout its entire bounds must be brought under the sovereignty of Christ.

Vast Fields Untouched

This means, that we are to make Christ regnant in all the affairs of life. It means to bring the Christian influences to bear on the immigrant population in our industrial centers; to help racial and under-privileged groups to realize the life of Christ; to build up vital, functioning New Testament churches throughout the land; to develop a Christian community life in country, town and city; t fence against the inroads of spiritual disintegration; to help generate spir itual enthusiasm; and to transfuse all the life forces of America with the spiritual potencies of the kingdom of God. It means to create a Christlike civilization in America.

civilization in America.

We are today preaching the Gospel to the Indians, the Mexicans, the Spanish-Americans, the Jews, the Itaiians, the French, the Cubans, the Chinese, the Russians, the under-privileged, in the crowded industrial sections and slums of the cities, in the neglected mountain areas, to the boys in the Army camps and to the mil-

But this does not begin to measure the scope of the work needed if we would bring our homeland under the sovereignty of Christ. There are vast fields yet untouched.

Throughout the South new industrial centers are sprinting up. The training camps and the industrial development in the South as a result of our armament program have opened up wide fields of need for Home Mission work.

Along the entire Gulf Coast there is a rapidly developing trucking industry. This is giving to us congested sections, for various nationalities are congregating to produce the out-of-season vegetables for the tables of the United States.

There are also rapidly developing oil fields in many of the states of the Southern Baptist Convention, and in these oil fields vice rules nussbamed; sin and sorrow abide beside the little shacks where mothers are trying to bring 'up their children without schools or churches. Each one of them needs the Gospel.

There are large sections in the mining districts of the Allegheny and (Continued on page 16)

How Many Cities Are Included In the City Mission Program?

A. TWENTY-TWO cities are now included in the Home Mission Board's expanding city mission work, under the supervision of Dr. Solomon F. Dowis. These cities are Houston. Atlanta, Washington, Birmingham, San Antonio, Louisville, Durham, Baltimore, Little Rock, New Orleans, Miami, Dallas, Tampa, El Paso, Baton Rouge, Pensacola, Oklahoma City, Greensboro, Fort Worth, Savannah, East St. Louis. In the last three cities named inauguration of the work awaits the selection of a superintendent of city missions. The above picture is of a mission in Miami begun by Central Baptist Church prior to the Board's appointment of Rev. J. E. Johnstone as city mission superintendent in Miami.

Q. Do Mexican Baptists in Texas have a separate organization of their own? S. J. W.

A. Mexican Baptists in 1910 organized the Mexican Baptist Convention of Texas. The annual convention this year was held in June at Laredo. Q. Do Mexican Baptists give special attention to the training of their young people? S. J. W.

A. The Mexican Convention has a field worker, Rev. Hiram Duffer, who gives his time to Sunday School and Training Union work in the churches

YOUTH, HOME MISSIONS AND THE FUTURE

(Continued from page 15)

Ozark mountains and in the lumber regions where there are lumber and turpentine camps in which the Gospel needs to be preached. It will not be preached unless missionaries are sent to these sections.

The two great tragedies today in our American life are the migrant worker and the share-cropper. These are the most under-privileged of the under-privileged, and they are being almost wholly neglected.

Our great cities vastly growing into prodigious metropolitan areas need the Gospel. We need to have a strong, virile, vigorous city mission program in the more than forty urban centers which now in our southland have populations of some seventy-five thousand to a million people. If we do not evangelize the cities, we will lose our land, for in the cities center the influences that control our civilization.

Nor should we overlook the country from whence in the past have come our strength. We must have a virile mission program for the revitalization of the country church. This program is in the offing and should challenge the enthusiasm of our youth who are devoted and consecrated to the cause of Christ.

These and other conditions and problems which might be mentioned are sufficient to convince anyone who has the higher interest of the king-dom of God at heart that the Home Mission enterprise is large and vastly important. We are entering new tasks as the horizon of our fields are pushed back and new frontiers come into view under the rapid changes which are taking place in our modern world.

RIDGECREST FEATURES

Home Missions Conference August 4-10

Special Addresses—F. S. Porter, B. M. Callaway, Paul Weber, W. Herschel Ford, Frank B. Graham, Mrs. E. B. Steele.

FORUMS ON HOME MISSION TASKS— Armed Services, Missionary Education, Cities, Jews, Negroes, Rural.

MISSIONARY ADDRESSES—J. B. Rounds, J. L. Moye, M. N. McCall, J. F. Plainfield, J. W. Gardner, L. C. Smith.

"Home Mission Needs in My State"—
W. Clyde Atkins. A. D. Foreman,
Jr., S. M. Morgan, Augule Henry,
W. T. Waring, H. M. Mitchell.

Missionary Adventures—A Chaplain, Clovis A. Brantley, Loyd Corder, Mrs. J. L. Moye, Pauline Cammack.

Missionary Sermons, Sunday-J. B. Lawrence.

HOME MISSION PICTURES each evening.

of the state. See page 13 for a thoughtprovoking discussion by Brother Duffer on the potentialities of Mexican worth.

Q. What was the total debt paid by the Home Missien Board? R. S. B.
A. From the time that the debts stood at the peak—September, 1928—the Board has paid a total of $2,425.531.91. The last payment of $55.000 made on May 12, 1943, finally discharged all debts of the Board.

Q. What emphasis is given to Vacation Bible Schools on Home Mission fields? Mrs. R. G. S.

A. The missionaries on all fields in the South and in Cuba make much of these schools. Some missionaries are engaged practically the entire summer in this work, and schools are held on almost every field.

Q. What was the total of this year's Annie Armstrong Offering to Home Missions? W. A. J.

A. Miss Kathleen Mallory, W. M. U. secretary, states that the total as reported by the states, was $280,714.26.

Brings you each week an unbused of Protestant activities and achievements.

READ BY MEMBERS OF MORE THAN 20 PROTESTANT DEMOMINATIONS

Soud for your FREE COPY

10-Issue Trial Sub. 250—Regular Price
1 yr. $2.00

The Brotestant Hoice Dept. S Fort Wayne, Indiana