"MINISTRY: LIFESTYLE" THEME—

Cedarmore Set For Youth Week

Cedarmore Baptist Assembly has announced that "Ministry: Lifestyle" will be the theme for youth week, July 14-18, 1975. The week long program will be one of compact training in one of four specific ministries; the aged, the deaf, children and the institutionalized. It is hoped that this ministry will become a lifestyle for those who attend.

Field trips to areas where the specific ministry might be applicable will highlight the week at the assembly and youth will have the opportunity to put their training into action.

Dedicated to personal growth and teamwork action ministry, the week will be one of Bible study, rap sessions, youth led worship and recreation.

Registration is limited to 25 per church and only those youth decidedly interested in training are encouraged to attend. More information and registration forms are available through: John Carney, Youth Consultant, Kentucky Baptist Building, Box 43433, Middletown, Kentucky 40243. •

Youth Camp Hearing Set For Frankfort

The Bureau for Health Services of Kentucky's Department for Human Resources will hold a second public hearing on a proposed "Kentucky Youth Camp Regulation" at the bureau's office in Frankfort, 275 East Main Street, at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 3, 1975.

The regulation will replace a 1962 regulation covering youth camp operations and is the result of Senate Bill 172, enacted by the 1974 general assembly, requiring all state agencies to refile their regulations by July 1, 1975.

Individuals, churches and associations that operate a facility for youth camping are advised to become familiar with the regulation. When it becomes legal, camps must secure a permit to operate and agree to periodic inspections of all facilities including buildings used for sleeping. Forty square feet of sleeping space is required per sleeper. There is no charge for the permit.

Copies of the proposed revision are available from the Bureau's office and from Cedarmore Baptist Assembly. •

Fire Destroys Baptist Lanes

Baptists in Okolona, Kentucky, saw their dream of a family entertainment center go up in smoke before dawn, March 16.

Firemen returning from another blaze spotted flames in Spare Time Lanes, the headquarters of the Louisville Baptist Bowling Association, at 5:00 a.m., but were unable to control the fire that, within minutes, had engulfed the entire building. The lanes were completely destroyed. Another business which shared the building was lost as well. Damage to both facilities is estimated to be a quarter of a million dollars. •

The Power Of Love

John 15:12

An elderly lady boarded the bus. Her face bore, in the form of a deep scowl, the marks of the hard and perhaps bitter years which had been her lot in life. On the bus was a little girl about two years old. She was restless and finally climbing down from her bus seat she went over to the lady. "I love dranmas," she said. The lady half-heartedly pushed her away, but the little girl came back and placing her hand on the elderly lady's arm she looked into her eyes and said, "I dot a dranma at home. I love dranmas." A tear trickled down the elderly lady's cheek and for the moment the scowl was gone. For at least a moment the bitterness and hardness were gone and tenderness showed forth from the face which had seemed powerless to express such feeling. She had been touched and, at least for a moment, changed by the love of the little girl.

How many of us walk through our world with scars, hurts and feelings of isolation? How many of us live out our lives in a kind of quiet desperation — afraid to take the risk of loving and being loved?

Love is the greatest gift that one human being can give to or receive from another. It can ease the pain, heal the hurts, provide the type of environment in which we can grow as persons and set us free to run the risk of failure or success. Jesus knew this and to his disciples he said, "I have loved you, I want you to love one another . . . ."

Therefore, let us be open to love so that we, like the elderly lady mentioned earlier, can have the hurts healed, the pains eased, the bitterness melted and the walls of isolation demolished. Let us open our lives to love in such a way that the lonely walk of quiet desperation, which has too long been a part of our journey, can become a striding along the path of adventure with others and with God, in the process of living a meaningful and truly happy life. ■

Kentucky Baptists Help Fight World Hunger—

FMB Answers Readers' Questions

By Bill Rogers
Director, Cooperative Ministries, Christian Life, KBC Executive Board

The response of Kentucky Baptists to World Hunger is gratifying. According to the KBC business office, we are receiving about $13,500 per month. As of March 18, the total offering is $56,279.16.

Some have asked questions about the use of funds and related issues. Following are questions addressed to the Foreign Mission Board and the response of Richard Styles to these questions.

Will food purchased with my money end up on the black market?

The food which missionaries purchase with relief funds is administered directly to the people in need. There is almost no possibility that this food would ever end up on the black market.

Our church gave $442.93 for world hunger. How many people will this feed and for how long?

This question is difficult to answer. Different parts of the world and different circumstances would have to be taken into consideration. However, recent figures from Bangladesh indicate that $36.50 will feed one person for one year. Using this figure, your gift would feed approximately 12 people for a year in Bangladesh.

Is the Foreign Mission Board geared for this kind of emphasis?

Since the Foreign Mission Board began, we have been in the business of world relief efforts, although never on this scale which we are experiencing now. Recent actions of the board have resulted in the appointment of a disaster response coordinator with a staff committee here at the Foreign Mission Board, and a request that missions appoint a coordinator on the field and the formation of a sub-committee of the board as a special committee on world hunger and relief. I think it should be obvious that the Foreign Mission Board is geared to be a channel for world relief gifts from Southern Baptist churches and individuals.

Where and how will food be purchased?

Food will be purchased in the area where it is needed by our missionaries assuring excellent stewardship of the funds.

Will our money go directly for food or will it be used some other way?

Most of the money designated for world relief is used for buying food. If you designate your money for world hunger relief, you can be assured it can be used for this purpose. There is a possibility that some of the money designated for "world hunger" could be used for purchasing containers to carry the food or something of this nature. However, this would be a small percentage of the money.

We have been told that the missionaries on the field will administer the program. Is this true?

Yes. We feel that the administration of the funds by our missionaries will assure that the money is used for the purpose for which it is intended, and that we will get the most for each dollar.

We know personally a missionary. Can we designate our gift to go to him to be administered?

Any church or individual can designate a gift to go to a particular missionary. However, if you make a gift to a missionary in a country where world hunger needs are not great, you may be depriving people in another country where the needs are greater of that world hunger assistance. You need to investigate very carefully before you tie up world hunger funds by designating it to a particular missionary.

How much time lag is there between the gifts received and the disbursement of funds?

No specific answer can be made to this question. However, the Foreign Mission Board does its best to speed gifts on the way after they have been received in order that the hungry or those needing relief may benefit as soon as possible. Although there will be some time lag, generally it is not long.

How is the program that receives the funds determined?

We depend on the missionaries on the spot to determine particular needs, then we attempt to respond to these needs.

How does the administration of food relief affect the time the missionary gives to evangelism and church development?

Relief efforts put a great deal of emotional and physical pressure on missionaries. The missionary has only so many hours in a day just as you and I do; therefore, administering world relief funds will take away time from evangelism and church development. However, ministering to the physical needs of man is certainly a valid utilization of time and effort by Southern Baptist missionaries. Often this type of ministry opens doors of evangelism which would otherwise remain closed.

Does our Foreign Mission Board cooperate with other international agencies in meeting crisis needs?

The primary cooperative efforts of the Foreign Mission Board are with the Baptist World Alliance. Frequently, BWA will send funds to the Foreign Mission Board to be administered by our missionaries. They also assist us sometimes in countries where we do not have missionaries.

These are given to answer your questions and assist in answering the questions of others. Thanks for your interest and support. ■

DALEY OBSERVATIONS

We Are Still Growing But More Slowly

Southern Baptists are still growing in numbers and in other statistics though at a slower pace than a few years ago, according to the 1974 records. We had a gain of 69 new churches and 218,000 members in 1974. This brings the total number of Southern Baptist churches to 34,734 and membership to 12,515,842.

This is nothing to boast of even though most other old line denominations in America showed a loss last year. These are not the most successful times statistically for American churches though it may be a time of greatest need for serious Christianity.

Membership and other Southern Baptist statistics for 1974 don't comfort a few critics claiming loyalty as Southern Baptists but who lament the doom of Southern Baptists because of liberalism. To believe their reports is to believe growing numbers of Southern Baptist churches are leaving the convention. Actually only 289 churches were dropped from Southern Baptist records last year while 338 churches were added. Considering the shifting population and especially to the cities from rural areas where Baptists have been strongest, it's remarkable this few out of more than 34,500 dropped out. There are at least that many in any one of the older Southern Baptist states which have dwindled so much from death and migration that merging with other small congregations or closing have to be considered.

Baptisms in 1974 were up in 18 states and the total of 410,482 was the fifth largest in Southern Baptist history. Sunday School enrollment showed a small increase but Church Training was down from the year before.

Church Music and Woman's Missionary Union continued to rise and Brotherhood about held its own.

Offerings are no certain criterion of spirituality though outreach in local communities as well as throughout the world depends upon finances. In this respect there is reason for encouragement and gratitude. In spite of inflation and recession, Baptist offerings increased last year by eleven and one-half percent and totaled more than one and one-third billion dollars.

Almost $110 million of this came through the Cooperative Program to undergird the gospel witness on local, national and world levels. For the first time in Southern Baptist history the annual per capita giving of Southern Baptists exceeded $100.

Something of the magnitude of the Southern Baptist enterprise is seen in physical property worth more than five and one-half billion dollars but churches still owe nearly one billion dollars on this property. At the prevailing interest rates, Baptists are spending more for interest on church debts than for foreign missions.

Kentucky is among those states with the smallest portion of churches in debt. We are also among those states with largest increases in gifts through the Cooperative Program. During the first six months of 1974-75 we have contributed $691,535 to world missions. This is almost 11 percent over our record last year.

We should never be content with what we are doing but we can thank God his people called Kentucky and Southern Baptists are still advancing instead of retreating.

Baptists should never relax efforts to reach more and more people for Jesus Christ and the churches. However, we must find new and better ways to help those already in Baptist churches to grow. Without this we stand to lose as many by the back door as we gain through the front door. We may still count non-active members but the Lord cannot count on them.

Some of our evangelistic methods are too superficial and manipulative. We don't program the grace of God and the Holy Spirit like we do a computer. It is ours to love, to witness and to wait. It is the Lord in his sovereign grace who redeems.

$16.5 Million Baptist Hospital East To Accept First Patients March 31

Baptist Hospital East (BHE), the fourth major hospital owned and operated by the Baptists of Kentucky through Baptist Hospitals, Inc. (BHI), will accept its first patients on Monday, March 31.

The new six story facility will eventually cost more than $16.5 million and contain almost $2 million worth of equipment. Built to house 253 patients, BHE will start with just 121 beds and will gradually add units until next September when the hospital will be operating at full capacity.

BHE is located on a 53 acre site in eastern Jefferson County. It is situated on Kresge Way between Breckinridge Lane and Browns Lane at Interstate 64.

Designed as one of the most modern hospitals in the state, the hospital includes six major and one minor operating rooms, an 11 bed intensive care unit, an eight bed coronary care unit. an emergency department, and an obstetrics unit. Over 600 persons will staff the facility.

Conveniently attached to the hospital is the four story Baptist East Doctors Building which will house offices for nearly 40 physicians. Included on the first floor of this building is an apothecary, a branch bank, and the offices of BHI.

Homer D. Coggins is president of BHI. Judge William Boswell of Cynthiana serves as chairman of BHI's board of directors.

Baptist Hospital East will be operated as part of The Louisville Baptist Hospitals (LBH), of which James V. Dorsett, Jr., is executive vice president. The other major hospital in LBH is the Kentucky Baptist Hospital (KBH), the 409 bed facility that was the original institution in the Baptist hospital system in Kentucky when it opened in 1924. With BHE opening, a major program of renovation that will introduce several innovative health care concepts during the next five years will begin at KBH. Eventually, KBH will have about 300 beds. The only major unit that will be moved from KBH to the new BHE will be the obstetric unit.

Other activities of LBH include the small Mallory-Taylor Hospital in LaGrange, Kentucky, the KBH school of nursing which this year has 230 students and is the largest hospital-based nurse-training program in Kentucky; and the H. Hart Hagan Clinic for students and faculty at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

The land for BHE was purchased in 1966. It was originally part of the J. Graham Brown estate. Ground was broken and construction started in 1972. Over $1.3 million was raised to help pay for the hospital in the Second Mile Campaign from businesses, community organizations, foundations and private individuals.

BHE is a bush-hammered concrete building with support services on the first two floors. The third through the sixth floors contain two patient towers connected by a central service tower. At the center of the complex is a large landscaped courtyard containing a lighted fountain.

The hospital contains a 40 seat chapel just off the main visitor lobby. Eventually, daily devotional programs will be video-taped and broadcast over the hospital's closed circuit television system to each patient's bedside.

Dr. Clarence E. Quaife is president of the medical staff for LBH and Norman P. Iler, Sr., is administrative board chairman.

Public tours of BHE are scheduled for Saturday, March 29, from 1 to 5 p.m. The hospital site includes over 600 free parking spaces.

BHI last year ranked tenth in terms of patient admissions among not-for-profit hospital systems in the United States. •

Church Mission Giving

The Business Office of the Kentucky Baptist Convention has prepared the report of receipts for the Cooperative Program and designated mission gifts, listing them by association and churches. Please check your church's record as listed for September-February of the 1974-75 Convention year. If there is any difference in your records and ours—please report to G. B. Morton, Business Manager, P. O. Box 43433, Middletown, Kentucky 40243.

We are indeed grateful to you and your churches for this expression of missionary concern and for your sharing through the Cooperative Program. Kentucky Baptists continue to keep their Cooperative Program giving at a high level which is not the case in all states. Thank you for caring enough to share your financial blessings with others around the world.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By H. C. Chiles

(These Lessons for April 6, 1975)

LIFE AND WORK SERIES

God's Own Doing

Ephesians 1:1-14

A remarkable experience of grace changed Saul the bigot into Paul the lowly Christian. Paul realized that he had been saved, selected and sent as an ambassador on a divine mission, to deliver a message about God's redeeming grace to sinners for the One Who had commissioned him, and for this he was truly grateful.

Salutation, 1:1-2

Paul wrote Ephesians to one class — "the saints." "Saint" is simply God's name for every believer in Christ. Each of them should be dedicated and faithful.

"In Christ Jesus" denotes a vital union with Him. Christ is the source, support, sum and substance of the Christian life. Can you say, "For me to live is Christ"?

Paul referred to the grace which sustains through all of the trials of life. Grace results in peace. God's Word never reverses this order — grace and peace. Grace is the root and peace is the fruit. Grace and peace are blessings which come only from God the Father and our Lord Jesus Christ. The Father is the fountain of all blessings, the Son is the dispenser of them, and Christians are the recipients of them.

Thanksgiving, 1:3-14

A doxology is recorded in verse three. From it we learn that the author of our blessings is God. Our blessings are spiritual because they are connected with the Holy Spirit, and heavenly because they originate in heaven. Christ is the medium or channel through which we receive blessings. He has blessed us with forgiveness, justification, sanctification and eternal life.

In verses four to fourteen we have a hymn of praise of the Trinity for the definite and distinct part which each — the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit — had in our redemption.

According to verses four to six, the Father's part in our redemption was threefold. First, it was election to holiness. The elector is God — "He hath chosen us." The time of the election is "before the foundation of the world." The purpose of the election is our sanctification — "that we should be holy and without blame before him in love." The ground of the election is "the good pleasure of his will." The object of the election is "the praise of the glory of his grace."

A second part which the Father had in our redemption was foreordination to sonship. This is an act of grace on the part of an all-wise, loving and merciful Father, Who has never made a mistake.

A third part in our redemption for which we are deeply indebted to the Father is our acceptance in the Beloved. Having been chosen and accepted in loving-kindness in Christ, we should live to the praise and glory of God's marvelous grace.

In verses seven to twelve we have an explanation of the Son's part in our redemption. To Christ the Son we are indebted for forgiveness, enrichment, enlightenment and inheritance. Christ loosed us from the guilt of sin, the curse of the law, and the judgment toward which we were traveling. As we live in His presence, we are given the wisdom from above to solve the problems of life. The mystery of God's will, which was previously unknown but is now revealed, is made known to those who desire it. Through their union with Christ believers have become God's heritage.

Verses thirteen and fourteen set forth the Holy Spirit's part in our redemption. The Holy Spirit persuaded us to believe on Christ as our Saviour and to receive the salvation which was planned by the Father and provided by the Son. The Holy Spirit bore a faithful witness to the truth regarding Christ, illuminated our understanding, convicted us of our sins, persuaded us to believe on Christ, regenerated us, and sealed us as His own. The sealer is God the Father, the possession sealed is the believer in Christ, the seal is the Holy Spirit and the One in Whom the believer is sealed in Christ.

Our safe arrival on the day of the redemption has been committed to the Holy Spirit, Who will claim us as His acquired possession. As long as we remain on earth, let us be instruments of God for the carrying out of His holy purposes, "unto the praise of his glory." ■

INTERNATIONAL SERIES

God's Glory In Creation

The life of the average Christian does not contain enough praise of God. Having been the recipients of so many blessings from God, it is certainly appropriate for us to praise the Giver for what has been received from Him.

Psalm 104:1-4

It is interesting to note that the Psalmist here speaks of the greatness and majesty of God as the fundamental reason for praising Him. This passage magnifies the majesty and surpassing grandeur of God. His greatness is incomprehensible. Praise to God for His majesty is an indispensable constituent of spiritual health. How can we better greet the dawn each day than with the wonderful expression: "Bless the Lord, O my soul"?

It is both our privilege and duty to thank and to praise God for the expressions of His goodness and grace in providing for us such blessings as wholesome food, adequate clothing, comfortable homes, congenial companions and faithful friends. What a pity that so many eat and drink, enjoy good health, boast of their possessions, revel in their liberty and glory in their opportunities, but never render any thanks or ascribe any praise to the Giver of all these wonderful blessings! Let us thank and praise God the matchless light and power of His wonderful Word, and for the unspeakable gift of His Son Who died to redeem us from our sins. To Him we owe our adoration and our allegiance. Contemplation of God's goodness, holiness, righteousness, justice, love, mercy and faithfulness will move us to honor, praise and glorify Him. Those who respond to His marvelous grace with implicit trust, joyous praise, cheerful obedience and faithful stewardship will be blessed richly for so doing. In so doing they honor and glorify God and their lives are an abiding benediction to those with whom they associate. Living in accordance with God's will and in the accomplishment of His glorious purpose is the finest and best way that one can spend the time which God has allotted to him on this earth. Above everything else be grateful for God Himself.

After enumerating a number of the wonderful works of God, the Psalmist acknowledged the multiplicity of the divine riches on the earth. This should serve as a constant reminder to us that God has not only done great and numerous works of many kinds in the past but that He is doing the same in the present and that in the future He will perform many more works of tremendous value and importance.

Gratefully the Psalmist praised God for the gracious provisions which He has made for all of His creatures. Our attention is called to the fact that the beasts of the fields, the fowls of the air, and the various and numerous creatures in the seas are all under the care of their Creator. He provides water for all of their daily needs. He causes the soil to respond to man's tillage with abundant crops for the needs of people and of the animals on the earth.

Unfortunately, some people like to assert their independence of God and to declare their own self-sufficiency, but in spite of their attempt they are all dependent on Him. They, too, are dependent on God for life and breath and food. If God did not continue to supply their necessities, regularly, they could not survive long.

In view of all that God has done for us, is doing for us and will yet do for us, let us never allow the difficulties and vicissitudes of life to defeat us. We can overcome our disappointments and losses and live victoriously, through the strength that God imparts to us. Just as certainly as God, the creator and sustainer, provides the waves of the oceans and the seas for the creatures living therein to enjoy, He will provide for the needs of His children. God cares about us and for us. Let us thank Him for His constant care. Since He has promised to take care of us, and He has never failed to keep any of His promises, let us depend on Him to do it. ■

McGovern Says U.S. "Unrealistic" About World Hunger Needs

The problem of world hunger can only begin to be solved when the United States becomes "realistic" and stops trying to be the world's "lifeboat," according to U.S. Senator George McGovern.

The South Dakota Democrat, one of several speakers on the opening day of the three day seminar on Integrity in Louisville, addressed himself to "national integrity and world hunger," a subject he has pursued since the 1950s.

From a practical point of view, he said, "what is right (about feeding a hungry world) is also realistic." America cannot "be a lifeboat in an ocean of starvation, for the lifeboat cannot run without fuel; its fittings cannot be repaired without metal; its tiller cannot turn without lubricant and we do not carry enough of these stores in our own hold.

"Quite literally, we will all sink or all be saved together," he said.

A statistic of the U.S. Budget Bureau, he said, shows it "costs three times as much to deal with the problems of malnutrition as it would cost to provide a decent diet for every person in the United States."

McGovern, who headed the Food for Peace program under the Kennedy administration, said, "We all stand for the constitutional principal of separation of church and state. But we should all stand against the practice of separating morality from public policy.

"While we all know that the Kingdom of God will not come from a piece of legislation or a program of government," the Methodist minister's son continued, "we also know that if someone is hungry we should give him food. That is the command of Christ—his standard for our judgment.

"Seldom in history has that command so starkly sounded among men. For today half the world is hungry; a fifth of the human race is starving; and he (Christ) tells us if we betray our brothers and sisters now, we betray Him."

Referring to past efforts through the now reduced Food for Peace program, McGovern said, "It is my opinion that what we have done with food in meeting the needs of hungry people has done more in preventing people from slipping into the canyons of chaos and communism and totalitarianism than all the military hardware we could ship to the nations of the world."

Speaking on the role of the church, McGovern said it has done only a "fair" job of being the moral leaven in society.

"The church has a principal role in society, a responsibility to set the moral tone and make the difference in such things as hunger and economic justice," he said.

"That performance," he continued, "contains room for a good bit of improvement," although the "civil rights movement in the 1950s and the peace movement in the 1960s are examples of two areas in which the church provided moral leadership.

"Those who argue that religion and politics don't mix," McGovern declared, "deny Jesus and His words: 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me'." (See related story, page 3) (BP)
