Inflation and Devaluation Have Big Effect on Foreign Missions

Leslie and Edna Smith are dormitory parents for 17 growing, hungry missionary kids (MKs) in Jakarta, Indonesia. Feeding all those mouths takes a lot of preparation, a lot of food and a lot of money.

The Smiths' budget has to stretch around an annual inflation rate of 15 to 20 percent.

The Smiths, "parents away from home" for MKs who must attend school in Jakarta, meet the budget crisis through careful food shopping and preparation.

Their problems represent only one in a long line of frustrations Southern Baptist missionaries face in countries with galloping inflation or in countries where the dollar is rapidly losing ground in currency exchange rates.

Almost every month the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board approves increased cost-of-living supplements for missionaries in one country or another, according to Winston Crawley, director of the board's overseas division. The recommendation comes after the inflation rate in a country has exceeded eight percent during a calendar year.

Inflation isn't the only thing eating up missionary salaries. Devaluation of the dollar has presented problems equally as serious, particularly in Switzerland, West Germany and Japan.

During a six-month period in late 1977 and early 1978 the dollar fell approximately 10 percent against the West German mark and approximately 20 percent against the Swiss franc and Japanese yen.

Translated into daily living, says Gerald W. Burch, Southern Baptist missionary in Japan, "that means my family eats a lot of hamburger." They can't afford any other beef. A roast for his family of four would cost at least $80, he says.

The price of land is almost prohibitive in many Latin American countries and in Japan. This situation squeezes church expansion, puts a damper on new churches which can't buy land to erect a building and makes the acquisition of new missionary residences more difficult.

What does this mean to the Southern Baptists at home? Simply, more money is needed, said R. Keith Parks, director of the mission support division of the Foreign Mission Board. "Unless Southern Baptists give in the way that they are capable of giving," he says, "we're going to be an agency that is able to support missionaries without providing them with tools to do their work."

For WMU, 100th Birthday Party Is Next Week in Florence

Florence Baptist Church will be host next week (Apr. 25-27) to the centennial observance of the formation of Woman's Missionary Union in Kentucky.

Numerous special events will commemorate the special occasion, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

A drama commissioned for the meeting is scheduled that evening, followed by a reception. Speakers, reports and business highlight daytime sessions Wednesday and Thursday through noon.

Wednesday evening "The Bridge Builders," 30-minute color motion picture produced for WMU by the Radio and Television Commission, will premier. The film is to be scheduled on state TV stations during the first two weeks of June and available to churches from the Baptist Film Center, Louisville, after June 15.

Upwards of 2000 persons are expected to participate in the WMU's 100th birthday party in Florence next week.

Kentuckians Hurt On Mission Field

A Southern Baptist missionary, the former Marilyn Jones of Jeffersonton, Ky., has been released from a hospital in Nairobi, Kenya.

Marilyn (Mrs. Tom W. McMillan) was hospitalized following a Mar. 23 automobile accident which also involved three other missionaries, including her husband.

One of the four, Mrs. Jack G. (Ruth) Partain, is listed in serious condition at Baylor Medical Center, Dallas. She was flown to Dallas in a semi-conscious state after showing no progress suffering a brain contusion. Her husband, who was driving in the car-truck accident, and a Southern Baptist missionary nurse accompanied Mrs. Partain to Dallas.

McMillan was pastor of Hopewell Baptist Church, Jeffersonton, at the time of their appointment by the Foreign Mission Board in 1959. They are stationed at Arusha, Tanzania where Mrs. McMillan is recovering.

The McMillans have three children.

R. G. Lee Hospitalized

Robert G. Lee, 91, former president of the Southern Baptist Convention and pastor emeritus of Bellevue Baptist Church, returned to the coronary unit of Methodist Hospital, Memphis, for treatment of a heart ailment.

The heart problem developed while Lee was undergoing tests in the hospital. His condition is serious.

Card Carrying Baptists?

Registration cards for messengers to the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta June 13-15 are available through May 6 from the office of state executive secretary Franklin Owen.

Qualifications for pre-registration forms were included in Western Recorder's Mar. 29 issue (page 4).

Differences Have No Place, Men Told

Baptist men from 43 countries were challenged in Indianapolis to put aside bigotry, racism and differences with the clergy and dedicate their skills to evangelizing the world and filling human need.

A battery of speakers from a dozen countries exhorted 1000 delegated to the Second World Conference of Baptist Men to demonstrate openness, sensitivity and dedicated leadership in communicating the gospel.

Owen Cooper, secretary of the Baptist World Alliance Men's Department which sponsored the conference, keynoted the conference on opening night with a plea to the men to find their individual gift, sharpen it and to use it to help fill the spiritual and physical needs of others.

C. Ronald Goulding, associate secretary of BWA with responsibility for evangelism and education, urged the men to agree to win one person each to Jesus Christ in 1978.

Home Mission Board Taps Kentuckians

Seven Kentuckians were named to missionary appointments by the Home Mission Board in Atlanta last week.

Fred and Annalu Hill of Oak Grove, Ky., will be career missionaries in Wisconsin where he will direct missions for Central Baptist Association.

Hill is a native Kentuckian, graduate of Georgetown College and Southern Seminary. Prior to appointment he was pastor of First Church, Oak Grove, and has held pastorates in Pomery, Englewood and Grove City, Ohio, and Anchorage, Ky.

Mrs. Hill, the former Annalu Boatwright of Jameson, Mo., is the daughter of Roy Boatwright and the late Mrs. Boatwright. Boatwright was state Sunday school secretary in Kentucky for 23 years. Annalu is also a graduate of Georgetown College.

Country comic Jerry Clower of Yazoo City, Miss., decried bigotry and racism while offering his formula for the Christian life—accept Christ, join a New Testament, Bible-believing church, attend services regularly, tithe and show Christian confidence during tragedy.

The lone woman speaker, Marie Mathis of Waco, Tex., said men need to develop a willingness to avoid suppressing the sensitive, open, vulnerable aspects of their nature if they expect to have the same impact on worldwide Christian missions that women have.

Manuel Scott, black pastor from Los Angeles, while urging the men not to "pour ice cubes" on their pastor but support him, also urged pastors to adapt themselves to their people and avoid taking away their rights and acting "dictatorial, undemocratic, arrogant, authoritarian, and pharasaic."

Appointed a missionary associate by the Home Mission Board was Al Mortenson of Louisville.

Four Kentuckians are new US-2 missionaries (college graduates who serve for two years): Bill and Diane Anderson, Campbellsville, to serve in Portland, Ore.; and Phillip and Sheila Duncan, Murray, to Montgomery, Ala.

In addition, Mary Moschella of York, Pa., was appointed a US-2 missionary to serve in Newport, Ky.

A Lot for Lottie

Receipts from the 1977 Southern Baptist Lottie Moon Christmas offering for foreign missions now stand at $30,744,311.

This figure is more than $3 million above the 1976 offering at the same time last year. The contributions received through Apr. 13 constitute 90.4 percent of the 134 million goal.

Christian Education

GGBTS Installs Pinson

Trustees of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary installed William M. Pinson Jr. as fourth president of the seminary, adopted a long range planning report, approved reports of three major task forces and adopted a $1.77 million budget for 1978-79.

In his first address as president to the annual meeting of the trustees, Pinson said the 1977-78 school year has seen three records set at Golden Gate: enrolment, 517; budget expenditure, $1,684,850; and gifts received, $231,588.

Prayer Line Opened

Students and faculty members at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary have begun an intercessory prayer ministry, staffed 12 hours a day in a recently completed prayer room.

"Prayer line" initially was aimed at serving the prayer needs of the seminary community but has expanded to surrounding Marin County and is open to prayer requests from all over the world.

Persons wishing to relay a request for prayer should write the Office of the President, Golden Gate Seminary, Mill Valley, Calif. 94941 or call (415) 388-8080 Ext. 12. Prayer line personnel keep requests in strictest confidence.

Students Raise $100,000

Southern Baptist college students have raised more than $100,000 for a world hunger project in 2½ years since the project was initiated by the Sunday School Board's National Student Ministries.

The goal of $150,000 will be channeled through the Foreign Mission Board to Bangladesh where money already has gone for vegetable seeds, a soybean project, rice meal and fish production. Southern Baptist missionaries distribute the funds which means nothing is lost in administrative costs.

Ernestly contend for the faith which was once for all delivered to the saints. —Jude 3

Daley Observations

A Request for Help

Western Recorder is basically a Baptist newsmagazine. Moreover, it is the Kentucky Baptist newsmagazine. This means priority should be given to news relating to Kentucky Baptists. We print all the Kentucky Baptist news we receive which fits our guidelines but we receive far too little and so we are appealing for help.

We need help because we do not have the staff nor the financial resources to do much on-the-spot reporting. We do cover as many important Baptist events anywhere in the state as we can when we know about them but these are but a few compared with the many worth reporting.

This does not mean we don't have enough material to fill the paper each week. We have enough to fill several issues each week but it is not Kentucky Baptist material. Baptist Press, the Southern Baptist Convention news service, sends us almost enough each week to fill an issue. We also receive regular releases from the two mission boards, the seminaries and other Southern Baptist Convention agencies all of which have staff members devoting full time to gathering, writing and disseminating news. All this material is excellently done.

The temptation is to use too much of this good material from outside Kentucky instead of seeking material specifically related to Kentucky Baptists. We hope to resist this temptation with the help of our readers.

Below are lists of news we want and don't want. We realize some readers disagree with us on what to put and not put into the state paper but we have to have some standards and the ones we use are those generally observed by other state papers.

We already receive many but we would like to be on the mailing list of every church to receive weekly or monthly mailouts and/or the Sunday bulletin. It would also be good for every church to have someone designated to report important church events to Western Recorder. It is not necessary to prepare the news article as it would appear in the paper. Give us the basic facts and let us write it in accordance with our style and standards.

Note also the below suggestions on photos for Western Recorder use. Please help us make Western Recorder more Kentucky Baptist news oriented. We want:

- Ordinations of every minister
- Ground breakings
- Note burnings
- Dedications
- Brotherhood, WMU and youth mission projects
- Other special Bold Mission projects
- Lay revivals

- New missions, chapels and churches
- Church, staff and associational anniversaries
- Special associational activities (youth camps, mission projects, association-wide revivals, etc.)
- Staff changes (pastors and other staff members)
- Building, camp, office, home projects in association
- Revival reports
- Miscellaneous activities/events involving Baptist people

We do not use:

- Youth recognition services (GA, RA, etc.)
- Vacation Bible School reports
- Revival service announcements for local churches
- Special local church promotions (of local interest only)
- Solicitations by people seeking jobs

If you send photos, please follow these guidelines:

- Do not send Polaroids.
- Do not include more than 3-4 people in a picture.
- Do not send photos that are very dark or very light as they do not reproduce well.
- Do not let the subjects pose for the pictures—use "action" shots with subjects being themselves, not lined up in front of a camera and smiling into it. Action should take place in spite of the photographer's presence.
- Do not send color photographs—they reproduce poorly.
- Give clear identifications of all persons in accompanying cutlines.
- Use a professional photographer if at all possible.

A Valuable Help for Pulpit Committees

One of the strongest arguments for Baptist pastors' retiring at 65 is that many of them do some of their most effective work after official retirement. As interim pastors they are especially helpful. In some instances the churches they serve have problems and their experience and wisdom are desperately needed. Since they will not be around forever and therefore don't have to worry about being popular with all the members they can tell it like it is and thus get some things across that pastors are not always able to do.

It's sad but so. Some pastorless churches are not ready to call a pastor. There might have been a problem with the outgoing pastor or for some other reason there are divisions among the membership. A new pastor coming into such a situation is likely to be cut to pieces before he even gets started. A wise, experienced interim pastor can often be a healing influence and can prepare the congregation to call another pastor and receive him in the proper way.

One retired pastor who has been especially helpful is Harold B. Kuhnle of Lexington. Since retiring he has helped almost a dozen congregations all of whom have benefited greatly by his services. He has been especially helpful to the pulpit committees of the churches where he has served as interim pastor. He has not sought to find pastors for them but has taught them how to go about finding God's man.

Kuhnle's assistance in this respect really prompted this editorial. A little pamphlet he has prepared to assist pastorless churches and pulpit committees has come to my attention and it is the best I have ever seen. It does not contain all pulpit committee members should know but it is the most practical guide I know.

With his permission I recommend it as a must for pulpit committee members. My experience leads me to the conclusion that many sincere members of pulpit committees are totally ignorant about how to go about their assignment and so there is no wonder so many blunders are made.

The booklet is entitled, "The Pulpit Committee Manual," and it is available in limited supply for $1.50 a copy from H. B. Kuhnle, 305 Clinton Rd., Lexington, KY 40502, phone (606) 269-3949. It would be a wise investment for every church setting out to find a pastor.

Wanted: One Pastor

Once again Calvary Baptist Church asks your assistance in helping contact a pastor. We have again been without a pastor for seven months and traditional methods have provided us with few qualified men from whom to choose.

We are asking that ministers who feel led by God to consider Calvary to send us a complete resume and a taped sermon made during a morning worship service. We would like the tape to include the invitation. We prefer the ministers have college and seminary degrees and some pastoral experience.

The church is in full cooperation with all Southern Baptist conventions and agencies. There are about 115 resident members.

The salary for pastor is competitive, and fringe benefits are typical of those offered by Southern Baptist churches.

We trust the prayers of all your readers that God will bless us soon in sending a pastor for Calvary.

Saul: Persecutor Becomes Apostle

Acts 9:1-16

Saul was born in Tarsus, the capital of Cilicia, a self-governing, cultured, university city, which enabled her citizens to enjoy numerous advantages. Being orthodox Jews and strict Pharisees, Saul's parents saw to it their son was well versed in the Old Testament scriptures. Saul became one of the best educated men of his time. He went to Jerusalem and was trained under the learned Gamaliel, one of the most renowned Jewish teachers. Saul observed all the requirements of the law and became a leader in the persecution of Christians.

After most of the Christians had been driven out of Jerusalem, Saul's fury against them remained unabated. He secured legal permission to go to Damascus, where some Christians had taken refuge, to arrest and bring them to Jerusalem for trial. Before he reached Damascus, a brilliant light blinded him. He fell to the ground. Stunned by the glory of God, Saul inquired, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" This question indicated that his opposition to Christ had collapsed and he was ready to accept the will of the Lord.

Christ told him to go into Damascus and the desired information would be given to him. Attendants led Saul into the city where he rested in the house of Judas for three days. He remained sightless. Christ commanded Ananias to go to the house of Judas and inquire for Saul. Ananias was fearful Saul might still be a worker of iniquity, but when Christ assured him he was no longer an enemy, he was perfectly willing to do as the Master directed.

Beautiful indeed was that scene when Ananias betook himself to the house of Judas, was admitted to the room of Saul, in Christian obedience and love approached the arch-persecutor, gently placed his hand on him in brotherliness and with a choice blend of discretion and devotion said: "Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, hath sent me."

Ananias ministered to Saul in a great way—in the restoration of his sight, in leading him into being endued with the power of the Holy Spirit in preparation for service and in baptizing him. Ananias was the Lord's man in the right place at the proper time to be a brother to a man who sorely needed him.

After eating, Saul preached his first sermon for Christ in the Jewish synagogue in Damascus, which was the most difficult place for him to witness for the Saviour. His hearers were amazed as they listened to this former hater of Christians preach about the deity of Christ, whom their rulers had crucified.

God's Active Judgment in History

Genesis 6:9-13, 17-18, 7:11-12, 15-16

The two forms of wickedness—inward and outward—are related to each other as cause and effect. The only thing about man God ever called great was his sin. Not only were his deeds sinful, but "every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually." Included therein were his purposes and desires. Man's wickedness grieved God deeply.

In the era in which Noah lived two conditions prevailed, namely, corruption and violence, but this godly man was not contaminated by the evils around him. So grievous was the wickedness of the people, it became necessary for God to take action. While others flouted God's repeated warnings, Noah walked with God in fellowship. That required great courage because others did not have any desire whatever to walk in that manner.

It was on the ground of the sovereign and eternal purpose of God that Noah "found grace in the eyes of the Lord." After announcing to Noah he was going to make an end of all flesh, God commanded his faithful servant to make an ark of gopher wood according to detailed plans. Instead of offering excuses as to why he should not comply with the instructions he received or making suggestions as to how to improve the ark, Noah simply proceeded to do what God told him. Faithful obedience to God is a mark of wisdom and proof of genuine love for him.

Upon the completion of the ark Noah and his family entered taking with them a male and a female of each creature.

God's judgment reached its climax when he shut the door and sent the flood. Most likely Noah was sad because not a single person outside his own family to whom he had preached so faithfully had entered the ark with him. The ark was the only place of safety when the flood came. In Christ is the only place of safety.

Seeing God

At least as far back as the vision Isaiah had in the temple, which resulted in his response, "Here am I, send me," the people of God have realized that every servant of God must have a vision of God. Paul stood even before a king and declared at the risk of his life (which it eventually cost him) that he "was not (indeed, could not be) disobedient to the heavenly vision."

Mankind is without hope in this world of sin and death except he see a vision of God. Yet God is not visible to the physical eye. Though he has a throne, you can't put him in any chair on earth and look at him. You can't put him in a test tube and prove him in a laboratory. He is as the scriptures declare, "the invisible God."

How, and in what way may one see God today? Most people would agree that we see God in nature. We see him in the mountain crag, in the billowy cloud against the deep blue sky. We see him in the flower; in the leaf, with its intricate design and process of photosynthesis. We see him in the wisdom and design revealed in all of nature's process and ongoing of life, which (except where man has tampered with it) all fits so well. We see him in the snowflake, in plant, animal. In all the good earth and universe, we see God.

But all of the above is what one might call "general revelation" of the fact or existence of God. One sees no personal qualities in the God of general revelation, nor is there much evidence of such things as kindness, mercy, forgiveness, or anything else that one could get from a person.

Christians see God through Jesus Christ. You can look through the cloud, through the mountain crag, through the flower, the snowflake, the leaf, and see the handiwork of God, the wisdom of God, but it is when you look through Jesus Christ's revelation of God that you see mercy, love, kindness and above all, forgiveness, redemption. Christians have seen "...the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ" (II Cor. 2:5).

Maslin Joins Mayfield Staff

Mark S. Maslin is the new minister of music at First Baptist Church, Mayfield. Both Maslin and his wife, the former Sharon Brooks, are December graduates of Southern Seminary with master of church music degrees. They served Stithton Church, Radcliff, as minister of music and pianist while students. John C. Huffman is pastor at Mayfield.

Revivals

Bill Barnard, pastor, reports an outstanding revival at Grant's Lick Baptist Church, Alexandria, in which Colburn Hooten was evangelist. Visible results include 24 for baptism and 26 other decisions.

Walking 10 miles in a walk-a-thon for the Lottie Moon offering were these Clear Creek Baptist School youth. They are shown with leaders Mrs. James Ditty and David Mitchell. They collected $467.

Congregations

Auburn Burns Building Note

Auburn (Ky.) Baptist Church constructed a new facility at a cost of $225,000 in 1969, raising $105,000 and financing the remainder at $1500 per month.

In November 1977 the finance committee challenged the church to pay its debt in full by Jan. 15, 1978. By the last Sunday in December the debt had been paid and several thousand dollars above it received.

Former pastor Eugene Reynolds returned Mar. 12 as guest speaker for a note burning ceremony. According to Frank Dorris, pastor, a praise service that evening thanked God for his goodness to the Auburn congregation.

Richmond, First, Marks 150

First Baptist Church, Richmond, begins observance of its sesquicentennial year with revival Apr. 24-30 featuring Paul McCommon, state music secretary for Georgia Baptists. Music will be led by H. Lee Webb Jr., minister of music-youth. Mack T. Harris is pastor.

An offering goal of $25,000 is set for celebration day May 7.

Moody's Off to Israel

G. T. Moody, minister of education at First Baptist Church, Murray, and son, Dwight, pastor of Hopewell Baptist Church, Holton, Ind., plan a month's study trip to Israel. Dwight, a student at Southern Seminary, and his wife lived in Israel for a year, 1973-74.

The elder Moody is in his sixth year at Murray and will be taking a one month sabbatical provided by the Murray church for its staff.
