Ideas solicited as search panel begins assignment

by James H. Cox, Associate Editor

At an orientation meeting Mar. 9 in Middletown, the 15-member search committee to seek and recommend a successor to the retiring Franklin Owen, Kentucky Baptist Convention executive secretary, covered a lot of territory.

William D. Jagers, pastor of Cynthiana Baptist Church and chairman of the executive board, suggested some principles of appointment.

Owen spoke of his concept of time overlap and his availability to assist in orienting the new person.

Malcolm Lunsford, of Frankfort, chairman of the administrative committee, commented on the job description for an executive secretary.

The committee, headed by Harold Wainscott of Covington, decided its first task would be to consider the needs and objectives of Kentucky Baptists both now and in the future.

A second task is to be consideration of leadership qualities necessary to meet those needs and objectives.

Finally, there will be the actual search for a person who possesses leadership qualities for the position.

The committee has invited "in house" personnel at the Baptist Building to share their ideas of what the needs of Kentucky Baptists are and what objectives the convention should have for future years. These ideas will be heard at a 10:30 a.m. meeting Mar. 25 in Middletown.

Following guidelines adopted by the executive board, Jagers appointed search committee members from all over the state.

According to Wainscott, "These committee members are very open to hear what ideas may be shared by the Baptist people across the state. This is not to be interpreted as asking for a strong write-in campaign but simply to assure Baptists of Kentucky that they can be heard.

"The committee as such has not yet discussed the name of any person to be considered," Wainscott continued, "and will probably not be in a position to do so before sometime in May. If people have names to suggest, they will be received, filed and considered all together at the appropriate time. The committee feels its first priority is to adopt the guidelines by which it will prayerfully perform its work."

He added, "The time will come when committee members will not be able to discuss with anyone the nature, direction and progress of their search. This will be necessary for the protection of the persons under consideration. Right now your committee is very open to hear you about needs, objectives and leadership qualities," Wainscott emphasized.

In conclusion, he declared, "This is an awesome responsibility thrust upon this committee. However, the members accepted the responsibility with the confidence they would have the prayerful support of Kentucky Baptists. We humbly acknowledge we need your prayers. We ask you for them and thank you in advance."

Baptist women celebrate Lottie Moon's state tie

by James H. Cox, Associate Editor

Helen Jean Parks, wife of the president of the Foreign Mission Board, will be present Apr. 23 in Danville for a historical event honoring the memory of Lottie Moon. Southern Baptists' annual Christmas offering for foreign missions is named for Miss Moon, a 19th century missionary under convention appointment to China.

Mrs. R. Keith Parks of Richmond, Va. will be principal speaker at the unveiling of a historical marker. The marker commemorates Miss Moon's membership in Danville's First Baptist Church while teaching at Danville Female Academy, 1866-71.

The school was operated by the church until 1869. At that time, it was merged with another local school and became known as Caldwell Institute, managed by Presbyterians.

The ceremonies in Danville will come at the mid-point of the three-day Kentucky Woman's Missionary Union annual meeting. Other sessions of the conclave Apr. 22-24 will be held 10 miles north in Harrodsburg at Harrodsburg Baptist Church.

That same evening (Apr. 23) a musical play on the life of Lottie Moon, titled Lottie D, will be presented in the Harrodsburg church auditorium. Beth Bailey, a Western Kentucky University senior and 1981 summer missionary to the Philippines, will play the title role.

Mrs. Catherine Allen, author of Broadman Press' 1980 release, The New Lottie Moon Story, will address the body that night. Mrs. Allen, of Birmingham, Ala., is assistant to the executive director of Woman's Missionary Union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention.

The keynote session of the annual meeting is at 7 p.m. Thursday, Apr. 22 in Harrodsburg.

Preceding a reception honoring new WMU directors and members across the state, Mrs. Ruth Thomas, missionary to Thailand, will speak.

Beverly Finley, Atlanta, Ga. soprano soloist, will sing and direct music at all of the sessions.

Featured music Friday morning will be presented by the Kentucky Baptist Chorale. Saturday morning Sweet Spirit, a Louisville women's trio, will sing.

"With Us in Kentucky," a presentation of the Kentucky WMU staff, is also slated on the Friday morning agenda. Luncheons that day are scheduled for associational WMU directors and directors of missions, and for parents of foreign missionaries.

The concluding speaker for the meeting, Mrs. Lillian Isaacs, will address the body Saturday morning. She is a home missionary in literacy work living in Tallahassee, Fla.

Chester Swor, lecturer, writer and counselor of Clinton, Miss., will conduct meditations at the start of every auditorium session.

Mrs. Doris Mullendore of Bowling Green, state WMU president, will preside over the sessions in Harrodsburg and Danville. Miss Kathryn Jasper is executive director of the state WMU.

Interpretation for the deaf will be provided.

A list of motels in the Harrodsburg-Danville area is available from the state WMU office, Box 43433, Middletown, KY 40243.

DALEY OBSERVATIONS

Why are Mormons ahead of Baptists?

Mormons are putting Baptists to shame in zeal and growth. In their relatively short history they have spread to 83 countries and are growing faster than any other religious group among those with more than one million members in America.

The Mormons are only one-third as large as Southern Baptists in number but baptized more than one-half as many as we did in 1980. In the same year Mormons had a gain of 93% to Southern Baptists' gain of 35% in South America and a 98% gain in Mexico to our growth of 9%. Southern Baptists did outgrow Mormons by 79% to 42% in Africa in 1980.

How such growth of a religious group is explained depends upon the explainer. When Baptists have such phenomenal growth we are inclined to say it's because God is blessing Baptists and therefore we must be right. But we don't believe that about Mormons. How could God bless any group who exalts a mere man named Joseph Smith to the same level as Jesus Christ, the second person in the trinity who is coequal and coeternal with the Father? Mormons are about as Christian as Moslems. Human efforts and not divine sanction must account for Mormon success.

History reveals that new religions with small memberships grow faster than old and larger religious groups. But this is not enough explanation in the case of the Mormons.

Two other reasons account more for the faster rate of growth of Mormons than Baptists. These are certainty of doctrine and depth of commitment. These go together. Wherever people believe strongly and highly prize what they believe, they share it with enthusiasm.

Baptists used to know much more about what they believed and why they believed it than they do today. There was a time when Baptists had the reputation of being strong doctrinally. Their distinctive beliefs set them apart from other religious groups. One had to believe something to be a Baptist.

In more recent years we have tried to shed that image and have tended to play down our doctrinal differences with other evangelicals. We act as if we are ashamed to be considered different in our doctrinal stance. This ought not be so!

Many Baptists now are not hesitant to join churches of other denominations because they see little if any difference in beliefs. More and more members of other faiths are joining Baptist churches for convenience sake more than for conviction sake.

By Baptist distinctives is not meant Baptist tradition which is not biblical. Neither does being strict mean exclusiveness, prejudice or an uncooperative spirit. Some of our past "narrowness" needed shedding and there are ways to cooperate with other religious groups without compromising.

The second reason for the success of Mormons is depth of commitment. They zealously witness to what they believe and apparently don't know the meaning of discouragement. According to a report only nine of every 1000 homes visited will let Mormon missionaries in. Failure to get into two successive prospects' homes on visitation night is enough to discourage most Baptists from knocking on another door.

This depth of commitment is reflected in the Mormon missionary force. About three out of every 10 young Mormons serve as volunteer missionaries for at least two years. The Mormon missionary force numbers about 30,000 at home and abroad with most of these serving without pay.

In contrast Southern Baptists in 1980 had slightly over 6000 career missionaries and the budgets of the two Southern Baptist mission boards exceeded $100,000,000. (Several more thousand Southern Baptists served as volunteer missionaries for various periods of time.)

The answer to the question why Mormons are outgrowing Baptists is plain. Their strong belief even though it is false produces deeper commitment and bolder mission.

Southern Baptists and Mormons are both involved in Bold Mission Thrust. With Baptists it's mostly a slogan, with Mormons it is a reality.

Churches must have proper insurance

Being properly insured is only an academic matter for churches until tragedy strikes and then it's too late if proper preparation has not been made. Tragedies involving two churches in the Louisville area last year and this year illustrate this truth.

One of these tragedies was the fire that completely destroyed the St. Matthews Baptist sanctuary earlier this year. The charred ruins of the sanctuary is a sickening sight but it would be far more so if it had not been properly insured. There's probably no way not to lose in a fire and the insurance settlement for St. Matthews hasn't been finally determined yet but reports indicate the insurance should go a long way in replacing the sanctuary.

Churches, take note. Examine your insurance policies or, better still, let an expert examine them to determine their adequacy. In these days of spiraling construction costs insurance should be adequate for replacing the facilities instead of a lump settlement which sounds generous but proves inadequate.

The other tragedy was the accidental electrocution last year of pastor Carl Williams while painting the Beech Grove church which he served. Carl left a young wife who not only has to adjust to life without him but who also needs a livelihood.

This gives occasion to point out that fire insurance is not all the insurance a church needs. In fact, fire insurance is optional in that it is not legally required but, according to reliable sources, every church with as many as one worker regularly employed is required by Kentucky law to have Workmen's Compensation insurance. And regularly employed doesn't mean full time but includes part time workers if used regularly. This would surely include a part time pastor and/or a part time custodian.

What are the benefits of Workmen's Compensation insurance? The benefits vary according to state laws but they generally include medical and hospital benefits and permanent disability benefits resulting from employment related injuries. They also include a death benefit in a lump sum or in installments.

Is Workmen's Compensation insurance needed if a church already has liability insurance? Yes, not only because it is the law in Kentucky but also because many liability policies exclude church staff personnel who might be injured or killed.

How does a church go about getting Workmen's Compensation insurance? The best start is to confer with whoever is carrying other insurance for the church. Otherwise, any reputable insurance agency could help.

Is it expensive? No, not at all. The annual premium for a small church with limited employees would likely be less than the cost of one day in a hospital.

Your state paper merits support

by Glenn Durham, Chairman,
Western Recorder directors

A small increase in Western Recorder subscription rates went in effect last month. It would be a perfect situation if each church in Kentucky would pay the full amount of the printing and mailing cost of our state paper but some would not and some could not.

Recently, as a Kentucky Baptist, I reassessed the value of our state paper. How much is it worth to you and/or your church? For the price of approximately 3½ gallons of gasoline, or 3¼ pounds of hamburger, or 1 good necktie, a family can receive 48-50 issues of Western Recorder, OUR state Baptist paper.

Each issue contains: Kentucky Baptist news, Southern Baptist news, upcoming conferences and seminars, editorials, announcements, letters from many concerned Baptists, articles from Oneida Baptist Institute, the Homes for Children, Clear Creek Baptist School, our executive secretary and the Sunday school lesson. It also shares church hardships—floods, fires, tornadoes; church joys—note burnings, ordinations, anniversaries; and news of our colleges, seminaries, hospitals and much, much more.

Let me share a personal testimony. In 1974 a tornado swept across Kentucky and did considerable amount of damage. We read about a friend some 200 miles away whose church was heavily damaged. Our church felt led to help. In 1977, we had a flood. Individuals, churches in Kentucky, Missouri (many from this state because it was in their state paper), North Carolina, Ohio and other areas came to our rescue, along with the Kentucky Baptist Convention and the church we had aided in 1974. Some visited later and participated in our dedication after rebuilding.

How much is our state paper worth? No monetary value can be placed on it. Through it we find new friends, concern for others, articles to make us think—words for action and words for inspiration. All for less than 10 cents per issue.

How can you or your church, as a Kentucky Baptist, afford NOT to subscribe? Our church has used the church plan about 40 years. We like to be informed.

Calvin, my brother in Christ

Even though Calvin Fields and I went to the same high school I did not meet him until he became missionary for Three Forks Association in 1961. I was one of the pastors in the association.

He came to most of the churches I served to help in either strengthening the men and boy's organization or to begin the entire Brotherhood program.

And then the times I was at Camp Rabro—there he was! And because of this long service with Camp Rabro, there ought to be a memorial there. The worship chapel, dining hall, around the flag pole, a plaque or one of the buildings named in his honor.

I did not have a brother. If I could have had Calvin Fields would have been the ideal. Come to think of it, he is my brother in Christ!

BAPTIST FORUM

A big man: a tribute to Calvin

When I was a boy I met a BIG MAN at RA Camp. He was Calvin. I watched him line us up, sing funny songs and love boys like me. He kept everything running right. In my eyes, he was a strong man, full of authority.

When I was a young man Calvin asked me to be an assistant counselor on his camp staff. Wow! Was I thrilled? I felt a part of the inner circle. He was boss. You did things his way. And oh what "a way." He taught us counselors how to love boys, how to have fun in the out-of-doors, how to lead a boy to Jesus Christ, how to depend on God and how to get seven boys to sleep every night by 9:45 p.m. He kept counselors inspired by his example. In my eyes he was a great man of God with a mission. I'm a better man having spent five summers with him.

As I've grown older, I've always remembered Calvin. He was my friend. He was happy for me when I was happy. He was supportive of me when I was down. He encouraged me a lot.

Calvin made a major contribution to all the boys, young men and men of whom he was a part. He left a burning desire in all of us to say "WE ARE AMBASSADORS FOR CHRIST."

Thank you, Calvin.

Larry A. Winn, East Amherst, N. Y.

Bouquets for an editor

Bravo! I applaud the Feb. 17 editorial which recommends we Southern Baptists get back to emphasizing the "Whom" instead of the what we believe.

Our squabbling and bickering over the seemingly important issues shadowed the priority of uplifting the name of Jesus. Satan uses every guileful technique to keep us from presenting what is most important—the Saviour, the hope for a crumbling and pained society.

On with Bold Mission Thrust and thank you dear editor for reminding us of our "first love."

Hariette Petersen, Webster

Rules made to be broken?

My son Andy is a student at Campbellsville College. He is presently engaged in a running battle with the administration concerning mandatory convocation.

For background purposes Andy is 24 years old and has been on his own since he was 18. He is not a radical and doesn't protest issues just for the sake of protesting.

He has presented a paper for a communications class setting forth his objections. I believe that the paper is scheduled for publication in a forthcoming issue of the Campbellsville College campus newspaper.

I agree in principle with the stand that Andy has taken. He feels that he is being forced to "worship."

Would you please print this letter so that other Kentucky Baptist pastors might respond? Pastors, how do you feel about forcing young men and women to attend worship services?

I have high regard for Campbellsville president Randy Davenport, but feel that he and the administration may be conforming to antiquated tradition for lack of direction.

J. Stuart Cundiff, Linwood

Thanks, Western Recorder

Through the years we have depended upon the Baptist state papers as the primary means of informing Southern Baptists about their mission work around the world.

You depend upon your state paper to update you on Baptist work in your own state and on the way your Cooperative Program dollars are being used throughout the Southern Baptist Convention and overseas.

Now your Baptist paper is facing a severe financial crisis. The government on Jan. 10 eliminated all subsidy for such nonprofit mailers. This meant that postage rates overnight doubled, or in some cases almost tripled.

The Baptist papers are being forced to raise their subscription rates, and that's why I'm writing you today. One way of increasing an awareness of missions and enhancing the cooperative spirit that marks Southern Baptist life is to support your state paper during this crisis.

How do you do this? By urging your church to continue its budget subscription for all members. Or if you subscribe individually, by renewing your subscription even though the rates increase.

Despite the higher cost, your state Baptist paper still represents one of the best bargains anywhere. It's one of the best ways to keep informed about how God is working through Southern Baptists in your state and throughout the world.

Keeping the commonwealth clean

First Baptist Church, Carlisle, in its regular business meeting Mar. 3 has gone on record in support of HB 371 which would enact more stringent penalties on persons who drive while under the influence of alcoholic beverages. We believe this action is highly commendable, and will make the streets and highways of the commonwealth safer for all of us. We support the concept that driving is a privilege, not a right.

The church has also voted its opposition to the following items of current consideration in the legislature. We believe the enactment of these bills would have a seriously adverse effect on the moral climate of our commonwealth, and we respectfully ask that you oppose them.

1. SB 293, which would allow the sale of mixed alcoholic beverages on Sunday. Beyond our opposition to alcoholic beverages in general, we would suggest the fact that Sunday currently has the lowest accident rate of any day of the week is at least partly due to the unavailability of alcoholic beverages. Further, it seems unjust that a decision of such import be allowed to be made by the Jefferson County commissioners and the Louisville city aldermen for all of the commonwealth, as SB 293 provides.

2. HB 143, which would allow off track betting in selected cities in the commonwealth. We wish to restate our conviction that the practice of gambling is detrimental to home and community life, and that its social costs far exceed any so-called economic benefits.

3. The introduction of liquor into the state park system and/or the naming of ski slopes in General Butler State Resort Park for alcoholic beverages. We appreciate our fine system of state parks, and decry any attempts to tacitly endorse or to legally sell alcoholic beverages in our parks. Such action would be incalculably damaging to the moral climate of the commonwealth's recreational facilities.

Estil Noffsinger, Church Clerk
David Stencil, Pastor

Aligning ourselves with atheists

I find it unfortunate that some preachers have become so obsessed with the separation of church and state they are, in effect, supporting the teaching of the evolution-only theory of creation in public schools. I wonder if they have considered that because of their actions some people may go to hell. Certainly our old preachers must be turning over in their graves.

If we discount the Bible as accurate history then all ideas of the creation become theories. There are several. Recently Reader's Digest carried an article written by a scientist the title of which was something like "Is the Biblical Account of the Creation Being Proven True?" The author himself is an atheist but he said more and more scientific evidence is being uncovered and more and more scientists are turning to a belief about the creation that is not incompatible with the Bible story. I believe he called it the "Big Bang" theory. I also seem to remember that when the Supreme Court ruled out Bible reading in the schools it was specifically stated there was nothing in the ruling that barred the Bible from being studied as literature. Since it has the oldest "theory," why should it be ruled out?

To teach one theory to the exclusion of all others is simply narrow-minded teaching. The scientific community has been guilty of this in the past and has erred thereby. For decades (probably centuries) it claimed all scientific evidence proved that the earth was flat. And it has not been too many years since it taught if man ever invented a vehicle that would travel 30 miles per hour, he could not ride therein because his body would burst from the pressure. The professors have not been exactly infallible.

Please, let us not let the separation of church and state (important as it is) become such an obsession that we align ourselves with the atheists and evolutionists, the traditional enemies of religion.

Kermit A. Lovelace, White Plains

BAPTIST NEWS IN BRIEF

Filipino crusades draw thousands.
Thousands of Filipinos accepted Christ as savior during two partnership crusades in Manila, Philippines, in January and February, sponsored by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

Reports, still lacking totals from at least 10 churches, indicate 13,544 persons made professions of faith, 1078 were baptized and 242 indicated a desire to enter full time Christian ministry.

The crusades were the first sponsored fully by the Foreign Mission Board since it assumed partnership evangelism from the World Evangelism Foundation Jan. 1.

The first crusade, conducted Jan. 24-31 in three Baptist associations on the island of Luzon, drew 171 Southern Baptists from the United States who paid their own way to participate. Another 179 came for the second crusade in the Metro Manila area Feb. 21-28. A total of 71 Filipino Baptist churches participated in the two crusades.

Decisions to follow Christ as personal savior are recorded only after individuals have signed decision cards also bearing the name of the person who witnessed to them, said missionary Jim Slack. "We don't count raised hands and give those figures as professions of faith."

"Now our work begins," said Henry

Cabalang, pastor of University Baptist Church in Manila and chairman of the crusades' steering committee. "Now we have to disciple these people and help them become part of our churches."

Mission Angola. The Baptist Convention of Angola will ask the Angolan government to issue permanent residence visas which would allow Southern Baptist missionaries Curtis and Betty McCown Dixon to resume work there.

The Dixons, former missionaries to Angola who are now serving in Portugal, reported the development after a month long visit to the African nation.

Mrs. W. W. Stout, former missionary to China from 1915 to 1925, died Feb. 24 at Suburban Hospital, Louisville, at 90 years of age.

She is survived by sons William D. Stout, Leesburg, Va., and John A. Stout, daughters Miss Margaret J. Stout, Mrs. Mary S. Jones, Mrs. W. O. (Beth) Claxon Jr., Hollywood, Fla., and Mrs. Hugh L. (Judith) Hood, Auburn, Ala.; six grandchildren, five great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Interment was at Georgetown Cemetery.

Services conducted for B. C. Dorrah
B. C. Dorrah, 83, chairman of deacons and treasurer at New Bethel Baptist Church, Eddyville, Caldwell-Lyon Association, died at his home Mar. 1, 1982.

Burial was in New Bethel cemetery.

Former Kentucky pastor's wife dies
Marcella Phillips Enlow, 86, was buried in Hodgenville, Ky., following her death Mar. 4 in Ft. Myers, Fla. She was a descendant of Elizabeth Boone and is survived by her husband Isham E. Enlow who served pastorates from 1912 to 1944 in the Kentucky communities of Whitesburg, Burgin and Dry Ridge. She is also survived by two sons: Eugene Enlow, pastor of Beechmont Baptist Church in Louisville, and Phillip Enlow of Norfolk, Va.; one daughter, Mrs. Charlotte McClatchey of Ft. Myers, Fla. Mrs. Enlow was a native of Covington and a graduate of Georgetown College.

Producing Literature for Your Church Requires More Than a Printing Press

Church literature publishing requires dedicated Christians with special skills.

Gerry Peak, editor of Sunday School Leadership, is responsible for planning content, enlisting writers, editing copy and working with artists to produce the best possible leadership periodical.

An ordained deacon active in his church's Sunday School and Church Training programs, Gerry is typical of editorial personnel at the Sunday School Board who are committed to the ministry of the local church— your church and theirs.

YOUR SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD
SERVING YOU,
SERVING CHRIST

Stewardship plan trains speakers. Members of the Southern Baptist Convention's Stewardship Commission adopted a "Bold Mission Encounter" plan to train 9000 lay speakers to present information about the Cooperative Program in every Southern Baptist church this year.

The plan calls for staff members of the Stewardship Commission to help state stewardship departments to train laymen in their states beginning in May. Each trained layman will then present to four churches information about the Cooperative Program, the unified budget through which Southern Baptists support state and national missions and education.

In other action at their annual meeting in Nashville, commissioners adopted a $1,839,500 budget; reelected E. Harmon Moore as chairman; and learned the Together We Build section helped 105 churches secure pledges from their membership of $34,895,292 for building projects.

The largest single project is that of the First Baptist Church of Greenville, S. C., whose members committed $3.4 million to build a 1400 seat sanctuary and renovate the existing building.

Southern trains industrial chaplains. Gifts from a group of North Carolina and Georgia business leaders have established a new endowment at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, to encourage the training of industrial chaplains.

The Claude Furr Industrial Chaplaincy Endowment, funded initially at $100,000, will provide annual scholarships, work grants and incentive awards for students interested in ministering in business circles, on the assembly line, in the hotel industry and in other work places.

The program honors the late Claude Furr, a native of Albermarle, N. C. A barber by trade, he ultimately became the president of a Charlotte, N. C., investment firm with holdings in real estate, hotels and mortgage interests.

Preaching HQ. Southern Seminary will be headquarters for a new National Center for Christian Preaching, a comprehensive focus on the pulpit ministry launched Mar. 8 with the announcement of a new endowment gift.

Sam and Carolyn McMahow of Charlotte, N. C., have committed $400,000 to endow the Carl Bates Professorship of Christian Preaching, in honor of their former pastor who is now senior professor of pastoral ministries at Southern. Bates is former president of the Southern Baptist Convention and was president of state Baptist conventions in North Carolina and Texas.

The McMahons are members of First Baptist Church in Charlotte.

Parks shares bold mission concerns

by David Smith, Staff Writer

Tired after a full day's schedule, Keith Parks returned from a 10 p.m. supper (as he was too busy to eat earlier) to be interviewed. Parks was in Louisville to speak at Southern Seminary's missions conference.

But when asked about Bold Mission Thrust and the achievement toward its goals, the countenance of the president of Southern Baptists' Foreign Mission Board changed.

Encouraged, Parks said if the influx of mission applicants is consistent with the recent trend, 5000 missionaries will be in service by the year 2000. Concerning volunteer missionaries Southern Baptists are far ahead.

"I would have to register some concern that our financial increases are going to have to escalate pretty rapidly if we're going to be able to support all the missionaries and do all the things we talked about doing in Bold Mission Thrust," Parks warned.

"We're going to have to realize that Bold Missions Thrust is more than just people going; it means commitment on the part of Baptists at the local church level. This commitment has to translate into more dollars given and into a stronger and more intense, consistent prayer life.

"If we as Baptists really become concerned and begin to pray like we should, the Lord will bless us. He will provide the resources and the people. More than that the Lord will spark renewal among us as well as among the people of the world."

Parks has observed that people are more open to the gospel in times "when there is upheaval, unrest, major crises, when people are torn loose from their moorings, when their traditions are being destroyed and their lives shattered."

Although extensive turmoil is only one factor among many, "We're living in a time of wider spread responsiveness to the gospel than ever before," (however this is not true in every country) he enthused.

He mentioned several innovations in missions which he hopes will help meet the needs of this "widespread responsiveness."

"Spiritual lukewarmness is the only thing that can prevent us from reaching the goals of Bold Mission Thrust. If there is a vibrant spiritual movement among Southern Baptists that will move us to intercessory prayer and all that would involve, we'll go well beyond these goals," Parks concluded.

70 to HMB. Seventy people were elected to mission service during the March meeting of the Home Mission Board.

Included are 10 missionaries, six missionary associates, 46 approved for church pastoral assistance and eight to have language pastoral assistance.

Elected as missionaries were Joseph and Debbie Bagwell of Chelsea, Miss.; Harry and Cheryl Edmonds of Baltimore, Md.; Timothy and Carolyn Logerquist of Yuma, Ariz.; Michael and Sarah McCullough of Reno, Nev.; and Henry and Patricia Smart of Tempe, Ariz.

Among those approved for church pastoral assistance were William and Martha Carrell and David and Evelyn Culp. Both couples are from Louisville.

Largest grant. The Louisiana Baptist Foundation has become owner of the largest bequest in its history, $2.5 million from the estate of the late William and Mrs. L. Day of Walsh, La.

The will designated 50 percent of the trust income for use by Louisiana College to establish the W. L. and Maggie Day Memorial Endowment Scholarship Fund, and that use of the remaining 50 percent of the bequest be determined by trustees of the Foundation.

Glenn E. Bryant, Foundation executive director, said the estate includes about $350,000 in cash and 1100 acres of land in Jefferson Davis Parish.

Fellowship of Baptist Men proposed. A national Fellowship of Baptist Men, rejected by the Southern Baptist Brotherhood Commission last year, will be proposed in modified form at the commission's Apr. 22-24 meeting.

The new proposal was hammered out during a meeting of a special advisory committee in Memphis, authorized last fall during the commission meeting which rejected the previous proposal.

The committee is composed of commission trustees and staff members, state Brotherhood directors and concerned laymen, and will recommend objectives with a method of implementation.

The proposed objectives are "promoting witnessing and mission involvement among Southern Baptist men; helping churches involve more men in witnessing and missions; working with Southern Baptist Convention agencies and state organizations in involving more men in witnessing and missions and encouraging greater financial support in witnessing and missions by men through the Cooperative Program and other Southern Baptist channels."

The recommendation also proposes a 15-member committee to work with commission trustees, staff and state staff members to establish the fellowship. The committee will be laypersons, none of whom will be a trustee, staffer or state staff member.

International Series FEEDING BOTH BODY AND SOUL

Mark 6:30-44 After their return from their first preaching tour in Galilee without Christ the apostles reported to their Lord from whom they had received their message and derived their power and to whom alone they were responsible. Observing their physical weariness as soon as they finished their interesting report Christ invited them to accompany him on a retreat saying, "Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while."

The crowds were awaiting their arrival when they landed on the other shore. Instead of being annoyed or irritated by the intrusion of that crowd of people Christ was deeply moved because he saw them as helpless sheep without a shepherd. Because they were looking for guidance and hungering for spiritual truth Christ was filled with compassion for them. His compassionate heart was stirred because they were so poverty stricken in spiritual matters.

After teaching until night was approaching Christ was not willing for the crowds to be sent away hungry as the apostles suggested. His fine sense of hospitality demanded they be fed. His first step toward this huge undertaking was an order to the 12: "Give ye them to eat." This command was a severe test of their faith and obedience. Their reply indicated their realization that what he commanded was, humanly speaking, beyond their power to perform. How often a great spiritual enterprise has been weakened because men have limited Christ to their own little estimates!

It was discovered that a lad was present with his lunch which consisted of five loaves and two fishes. He showed unusual unselfishness when he willingly gave up his lunch for the sake of others, little knowing to what a blessed miracle he was contributing. For this noble deed he received an everlasting honor.

As was his custom of doing things in an orderly manner Christ bade the apostles to have the throng sit down upon the green grass in companies of hundreds and fifties. That arrangement prevented confusion and made it much easier to distribute the food to all without missing any. Taking the loaves and fishes, Christ blessed them and gave the food to the 12 and they in turn to the throng, until the hunger of all 5000 men and the unnumbered women and children was completely satisfied. When all had finished, 12 baskets full of food remained. Truly little is much when Christ is in it.

Life and Work Series PROCLAMATION IN WORSHIP

Scripturally taught and right thinking people know full well that unless church services are conducted in a spirit of reverence and all things are done decently and in order neither believers nor unbelievers can be helped as God wants them to be because the Holy Spirit will not be present to bless and empower them.

1 Corinthians 14:23-25 It is not surprising that because the gift of speaking in tongues attracted the attention of some and occasioned their applause, pride and haughtiness prevailed among those who exercised this gift. Of course this attitude dishonored and displeased the Lord. Speaking in tongues is not conducive to influencing unbelievers to become Christians but it frequently hardens them in their unbelief. As a means of touching and winning unbelievers to Christ the simple proclamation of the gospel of Christ is far superior to speaking in tongues that are unintelligible. Unless the spoken words can be understood without difficulty the labor spent in their delivery will be lost.

1 Corinthians 14:26-33a To prevent the "tongues-speaking" members at Corinth from contributing to confusion and bedlam instead of the worshipful atmosphere which is becoming and appropriate in the house of God, rules of order were laid down in these verses. Not more than three tongues-speakers were permitted to participate in any one service and then only if an interpreter were present. They were restricted to speaking one at a time with each being followed by an interpreter. In the absence of an interpreter those who had an urge to speak in an unintelligible tongue were commanded to remain silent.

Likewise if two or more prophets or preachers were present and had the desire to speak with intelligible words they too were required to do so in turns and never in unison. Their explanations of the scriptures were subject to the examination and judgment of the other members of the church.

1 Corinthians 14:39-40, Inasmuch as "God is not the author of confusion, but of peace," we have the timely admonition to "let all things be done decently and in order." Let us be careful to preach, teach or sing the scriptural truths in our worship services.

TAKE YOUR FRIEND TO CHURCH OR MEET HIM ON THE FRONT STEPS

He was my fellow minister many years ago at his Episcopal Church just down the street from our Baptist meeting House. We became good friends. He was a man of outstanding Christian virtue and attitudes. When he went to Heaven I had part in his funeral.

He asked me to take a thirty minute part in his Good Friday service.

I said, "Harold I'd be afraid to attempt it, I would feel clumsy in your setting. You folk tend to greater formality. I don't object, but our forms are different and I'm unfamiliar with yours. I might kneel at the wrong time, or fail to kneel when I should. I appreciate your desire for us to show this mutual spirit, but I would feel very insecure in the role."

"You don't have to worry about that," he said. "I could give you some simple minimal instructions and from there on you would need only to stand and sit by me and do what I do."

I have often thought about that. If I feared the strange environment of a different Christian fellowship, how much more insecure must a layman feel who is not accustomed to any Church? I fancy that many human sinners sometimes long to enter the Church at the hour of worship, but fear that they wouldn't know how to conduct themselves. For that matter, a strange Baptist in a new place can be pretty frightened—Baptist customs vary greatly.

We need to take our guests to Church. Pick them up and take them to their first meeting or two—like business and professional men take their colleagues to their service clubs and present them as guests, showing them around, introducing them to people, making them to feel at home in the new environment, inviting them to join the club. We must make appointments to bring our friends to Church, or at least meet them at the front steps and accompany them to the new House of God.

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." (Psalm 122:1)

At left, Franklin Owen [l], executive secretary-treasurer, Kentucky Baptist Convention, has been elected vice chairman of the Southern Baptist Convention's Stewardship Commission. He is shown with A. Rudolph Fagan, executive director of the commission.

At right, the Jewish rite of bar mitzvah marks a young boy's entrance into manhood at age 13. Baptist-Jewish Fellowship Week Apr. 12-18 is a time for Southern Baptists to become more aware of the presence of Jews in their midst, their traditions and common concerns. Through overtures of friendship Baptists can have a positive effect on the way Jews view Christianity.

Student, son die. A seminary student and his one-year-old son died in an early morning home fire in Ft. Worth, Tex. Mar. 12.

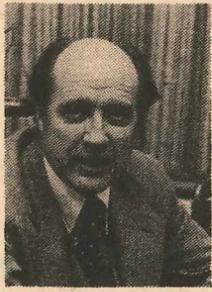

Frank (Andy) Malone, 27, a first year church music student at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, died in the 2 a.m. blaze when he went back into his burning rented house to try to save his youngest son, Daniel. Both were killed.

Malone, a 1976 graduate of the University of Oklahoma, had already accompanied his wife, Jessica, and sons Michael, 5, and Jeffrey, 4, out of the house.

Jessica works in computer services for the seminary.

HOMES FOR CHILDREN

Eldred M. Taylor, Executive Director
10801 Shelbyville Road, Middletown, KY 40243

Sunday, Mar. 14, was a happy day for the ministry of Kentucky Baptist Homes for Children. In the afternoon Baptists from Elizabethtown and the surrounding areas gathered on the highest ridge in Hardin County to celebrate the opening of our new Elizabethtown Temporary Shelter.

This temporary shelter is a lovely cottage located on 10 acres of rolling land three miles from Elizabethtown. The property was purchased from the directors of Boys Ranch, a group of local persons interested in boys.

Located next door to Tunnel Hill Baptist Church and in a beautiful open country setting, we are now ready to minister to boys needing a temporary shelter.

Houseparents Roger and Harriette Ball are settled into their apartment and ready to minister to the first boys. The cottage will house up to 10 boys and the houseparents. This is another indication of Baptists' caring ministry to youth based on current needs and moving our ministry closer to people. I am proud to be a part of this kind of ministry—a ministry that cares for some youth who might otherwise be placed in county jails. The youth to be served in our temporary shelter are not criminals. They haven't broken any law but simply have no place to go or stay. Without temporary shelters hundreds of youth in Kentucky this year will be placed in county jails for want of a better place. Such youth not only do not belong in jail but often are not properly separated from other prisoners.

Various circumstances beyond the control of youth cause them to need temporary shelter. The need may arise out of parental neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, abandonment, orphaned or the only parent may be hospitalized.

Our temporary shelter in Louisville serves girls; the new shelter at Elizabethtown will serve boys. In the next few months we hope to open our third such shelter at Dixon in western Kentucky. It will serve both boys and girls.

These facilities will not meet all the needs in Kentucky, but we are glad to be a part of helping as many hurting youths as we can.

CLEAR CREEK COMMENTS

ORDINARY PREACHER'S KIDS

Everyone knows Clear Creek Baptist School is a school for adults and our students have families. Have you wondered about these families? This week and in the coming weeks I want to tell you about some of our "preacher's kids."

About 10 years ago I met a couple of four-year-olds who have become like my own grandchildren. Little did I know then of the relationship that would come.

Both were from Tennessee; Chattanooga and Kingsport. Tom was a blonde haired male and Hannah a cute little brunette. Both their parents came to attend classes and the children were enrolled in the Children's Center as many of our youngsters are. I have been privileged to watch these two as both sets of parents joined our staff after a period of study.

Bob and Beth Wyatt are now directors of Clear Creek Alumni. She has served as my secretary for a number of years and when I announced my retirement she went to the News Services department. Bob is in charge of maintenance and serves a church in Clay County as pastor. Tommy has one brother, Robby, a Cumberland College student.

Tommy Holtzclaw, after completing his studies here, went to Southern Seminary and after graduation there came back to teach evangelism and missions at Clear Creek.

Mrs. Holtzclaw, Sandra, is secretary in the Admissions department that her husband is in charge of. They have four children, Hannah being the oldest.

I do not know of a harder working pair of youngsters. They are always devising ways to earn extra money and both worked diligently for several months to earn money for the trip to Israel our school made possible this month. Both are now 14 and ninth grade students at Bell County High School.

Will you keep the families of our students in your prayers and be looking for them when you come to visit? Give us a call when we can be of help to you.

BUSY PEOPLE

Last week I wrote of the boys' fencing foil team and its string of victories over the likes of Vanderbilt University, Virginia Tech, Miami University. Keep in mind that Oneida serves grades 6-12, yet is able to compete at college and university level.

In swimming, our boys' and girls' teams defeated Union College and our boys beat Berea College as they posted a 10-3 season record, and our girls a 5-8 season. In regional competition at Eastern Kentucky University, 12 of our swimmers qualified for the state. Senior Joe Beiter of Louisville ranked 8th in state competition in the 50-yard free style. He has been here three years as has Steve Hughes of Nicholasville who ranked 13th in the 24-team competition in breast stroke. Coach Rick Coffey is in his fourth year working with our swimming teams.

Our cross country team for boys had their best season ever and both our boys and girls' teams went to the state tournament for the first time as teams. Before we only had individuals to qualify, not the entire team. Both our teams were runners-up in regional tourneys. Ninth grader Teresa Poole of Nashville, in her second year at Oneida, was the girls' regional runner-up. Our cross country teams are coached by Larry Gritton.

Our soccer team coached by Rick Stephens, who joined our staff in 1974, had a season of seven wins, three ties and nine losses. Highlights of the season included a defeat of Lexington Catholic 1-0 and we tied defending state champ Tates Creek. Chosen all conference was Reza Kohan, a senior from Iran who has been with us four years and is also a standout in table tennis.

When our table tennis team plays, it is an international event. On our team are young people from: Japan, in the person of Kiyoma Kashwagi with us three years and tremendous on the piano; Khaled, an Arab young man from Yemen who came to us a Moslem but is now a baptized Christian who wants a Bible in his native Arabic (we are trying to get it for him); Iran with Reza) Thailand with Santi, here for the second year; Guatemala with Orlando, the bigger but younger brother of fencing stand-out Fernando; Brazil represented by Ethel Lessa of whom we wrote several weeks ago; and our American students, the best player of whom is Gary Rimer of Paris, also a fine basketball player.

This team is coached by Betty Bailey Rackley who graduated from Oneida in 1954 and is the wife of our pastor, Joel Rackley. The Rackleys are in their third year of service at Oneida. Mrs. Rackley teaches freshman English and Spanish.

All coaches are also full time teachers. No one at Oneida puts in an eight-hour day. The day averages about 12 hours.

Athletic director and boys varsity coach for nine years, Larry Gritton also coaches some of the junior basketball teams, cross country, and teaches French in which he majored at Georgetown.

Baseball coach is his nephew, Lynn Gritton, who teaches physical education and is in his fourth year. Softball coach is Kathy Wyrick, in her second year, and a teacher in our Special Help department.

Girls basketball coach Layna Cheesman is one of our math teachers. Soccer and track coach is Rick Stephens, in his 7th year. Rick Coffey is swim coach and teaches biology. Tennis coach Don Coleman Jr. teaches social studies. Fencing coach Barry Wyrick is also an English and speech teacher.
