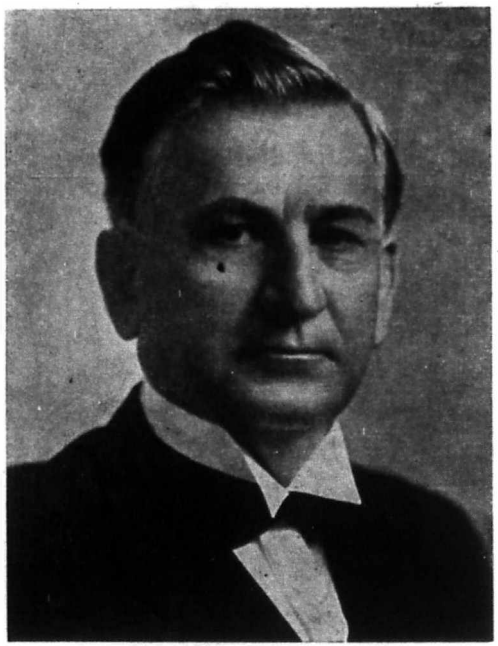
SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD OF THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION



HON. PAT M. NEFF
PRESIDENT OF THE CONVENTION

PRESIDENT PAT MORRIS NEFF

In May, 1942, the Southern Baptist Convention, while in session at San Antonio, Texas, unanimously elected President Pat M. Neff of Baylor University, to be its presiding officer and official leader for the next two years.

It was the sixth time in the ninety-eight years of its history that this great Convention, now numbering 5,667,826 souls in its membership, has turned to a distinguished layman for its presiding officer. And what a galaxy of great names are presented in this list of laymen who have presided over this Convention:

(1) Judge Jonathan Haralson of Alabama, 1859-1899.
(2) Governor W. J. Northen of Georgia, 1899-1902.
(3) Governor James P. Eagle of Arkansas, 1902-1905.
(4) Governor E. W. Stevens of Missouri, 1905-1908.
(5) Honorable Joshua Levering of Maryland, 1908-1911.
(6) Governor Pat M. Neff of Texas, 1942-1945.

And whether we consider scholarship or statesmanship, unshakable loyalty to one's convictions of truth or unashamed championship of the cause of righteousness; high Christian character or high achievements; great service to one's country or great service to one's church; striking and strong physical and mental endowments or the supreme power of personal influence; mastery of parliamentary usage as a good presiding officer or masterful leadership of his fellowmen, Governor Pat M. Neff is the equal of any one of the great laymen who has preceded him in this high office.

President Neff is a Texan of the Texans. Born and brought up at McGregor, Texas, a few miles west of Waco, his present home, he has lived all his wonderful and useful life in Texas. He holds the A.B. and A.M. degrees from Baylor University, Waco, which he has served as president since 1932. He received the LL.B. degree from the University of Texas at Austin in 1897; whereas Howard Payne College of Brownwood, Texas, and Austin College of Sherman, Texas, have both conferred the LL.D. degree upon him.

Following his graduation at college, he practiced law in Waco for four years, when he was sent to the state legislature of Texas. There he served as a member for two years and as speaker of the house for three years. In 1921-1925 he served as governor of Texas for two terms. Later for two years (1927-1929) he served as a member of the Mediation Board, and followed this by two years (1929-1931) of distinguished service as chairman of the Texas Railway Commission.

It was in the dark days of the great depression (1932) that Governor Neff, as he is familiarly known in Texas, was called to the presidency of Baylor University, where he had taken both his college degrees and where he had served as chairman of the board of trustees for twenty-five years.

And what changes he has wrought in the life and work of Baylor University during these ten difficult and titanic years! The story of his achievement, in freeing this great school of a crushing indebtedness, crowding its splendid campus with a half dozen new buildings, gathering in great sums of money for endowment and building up its student body to almost 3,000 and, in short, bringing in a new day for Baylor University and Baptist leadership in Texas—this is the crowning achievement of the wonderful life of the noble man, devoted Christian, and unsullied statesman whom Southern Baptists have asked to guide them into safe haven of 1944—the year of victory!

The meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention, scheduled for Memphis, Tennessee, May 12, 1943, was postponed on account of the limited travel and hotel facilities available and the definite request of the Government agency having charge of transportation; but if it shall please God for Southern Baptists to meet in the closing weeks of 1943 or to go over until May, 1944, for their next regular meeting, we shall count ourselves as highly honored that our great Convention can be presided over by such a man as Pat M. Neff.

INTRODUCTORY: THE CENTENNIAL CRUSADE OF 1945

In the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention at Atlanta, Georgia, May 16-18, 1944, it was determined to worthily celebrate the centennial year of the Convention's history (1) by carrying on a great Centennial Crusade throughout the whole year of 1945, and (2) by holding in the city of Atlanta a great and worthy Centennial meeting of the Convention May 8-13, 1945.

The Convention Deferred Indefinitely

Then came the sudden and unexpected action of the high Governmental officials at Washington, D. C., requesting the postponement of all conventions after February 1, 1945. Whereupon the Executive Committee of the Convention met in Nashville, February 6, and took the following action:

"At the request of the president, Louie D. Newton, Chairman of the Centennial Convention Committee, explained the object of this called session, and offered the following motion:

"'In view of the statements from Mr. Byrnes, Colonel Johnson, Senator George, and other governmental officials, and after conference with various officers of the Convention and many pastors and lay leaders, I move that the next regular session of the Southern Baptist Convention, scheduled to meet in Atlanta, Georgia, May 8-13, 1945, which marks the 100th anniversary of this historic body, be deferred, with the understanding, first, that such action is taken by the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention as our desire to co-operate with our Government in its expressed appeal of January 6, 1945; and, second, that the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention hereby requests the Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion and Director of the Office of Defense Transportation to notify this committee if, at any time during the year 1945, the Convention may be had without hindering the war effort; and, third, that the Executive Committee make a statement immediately to our people, explaining its reason for this action, and adopt such plans as may be found feasible and practicable in carrying forward the work of the Convention, including the Centennial Evangelistic Crusade and other special efforts in connection with the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Convention.'

"After discussion by George Ragland, Paul Caudill, J. T. Barbee, Mrs. F. W. Armstrong, C. W. Pope and Austin Crouch, the motion was unanimously carried."

The Centennial Crusade Goes On

Because of the postponement of the Convention meeting, it was determined to push the whole program of the Centennial Crusade all the more vigorously and continuously throughout the whole year of 1945. In particular, it was determined to call upon the 5,667,926 Southern Baptists to give their utmost strength and endeavors toward the attainment of the following seven objectives (see The Crusade Handbook page 48):

1. Evangelism. "Two Win One" or "One Win Two." This means pastoral, personal, protracted, perennial evangelism in every church with every member participating. A million more souls for Christ.

2. Education. "Every Baptist an intelligent Baptist." Religious training and family altars in the home; Sunday schools real schools; Bible study, Baptist history, principles, organization, and program taught. Study courses, mission schools, stewardship institutes provided; circulation of clean literature, religious books, state papers, and mission magazines promoted, and all Baptist Educational institutions patronized and strengthened. We want a million more taught of Christ.

3. Enlistment. "All our people in all our work." They should know about an intelligently, systematically, cheerfully, and adequately support all our work. The Co-operative Program is the plan whereby each person can share in the support of all denominational causes, state and southwide, while caring for his own church. It distributes to each cause in proportion to its relative need. We want a million more enlisted for Christ. Then we need many more ministers and missionaries to carry on and enlarge our work. "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest."

4. Rehabilitation. "Thou shall be called the repairer of the breach." War has wellnigh broken and bankrupted the world financially and morally. The only hope of a better world is in Christ. Our mission work has been critically hurt. On many fields our stations have been closed, our forces scattered, and our property destroyed. We need $5,000,000 to rehabilitate, strengthen and enlarge our Southern Baptist Convention work and we need to correspondingly strengthen and enlarge our work in the states. We must rebuild war's wreckage.

5. Stewardship. "Good Stewards of the manifold grace of God." Christian stewardship involves the giving of self, service, and substance to Christ. The Old Testament Jew was required to give a tithe of his income to his Lord. Surely no well informed, grateful Christian would do less for his Saviour. Let's work and pray for 1,000,000 Southern Baptist tithers.

6. Benevolence. "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfil the law of Christ." We must gladly and more liberally provide for underprivileged children, sick folk, and aged ministers, missionaries, and their dependent families. Let's do it through our orphanages, hospitals, and the Relief and Annuity Board.

7. Financial Objectives. "Honor the Lord with thy substance." We must more adequately care for the work in our home churches and for the increasing needs of our denominational work in the states and to the ends of the earth. We have set a goal of $10,000,000 for our southwide causes and a corresponding amount is needed for our state causes. If half our people would tithe their income we could more than meet this need, and wouldn't that be a glorious way to complete, celebrate, climax, and crown a century of Christian service for Christ.

The Southern Baptist Convention by resolution asked for not less than $5,000,000 this Centennial year for the postwar needs of its boards and agencies. This with the current needs approximates $10,000,000; this amount has been set as the Southwide goal for the Centennial year 1945.

On the assumption that our people in the several states would like to know what would be their proportionate part of this $10,000,000 Southwide Centennial goal if they contributed the same percentage to it that they contributed to the southwide cause in 1943, I give the following table:

SUGGESTED STATE QUOTAS FOR SOUTHWIDE CAUSES—1945

State	Amount to Southwide Causes 1943	Percentage to Southwide Causes 1943	Suggested Goals to Southwide Causes 1945
Alabama	$ 215,599.44	5.14%	$ 514,000
Arkansas	116,205.48	2.77%	277,000

California	3,056.47	0.07%	7,000
District of Columbia	20,018.10	0.48%	48,000
Florida	172,173.87	4.11%	411,000
Georgia	347,716.10	8.30%	830,000
Illinois	78,601.78	1.88%	188,000
Kentucky	340,994.64	8.14%	814,000
Louisiana	169,774.34	4.05%	405,000
Maryland	36,440.34	0.87%	87,000

New Mexico	34,845.87	0.83%	83,000
North Carolina	430,032.39	10.26%	1,026,000
Oklahoma	255,789.59	6.10%	610,000
South Carolina	240,262.22	5.73%	573,000
Tennessee	344,678.01	8.22%	822,000
Texas	622,273.51	14.85%	1,485,000
Virginia	340,462.40	8.12%	812,000
Total	$2,250,346.79	100 %	$10,000,000

Notes:

(1) The Southwide objective of $10,000,000 includes current, postwar, and capital needs of southwide causes.

(2) Co-operative receipts above $3,000,000 are to be counted on postwar goal.

(3) All receipts, co-operative and designated, including April Thank Offering are to be counted on total goal.

(4) Special gifts direct to causes are to be counted on total objective.

(5) Each state determines its own goal both state and southwide. The above goals are suggestive only.

Other Special Features of the Crusade

1. At the suggestion of Dr. M. E. Dodd, leader of the Evangelistic Crusade for a million souls for Christ in 1945, all pastors who had planned to attend the Convention are asked to give that week to an extra revival meeting, in their own churches or some other churches.

2. Then some one, I do not know who, offered the splendid suggestion that all churches which had planned to send their pastors and members to the Convention, give these Convention expense funds to missions and the other great causes of our Centennial Crusade. If this suggestion is acted on favorably by all our churches, it will add $750,000.00 to our Crusade funds.

3. Still another splendid suggestion has gone out from the Executive Committee to set aside Sunday, May 6, 1945, as a great Convention Day in all our churches. The Executive Committee is suggesting that the morning services in all our churches on this centennial day be given over to a brief review of our past one hundred years, and that the evening services be given over to a forward look to the future. Also it is being suggested that groups of churches come together on the afternoon of May 6 for a review of the achievements of Southern Baptists.

4. In the meantime, the Sunday School Board, at great expense, is providing cinemas of all the highlights of our one hundred years of history which can be shown to all our people in all our main churches.

5. Finally, this special issue of the Southern Baptist Handbook is coming out the first of May and is presenting all the seven lines of work which Southern Baptists have carried on for one hundred years.

Surely we have every reason to give the best that is within us for all the great causes of this Crusade, every day of this memorable year of 1945!

FOREWORD

The outstanding feature of the Centennial number of the Southern Baptist Handbook for 1945 is the historical survey which it carries, covering all the main lines of activity engaged in by Southern Baptists during the hundred years (1845-1945). In this survey section, for example, are seven chapters any one of which is worth the price of this Handbook. These chapters are as follows:

I. Organization, Problems and Achievements of the Convention, by the Editor.

II. One Hundred Years of Foreign Mission Achievements, by Dr. E. C. Routh, Editor of The Commission.

III. One Hundred Years of Home Mission Achievements, by the Editor.

IV. One Hundred Years of Evangelism, by the Editor.

V. One Hundred Years of Southern Baptist Sunday Schools, by the Editor.

VI. One Hundred Years of Christian Education, by the Editor and Dr. A. R. Bond, recently deceased.

VII. One Hundred Years of Baptist Journalism, by Dr. A. R. Bond, recently deceased.

In addition to this survey section there are two other large and important sections in the Centennial Handbook.

Part II, for example, carries the statistics of Southern Baptists and the Baptists of the United States and the world.

Part III carries that large and important section covering the Register and Directories of Southern Baptists.

In order to make the Handbook more serviceable to all the constituency we are publishing it May 1, 1945, instead of October 15 as heretofore.

CHAPTER I

THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

ORGANIZATION—PROBLEMS—ACHIEVEMENTS

By THE EDITOR

I. Organization of the Southern Baptist Convention

The Southern Baptist Convention was organized in the building of the First Baptist Church, Augusta, Georgia, May 8, 1845. There were present and participating in this organization some 321 representatives from the churches and societies of the following eight states: Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Kentucky, and the District of Columbia. They had come together in response to the call of the Virginia Baptist Foreign Mission Society, issued some months following the Memorial and Protest of the Alabama State Baptist Convention. As was natural under the circumstances, the largest groups of representatives were from Georgia and South Carolina.

Four main things led to the organization of the Southern Baptist Convention:

1. First of all, was the divisive agitation for the abolition of human slavery in America. It is quite impossible for any one living in 1944 to realize or to imagine the violence of men's feelings on the slavery issue in America in 1844. For the most part, reason and Christian consideration had both fled from the minds of men, North and South. The 13,000,000 whites in the North and West were so outraged by what they esteemed to be the unchristian and unbrotherly attitude of the 6,000,000 whites in the South who held 3,000,000 black people in slavery that they no longer attempted to treat Southern whites with any consideration, whether in Church or in State. The year 1844, accordingly, saw Northern Methodists and Northern Baptists and Northern Presbyterians come together and practically expel Southern Methodists, Southern Baptists, and Southern Presbyterians because of their attitude toward human slavery.

2. Southern Baptists, however, had one grievance in which Southern Methodists and Southern Presbyterians had no share—Southern Baptists, belonging to the most democratic organization in the world, were given no chance to be heard or even to cast a vote in the action which practically meant their expulsion from the Convention. The Board of Managers of the General Missionary Convention of the Baptist Denomination in America, in which all groups of regular Baptists were affiliated at the time, simply came together and passed a resolution that henceforth no person should be sent out as a foreign missionary who owned or held any interest in human slaves. This pre-emptory action on the part of the Board of Managers left Southern Baptists with the choice of repudiating the institution of human slavery or else getting out of the General Missionary Convention of America.

Such an action, on the part of the Board of Managers, was of course illegal, since it was taken in violation of both the spirit and the letter of the Constitution under which the Convention was then being operated, and since it was taken without any instructions from the Convention whatever. Southern Baptists also saw in this action of the Board of Managers a flat denial of all their basic rights in the Convention—especially their rights of being heard and having a vote in fixing the policies of their Convention—also a repudiation of the whole spirit of brotherhood and fellowship between Northern and Southern Baptists.

The State Convention of Alabama memorialized the Board of Managers to rescind the action which they had taken. Two other state conventions and several district associations also presented very definite protests against the action. When the Board of Managers positively refused to rescind or to modify their action, the Virginia Foreign Mission Society issued a formal address and called for the organization of a Southern Baptist Convention, at Augusta, Georgia.

3. "In the interest of peace." As the only way toward peace and harmony between the two Baptist groups in America, therefore, Southern Baptists decided to quietly withdraw from the Old Triennial Convention. When they came together at Augusta, Georgia, May 8, 1845, accordingly, their first action was to pass the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, That for the sake of peace and harmony, and in order to accomplish the greatest amount of good, and for the maintenance of those scriptural principles on which the General Missionary Convention of the Baptist denomination in the United States was originally formed, it is proper that the Convention at once proceed to organize a society for the propagation of the gospel."

4. "To accomplish the greatest amount of good." In addition, however, most of the leading Baptists of the South had already come to the conclusion that one great convention with headquarters at New York and Boston could neither understand nor minister to the needs of the people of the Southland. For the New York and Boston of that day were as far away from Memphis and Atlanta as these cities are now separated from London and Liverpool. Finding themselves separated from the headquarters of their Convention by two to three weeks overland travel, therefore, and also separated from the Northern Baptist leaders by the violent anti-slavery agitations of the time, Southern Baptist leaders saw no opportunity of giving the gospel to the new sections of the Southland, except by the organization of the Southern Baptist Convention.

II. The Threefold Purpose and Work of the Convention

Once Southern Baptists had a convention of their own, moreover, they boldly set their compass toward the three great lines of work laid down in the New Testament. It was said of Jesus, for example, that he "went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people" (Matthew 4:23). And, when he gave his final commission to his disciples, he said, "As my Father hath sent me, even so I send you" (John 20:21).

From the beginning, therefore, Southern Baptists followed the New Testament program of (1) doing missionary work in order to make disciples for Christ; (2) teaching and training the disciples in all the will and work of Christ, and (3) expressing, developing, and applying the great precepts and principles of the new life by building educational institutions and ministering to the poor and needy, the orphans and the desolate, the sick and suffering, the broken-down and aged ministers and their widows.

III. The Agencies and Institutions of the Convention

It is not to be imagined that all the agencies and institutions of the Southern Baptist Convention (17 altogether) came into existence in that first far-off year of 1845. On the contrary, some of the most vital and necessary agencies in the Southern Baptist Convention were the very last to be inaugurated. In the order of the time in which they were instituted, the following comprise the agencies and institutions of the Southern Baptist Convention in 1944:

The Foreign Mission Board (1845), 2037 Monument Avenue, Richmond 20, Virginia; Dr. M. T. Rankin, Executive Secretary.

The Home Mission Board (1845), 315 Red Rock Building, Atlanta, Georgia; Dr. J. B. Lawrence, Executive Secretary.

IV. Special Problems of the Convention

It is not generally known, even among Southern Baptists themselves, how many and how serious have been the perplexing problems which have confronted the Southern Baptist Convention at every step of its progress. Without attempting to discuss them at length, may we mention some of the more serious difficulties and problems which have beset Southern Baptists down the years?

1. Following the War of the Confederacy, unbelievable privations, poverty and sheer want enveloped and overwhelmed all the people of the South from 1865 on up to 1895. No one ever has or perhaps ever will be able to describe the utter devastation and ruin and wreck of all economic values of the South, and the utter privations, hardships, and sufferings which these losses entailed.

2. But the 5,182,684 defeated and despoiled, impoverished and suffering whites in the South had to join hands with the 262,003 free blacks in the South and try to help feed and clothe and give shelter to 3,953,696 recently freed slaves, and to actually keep them from starving and freezing to death. For Lincoln had freed the slaves as a war measure and left them without clothing, without shelter, without even one meal and without one dime of money—with nothing but their freedom!

3. The Reconstruction program of the victorious North (1865-1877) brought a threefold disaster upon the South. First, they swept down upon the disarmed, defeated and defenseless South and disfranchised them at the point of the bayonet. Next, they sent the recently freed slaves to the polls to elect Negro ex-slaves to all important offices in order that they might rule over the defenseless Southern whites. And, third, they brought in an army of Carpet-baggers and Scalluwags who preached undying hate into the hearts of the Negroes against the Southern whites.

4. Staggering interracial difficulties and misunderstandings. Thus it came to pass that Southern Baptists were called upon to pass through an unbroken and an unparalleled ordeal of racial antagonism, misunderstanding, and malice. They were thrust into an inescapable, unending and enveloping labyrinth of racial perplexity and opportunity. As no other group of Baptists in the world, they had placed before them a great fertile field of racial service where there were many immovable stones to be blasted out, much rubbish to be cleared away and many briars and thorns and thistles to be burned.

In 1940, there were 45,872,663 people in the bounds of the Southern Baptist Convention (Southeast and Southwest) of whom precisely 22 per cent or 10,092,529 were Negroes.

But the great work of giving the black man the Gospel has been going right on through all these years, in spite of all the misunderstanding and malice, all the perplexities and problems, all the deep-seated prejudices and antagonisms.

In 1845, for example, there were 130,000 Baptists among the 3,000,000 Negro slaves in the South—or one Baptist to every 16.7 Negroes who had reached the Gospel age (10 years old).

In 1860, when the War of the Confederacy broke upon the nation, there were 280,000 Baptists among the 4,000,000 Negro slaves soon to be freed—or one Baptist to every 12 Negroes of the Gospel age.

In 1880, at the close of the Reconstruction period, there were 741,694 Baptists among the 6,500,000 Negroes who had been given their freedom—or one Baptist to every 6.4 Negroes of the Gospel age.

In 1942, there were over 4,000,000 Baptists in a Negro population of approximately 13,000,000 in the nation (11,000,000 of them living in the bounds of the Southern Baptist Convention)—or one Baptist to every 3 persons in the Negro population of all ages—a record which has no parallel.

5. The low income of Southern white people, to say nothing of the Negroes, since 1877, has imposed unbelievable hardships and handicaps upon the work of Southern Baptists. And this terrible glacier of poverty is still moving very slowly and pressing down very heavily upon the people of the South. To illustrate: While the nation as a whole, in 1939, had a per capita income of $515, and Massachusetts had $650 per capita income, Arkansas had but $216 per capita income! While New Jersey, in 1939, had a per capita income of $647, Georgia had but $279 per capita income! While Ohio had $577 per capita income in 1939. Kentucky had but $306 per capita income! And, while New York had $822 per capita income, in 1939, Oklahoma had only $314 per capita income!

6. The scant educational advantages of the masses in the South and Southwest have improved steadily since 1890, but are still pitiable. Even in pre-Civil War times, educational advantages for the poor whites in the South were almost non-existent; whereas after the Civil War and the terrible Reconstruction, most of the private institutions of learning simply disappeared; and there were no taxable values on which to predicate an adequate system of public education. Neither can the taxable values of the property nor the income of the people in these sections today provide adequately for the masses. The white children of the Southeast and the Southwest, to say nothing of the poor Negro children, have but little more than half the public school advantages afforded the children of the average community in the North and West. And it was of sheer necessity and not of choice at all, that Mississippi spent only $24.48 per pupil on her public schools in 1940, while New York provided the munificent sum of $135.16 per pupil on her public schools—or more than five times that of Mississippi.

7. Large backward mountain sections, larger than the combined areas of Missouri and Oklahoma, have greatly impeded the progress of Southern Baptists. These two great mountain sections of the Southeast and the Southwest comprise (1) the Southern Appalachian Mountains, embracing 178 counties in seven of the Southeastern states with an area of some 76,000 square miles and a population of 5,700,000 souls; and (2) the Ozark Mountains, embracing some 55,000 square miles of southwest Missouri, northwest and western Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma, and having a population of almost 2,000,000 souls. There are three distinct groups in the 7,700,000 persons in these two great mountain areas—about 40 per cent or 3,000,000 of this group are among the most progressive people of the South or the Southwest; while some 30 per cent are perhaps the average rural and village people of the foothills sections; whereas the other 30 per cent or 2,310,000 souls are the very poor and very backward "cabin" people of the mountains proper.

In 1920, some 700,000 of these 2,310,000 "cabin" people were unable to read or write. One-fourth of the children did not attend school at all; and the other three-fourths had school terms lasting only 112 days in the year, and paid their teachers an average of $237. Less than $5.00 per pupil was spent on public education among these people, and the average 20-year-old youth had not completed what we regard as the fourth grade in our city schools. Almost completely isolated from the world and cursed with ignorance, moonshine whiskey and "Hardshell" or holy roller religion, these purest Anglo-Saxon people in the world have been largely left stranded in their mountain island homes for one hundred and fifty years or more.

8. Anti-Mission groups and trends in the Southeast and Southwest. The early "Hardshell" or anti-mission movement originated and flourished here in the Southland (1820-1845) and moved westward with the population. The organization of the Southern Baptist Convention, in 1845, moreover, did not eliminate it. On the contrary, the aggressive mission program outlined and followed by Southern Baptists from 1845 to 1860 served rather to call out and to sharpen the antagonism of these anti-mission groups. And, once the War Between the States was over and Southern Baptists sought again to take up the task of giving the Gospel to all the people, they were confronted by various critical, anti-mission groups and trends within the denomination itself. Some of these trends finally crystallized into the Landmark movement in 1902, and broke completely with Southern Baptists in 1907, organizing the American Baptist Association with headquarters at Texarkana, Arkansas. Unfortunately, however, this split-off of Landmark Baptists did not stop the anti-mission trends and undercurrents within the Southern Baptist Convention. For as late as 1926, it was ascertained by a definite survey that, while 17,468 churches (70.5%) made gifts to one or more of the mission causes fostered by Southern Baptists, there were 7,306 churches (29.5%) which gave absolutely nothing to missions in any form! And, while this record has improved with the years, it was ascertained in 1942, that precisely 4,369 churches (17%) were still giving absolutely nothing to missions—not even a dime to the Orphan Homes.

9. Extreme conservatism and unreasonable fear of centralization. Still another thing which has wrought real harm and hurt to the progress of the Southern Baptist Convention has been the extreme conservatism of its leaders and, in particular, their ever-present fear of "centralization." If Article III of the Constitution of the Convention, for example, had been changed in 1900, precisely as it was changed at Louisville in 1927, the great split-off of the Association Baptists in 1902-1907 would never have taken place, and the Southwest would have been today the greatest Baptist center on earth. Moreover, this same extreme conservatism made Southern Baptist leaders, for 82 long years, perfectly willing to have executive committees in all their district associations, and in all their state conventions and gladly willing to serve on such executive committees themselves, but ready to cry out in holy fear of "centralization" every time anyone pointed out the imperative need of a real executive committee for the Convention. We doubt if anyone now living can estimate the loss which the Convention sustained through those 82 years by reason of its overlapping, conflicting and confusing actions, its lack of internal unity along needed lines, its bewildering system or lack of system of bookkeeping and record-keeping; and its inability to remain out of debt very long—all because it did not have an effective and efficient executive committee.

10. The large number of backward and undeveloped rural churches. It is not generally known that Southern Baptist churches are composed of two main groups—a small group of 2,667 well developed, urban churches (10.8%) with 2,000,000 members; and a large group of 23,143 rural churches (89.7%) with 3,500,000 members; and that while these rural churches have improved through the years, perhaps 60 per cent of this great host of rural churches are still largely undeveloped and in desperate need.

11. The long hesitation of Southern Baptists in assuming a Big Brother's share in the burdens of Negro Baptists. If God ever gave Southern Baptists a definite call and commission to serve any race anywhere on earth, he commissioned them to stand by and help their brothers in black right here in the South. Southern Baptists wrought a great work of grace among the 3,000,000 Negro slaves from 1845 to 1860, and they did not altogether give up this holy task during the War Between the States and the Reconstruction (1860-1877). But, due to the leadership in this work assumed by Northern Baptists (1865 onward) and the strained feelings and changed attitudes of the Negroes themselves following the War, and particularly due to the dire poverty and desolation of all the estates of Southern Baptists for the 30 years of their recovery period (1865-1895), Southern Baptists have largely held aloof from Negro educational work and allowed the Home Board to assume a very meagre and unworthy share of the burdens of the National Baptist Convention for all these years. Why is there any further hesitation in helping a race which needs everything? There are more needy Negro Baptists in the one state of Mississippi, not to mention Georgia or the Carolinas or Texas, and more needy Negro churches and pastors, in this one state than can be found in all Africa, all Latin America and in all the islands of the sea. And what are Southern Baptists doing for them?

Surely, surely the great Southern Baptist Convention now out of debt and with 5,600,000 church members, is not going on, playing with this great task! The 4,000,000 Negro Baptists, with some 3,000,000 of them right here in the South, should have a Big Brother's generous and ungrudging share, not a mere "handout" such as they are being given at this time!

12. The stumbling attempt of the Convention to get along without the Co-operative Program for 80 years. Nothing has hindered the fellowship and the life and work and the progress of Southern Baptists, through the years as has its failure to pause and work out and put into successful operation a great, all-inclusive co-operative program. And nothing has done more to cure all the ills of this Convention than the adoption of such a co-operative program in 1926, and the finding of a way to successfully operate this co-operative program in 1935. Every step of the way since 1935 has been marked by easier and greater progress in all lines of Convention work.

13. The large and growing numbers of unenlisted Southern Baptists, since 1907 in particular, have been a perplexing problem. In 1871, when the recently freed Christian slaves had left the white churches and gone into churches of their own race, Southern Baptists discovered that they had left 1,054,016 church members, but almost no organized life or work and no resources. Then followed 36 years of indescribable toil and heartaches and hardships, coming up to 1907 when Southern Baptists numbered 2,066,080. But since 1907 new members have been coming into Southern Baptist churches much faster than they have been enlisted and trained. And since 1920 in particular, Southern Baptists have been gaining new church members twice as fast as the Sunday schools, Training Unions, and the W.M.U. organizations have been able to enlist and train them. So that in 1944, Southern Baptists had over 5,600,000 church members, but fewer than 3,500,000 were enrolled in Sunday School, and only 800,000 were in the Training Unions and 750,000 in the W.M.U. organizations.

V. Some Outstanding Achievements of the Convention

In spite of all the difficulties encountered along the way Southern Baptists have not only made great progress along several lines, but they have achieved some very high distinctions. A few of the better known distinctions are mentioned here:

(1) In a population of 46,500,000 in the Southland, one out of every 8.2 persons is affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention—and one out of every 4.6 persons is a Baptist, white or colored. In Northern Baptist Convention territory there are 88,500,000 of people, but only one Baptist to every 57.5 persons in the population. In Canada, where the population is 11,420,000, there is but one Baptist to every 31.9 persons in the population. And in England, where the population is 47,755,000 (or about a million more than we have here in the Southland) there is only one Baptist to every 123.7 persons in the population.

(2) Southern Baptists have led the way and helped all the way in evangelizing the Negro people, almost one out of every three of whom is a Baptist.

(3) Taking the Southland as a whole (Southeastern and Southwestern states), there were in 1940, 21,500,000 church members as follows: 400,000 Jews; 3,300,000 Roman Catholics; 8,100,000 Protestants, and 9,700,000 Baptists, white and colored—a situation which does not exist anywhere else on earth.

(4) For some years, Southern Baptists have been the largest single group of Baptists in the world, numbering in 1943, 5,493,027, and in 1944, over 5,600,000, or more than a million more than Negro Baptists and perhaps a million more than Russian Baptists, though there have been no official statistics from Russia since 1918.

(5) From 1916 to 1941, Southern Baptist Sunday schools made a net gain in enrolment of 1,727,300 for the 25 years. This is a half million more enrolment gains than were made by the Sunday schools of the nine largest denominations in America combined! Since 1941, because of the war, the Sunday schools have not done so well.

(6) Southern Baptists have the greatest rural church constituency of any religious body in the world—23,143 churches and approximately 3,500,000 church members. Only about 40 per cent of these rural churches are properly developed.

(7) It is believed that Southern Baptists now have the largest single group of young church members in systematic training for efficient church service to be found in America or the world. Leaving out the 9,034 Adult Unions with 160,912 enrolled, the various grades of young people's unions in 1940 showed 40,355 organized groups and 713,879 young church members in systematic training.

(8) The Sunday School Board at Nashville, Tennessee, is the publishing board of the Southern Baptist Convention, but without receiving one cent of subsidy or gift or bequest it has, in its first fifty-three years of history, given back to the denomination over $11,400,000! Its business receipts rose to more than $3,800,000 in 1943.

(9) Southern Baptists maintain four great theological schools with 1,869 young ministers enrolled last year, during war times, but the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky, has for some years been the largest school of its type in America, having 538 young ministers enrolled last year, in spite of war conditions.

(10) Southern Baptists are quite proud of the Woman's Missionary Union, auxiliary to the Convention, which has almost 89,000 organizations and gave to missions and benevolences in 1943 the stupendous sum of $4,673,455, or almost $90,000 every week.

(11) In 1928, the Home Mission Board of Atlanta, Georgia, found itself loaded with approximately $1,650,000 indebtedness and then discovered that its own treasurer had stolen $908,000 additional from its funds! But by May 12, 1943, this Board had paid every dollar of this appalling indebtedness of $2,500,000, and every penny of the staggering interest charges and had saved all the great work of this Board—except its mountain schools.

(12) In 1943, the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention (the Southeastern and Southwestern states) embraced 46,400,000 persons as follows:

21,500,000 church members, all faiths.
24,900,000 unreached by any church.
(4,980,000 of the unreached were children under 10).

Of the 21,500,000 church members:

(1) 3,300,000 were Roman Catholics.
(2) 9,700,000 were Baptists white and colored.
(3) 8,100,000 were Protestants.
(4) 400,000 were Jews.

In all that they have done, Southern Baptists have stood by the Bible as the Word of God and preached the Gospel without compromise and without apology.

CHAPTER II

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF FOREIGN MISSION ACHIEVEMENTS

By E. C. Routh, Editor THE COMMISSION

Adoniram Judson

The participation of American Baptists in Foreign Mission endeavor dates back to May, 1814, when the General Convention of the Baptist Denomination in the United States was formed in Philadelphia. Adoniram Judson had sailed to India in 1812 as a missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, the Congregational Foreign Mission Agency. Knowing that they would meet Carey and other Baptist missionaries, he and his wife studied the Greek New Testament on the four months' voyage. After reaching India, Mr. and Mrs. Judson were convinced that the Baptist position was Scriptural and were baptized by William Ward. Judson mailed his resignation to the American Board and wrote to a Baptist pastor in Boston, relating his experience and advising him: "Should there be founded a Baptist Society for the support of a missionary in these parts, I shall be ready to consider myself their missionary."

Luther Rice

Luther Rice, who went to India the same year, under appointment of the American Board, had a similar experience. After much prayer and consultation with the Judsons, he returned to America to enlist American Baptists in a foregin mission undertaking assuming particularly the support of the Judsons who were opening missionary work in Burma. Luther Rice was unmarried and was free to go afield. He found American Baptists ready and eager for such a missionary opportunity. The new Baptist Convention which became known as the Triennial Convention, since it met every three years, assumed the support of the Judsons. Through the Convention, as its special agent or field secretary, through the Columbian Star which he had established as a missionary periodical, through Columbian College founded by Rice and his associates, and through prodigious missionary labors on the field, Luther Rice did more than any other man to create and strengthen the militant missionary spirit of American Baptists.

Organization of Southern Baptist Convention

As early as 1840 some differences of opinion concerning slavery were manifest, and preambles and resolutions were adopted both North and South. Finally an inquiry was addressed to the Boston Board by a committee of the Alabama Baptist State Convention whether slaveholders were eligible for appointment as missionaries. The Board of the Triennial Convention ruled: "If anyone who shall offer himself for a missionary, having slaves, should insist on retaining them as his property, they could not appoint him." Before the question of slavery was raised, there was no serious discord between them. In the statement issued by Southern Baptists at Augusta in 1845 are these words concerning their purpose: "The Constitution we adopt is precisely that of the original union; that in connection with which, throughout his missionary life, Adoniram Judson has lived and under which Ann Judson and Boardman have died; we recede from it no single step."

Concerning the division, Dr. E. F. Merriam, for some time editor of The Baptist Missionary Magazine, published by the American Baptist Missionary Union, wrote years later: "While division, in itself and for many reasons, was to be deplored, the missionary cause suffered no injury, but was rather advanced by the separation. The distance of the Southern States from the headquarters of the Acting Board of the General Convention in Boston, caused the general interest of the churches in the South in the conduct of the Board, to be of the weakest character . . . By the separation of the missionary activities of the Northern and Southern Baptists the responsibility of both was increased." We may add that one of the contributing causes of the division was the impression in the South that, because of the remoteness of the Boston Board, mission work in the South was neglected.

"Pursuant to a call of the Virginia Foreign Baptist Mission Society, responded to by various other bodies, a large number of delegates assembled [May 8, 1845] in the meeting house of the Baptist Church in Augusta, Georgia . . . By request, Dr. J. B. Jeter gave a short statement of the proceedings of the General Board of the Baptist General Convention, at its late meeting in Providence, Rhode Island, which meeting he, with some other Brethren from Virginia, Maryland, and Georgia had attended." Rev. Wm. B. Johnson of South Carolina was then elected president of the new Convention; Hon. W. Lumpkin of Georgia, and Rev. J. B. Taylor of Virginia were elected vice-president; Jesse Hartwell and James C. Crane, were made secretaries.

After reciting some of the circumstances which led to this organization meeting in Augusta, among which were divergent views on the question of slavery, the following resolution was passed: "Resolved, that for peace and harmony, and in order to accomplish the greatest amount of good, and for the maintenance of those Scriptural principles on which the General Missionary Convention of the Baptist Denomination of the United States was originally formed, it is proper that this Convention at once proceed to organize a Society for the proclamation of the Gospel."

Foreign Mission Board

After the appointment of a committee to prepare an address to the public, setting forth the reasons which led to the formation of the Southern Baptist Convention, and giving an exposition of its principles and objects, the new Convention voted to appoint a Board of Managers for Foreign Missions, and also a Board of Domestic Missions. A committee was named to nominate the members of such Boards. Richmond was designated as the location of the Foreign Mission Board; Marion, Alabama, of the Home or Domestic Mission Board. The following brethren constituted the first Board of Managers for Foreign Missions: Jeremiah B. Jeter, Virginia; E. Ball, Virginia; W. Crane, Maryland; R. Fuller, South Carolina; B. M. Sanders, Georgia; E. Kingsford, Washington, D. C.; J. T. Hinton, Louisiana; T. Meredith, North Carolina; H. Malcolm, Kentucky; C. K. Winston, Tennessee; T. G. Blewit, Mississippi; W. H. Bayless, Arkansas; B. Manly, Alabama; J. McDonald, Florida; R. Hughes, Missouri; C. D. Mallory; M. T. Sumner; Arch'd Thomas; Cha's T. Wortham; A. B. Smith, R. Ryland; A. Snead; A. G. Wortham; W. H. Jordan; H. Keeling; J. Thomas, Jr.; J. Sneed; A. Fleet; Th. Hume; E. L. Magoon; Wm. H. Gwathmey; W. A. Baynham; J. Tallman, Sr.; T. W. Sydnor.

The Foreign Mission Board held its first meeting in Augusta, May 12, attended by Brethren Jeter, Taylor, Dagg, Johnson, Smith, Hartwell, Hinton, Sydnor, Hume, and Sumner, and voted to request the President of the Southern Baptist Convention, Dr. William B. Jonnson, "to make a tour of the churches in behalf of the Foreign Mission enterprize and that an appropriation at the rate of six hundred dollars per annum with traveling expenses be paid for such time, as the President may be able to direct to this object."

On May 20, a second meeting of the Board was held in Richmond. The new board was named the "Board of Foreign Missions of the Southern Baptist Convention." A committee was appointed "to report [on] an organ of publications for the Board."

A committee was appointed to correspond with the Boston Board [The General Convention of the Baptist Denomination of the United States] relative to the financial relation of the Triennial Convention and the equitable division of missionary labor. At this same meeting a committee was appointed to report on an organ of publication for the board.

Steps were taken to secure a Corresponding Secretary. During the year the position was offered to five brethren, each of whom declined. Finally, Dr. J. B. Taylor was elected Corresponding Secretary. He, too, declined, but agreed temporarily to give two days a week to the Board, until a Corresponding Secretary could be secured, and to make a trip through the South in the interest of the Foreign Mission Board. He made the trip and when he returned, the cause of Foreign Missions had been laid so heavily on his heart by the Spirit of God, that, in June, 1845, he accepted the Secretaryship for full time and resigned as pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, Richmond. Further on in this story will be given a brief sketch of Dr. Taylor, also sketches of his successors in that office.

First Missionaries—China

At the third meeting, June 30, 1845, the Board determined, "with as little delay as possible, to establish missions in the free ports of China or such of them as may be scheduled for the purpose." Samuel C. Clopton was appointed missionary, September 1, 1845, and George Pearcy was appointed November 3 of the same year; both sailed early next summer. J. Lewis Shuck who, in response to the appeal of Luther Rice, had gone to China in 1835 with his young wife, Henrietta Hall Shuck, had returned to this country in 1846 with his motherless children. He was available for appointment by the Southern Board and returned to China in 1847, as a missionary of our Board. He was assigned to Shanghai with Matthew T. Yates, and T. W. Tobey as his associates. He and I. J. Roberts, who had labored in China, first at Macao, then at Hongkong, and had started a mission at Canton in 1844, were appointed March 27, 1846. Roberts was to be located at Canton. Yates, Tobey, and F. C. Johnson were appointed August 4, 1846, to labor in China. Yong Seen Sang was appointed as a layman evangelist to his own people in China.

Reference to Matthew Yates reminds us that when Dr. J. H. Taylor started on his trip through the South he wrote from Wake Forest, North Carolina:

"It was found important that I should remain at the college two days, as a young brother is there who in all probability will be engaged as one of our missionaries. His name is Yates. I am much pleased with him, and cannot but hope the Lord intends him for eminent usefulness. His college studies will close in June. He seems now determined to spend his life among the heathen. The professors all speak well of him, and think him in many respects eminently qualified for the work. I had several interviews with him."

The North China Mission, Shantung Province, was opened in 1860 with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Holmes and Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Hartwell as the pioneers. Dr. R. H. Graves had gone out to Canton in 1856. Dr. Hartwell baptized the first man won to Christ in Shantung Province.

Africa

Africa was the next field to be entered. In the report of the Committee on the African Mission presented to the 1846 Convention, which met in Richmond, were these words: "Twenty-five years ago, a little church of only seven members, with Lott Carey as pastor, was organized in an upper room of a private dwelling in this city. That church is now the First Baptist Church in Monrovia." Interest in mission work in Africa goes back to 1815 when the Richmond Baptist Missionary Society was originated, "with a view solely of missions in Africa." The American Baptist Missionary Union maintained its own work in Western Africa until 1856 when the Northern Board withdrew from Liberia. In the meantime a number of the missionaries, exercised the option given them of associating themselves with the Southern Board. Rev. John Day and Rev. A. L. Jones were appointed by the Southern Board, September 7, 1846, to be located at Grand Bassa on the West Coast. John Day, a native of Virginia, had gone out to Liberia in 1830 as a missionary of the Triennial Convention. Within the next eighteen months four other missionaries were appointed to labor in Western Africa. One of the outstanding missionaries on the West Coast was Rev. J. M. Harden, who was appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in December, 1850, and was transferred from Liberia to Nigeria in 1856.

The first Southern Baptist missionary to enter Nigeria was Rev. T. J. Bowen who was appointed by the Board, February 22, 1849, and went out in 1850. The first city in Nigeria to open its doors was Abeokuta. The Church Missionary Society and the Wesleyan Society of England had missionaries at Badagry and Abeokuta. The story of Bowen's life is told in Builders of a New Africa. Additional missionaries were sent to Nigeria in 1853. Nigeria was considered a more strategic highway to the vast interior Sudan region. In 1875 the Liberian mission of Southern Baptists was closed and the missionary base was changed to Nigeria. Through the dark days of the War Between the States and the Reconstruction Days, Moses L. Stone and Mrs. J. M. Harden, (Mr. Harden died in 1864) held our work together. In 1874, W. J. David went out from Mississippi and laid enduring foundations for missionary progress in Nigeria.

Japan

In the 1859 report of the Foreign Mission Board, the year that the first Christian Missionaries to Japan were sent out, but thirty years before Southern Baptists had any missionaries in Japan, was this heart searching challenge written by Basil Manly, chairman of the Committee: "Today Japan—the impenetrable Japan—is more accessible to the Christian missionary than China was a dozen years ago. When Mr. Seyle, one of the American Episcopal missionaries, visited Japan, the governor of Nagasaki invited him to come there and reside and teach their boys—offering to put six young men under his charge for instruction. Mr. Seyle replied that he could not think of it unless he might teach them and others Christianity. The governor told him he might do so and urged him to come, promising to provide him a house if he would consent. This was at Nagasaki, where but a few years ago if a sailor chanced to be shipwrecked and cast ashore, he was made to trample under feet a cross made in the pavement with earthen tiles as a token of his contempt for Christianity; and if he refused, he was dragged violently over it as the only condition on which he would be allowed to live."

Two missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. L. Rohrer, appointed as missionaries by the Foregin Mission Board to Japan, sailed from New York on August 3, 1860, but their boat was never heard from again. It was October 18, 1889, before Southern Baptist missionaries entered Japan.

Trials of War and Reconstruction Period

For twenty years, 1860-79, the Foreign Mission Board passed through the severest tests of its existence. In 1861 the Board reported diminished receipts but there was a balance of $4,990.39. The Southern Baptist Convention met in Augusta, May 8, 1863. On the fourth day of the meeting the announcement was made of the death of Stonewall Jackson. On account of the war and consequent lack of funds, Rev. A. M. Poindexter, who had been Associate Corresponding Secretary of the Board since 1853 with Dr. J. B. Taylor, retired to his farm and gave his attention mainly to secular affairs. Dr. Taylor was employed part of the time as colporter among the hospitals in the employ of the Virginia Sunday School and Publication Board, and afterwards as Chaplain in Richmond, ministering to thousands of sick and wounded soldiers. We read in the report of the Board: "The history of our missions has been sorrowfully eventful within two years, in the loss of valuable lives, and, on the other hand, we are permitted to record the Divine favor in the large success of several of our missionary stations." Practically no funds were sent to the foreign fields. The experiences of Dr. Yates in Shanghai during the dark days were typical of others. God opened to him other means of support and he continued to witness for his Lord. However, several bills of exchange were made available through Dr. G. W. Burton, medical missionary who had funds in Shanghai.

The Convention was unable to meet in 1865 but convened in 1866 in Russellville, Kentucky. The Baltimore brethren and Kentucky Baptists, also Missouri Baptists, had responded nobly to the appeal for cash to enable the Board to continue its operations. Southern Baptists will be interested to learn that in those dark days the London Missionary Society made a generous appropriation of about five hundred dollars "to be returned or not, as the future condition of the Board may determine." The Foreign Mission Board was compelled to charge to "Profit and Loss," $20,677.73 which represented Confederate Bonds, etc., and the fiscal year beginning April 3, 1865, found the treasurer with no available funds. One of the most courageous declarations ever made by the Foreign Mission Board is found in the closing paragraphs of the first post-war Convention:

"Resolved, That in view of the Divine care of our missionaries during the last four years of frightful war, we are under renewed obligations to cherish an humble, grateful spirit, and to prosecute our work with renewed diligence.

"Resolved, That in the prosecution of our foreign missionary enterprise, the Board regards itself as called upon, not only to sustain the missionaries already in the field, but to reinforce our different missions at the earliest practicable period."

In response to that challenge the Convention voted, "We can discern but one command; we realize but one trust; we are burdened with but one duty; we feel but one desire; in this work—Go Forward; through God we will obey. His Power will open the way whilst our feet are laved by the unparted waters. Resolved, that our Board of Foreign Missions be instructed to preserve our missions now in operation so far as they may find it practicable in the providence of God, and prepare for such future extension of operations as may seem desirable and possible."

Italy

God soon opened another field to Southern Baptists. The 1870 Convention, meeting in Louisville, urged the Foreign Mission Board, as soon as the necessary funds could be provided to enlarge the operations and appoint additional missionaries in Asia and Europe. Special emphasis was placed on ever-enlarging opportunities in Papal lands. Italy, Spain, Mexico, Germany, and Iceland were named as open fields. The Foreign Mission Board voted at the June 18 meeting that year to establish a mission in Southern Europe to be located at Marseilles, or Milan, or such other point as might be considered the most advisable; and that Dr. Wm. Cote of Paris be appointed as a missionary of the Southern Baptist Convention. On September 23, the same year, the army of Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy, entered Rome, and freedom for missionary work was assured. Dr. Cote was the first evangelical missionary to enter Rome in modern times. In January, 1871, Dr. John A. Broadus wrote from Rome commending the work being done there. In March, 1873, George Boardman Taylor, son of the sainted James B. Taylor, was appointed missionary to Italy.

Secretary James B. Taylor—June, 1846-December, 1871

James B. Taylor was born in Northeast England, March, 1804. The next year the parents with their little son emigrated to America. At that time the father was not a Christian, but two years later he found Christ during the service at a Baptist Church in New York City, which his little son had induced him to enter when they were on a walk and heard the music. The mother was a member of the Church of England, but was ignorant of experimental religion. The parents professed Christ and were baptized into the fellowship of the First Baptist Church, New York. In his thirteenth year, the son professed Christ, and was likewise baptized into the fellowship of the church to which his parents belonged.

In 1817 his father moved to Virginia and settled in the county of Mecklenburg. Later he moved to Clarksville, where he was for many years senior deacon of the Baptist Church. In 1824, James B. Taylor was formally licensed to preach the Gospel. At a meeting of the General Association in 1826, he met Luther Rice. The Board, at that meeting, commissioned several missionaries, among whom was young Taylor. He was ordained May 2, 1826. He was called as pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Richmond that same year, his ministry with that church beginning in October. He had rare gifts as a pastor. Dr. John A. Broadus said, years later, that Pastor Taylor possessed the somewhat rare talent for making "short and profitable" religious visits. He strove constantly to circulate the Religious Herald, tracts, and good books among his people and sent many subscriptions to the missionary publications of the Boston Board, thus increasing their knowledge and stimulating their interest in Kingdom affairs. During the first six months with this church there were sixty additions by baptism.

On October 30, 1828, Pastor Taylor was married to Miss Mary Williams of Beverly, Massachusetts, the daughter of a Revolutionary soldier who was subsequently a Baptist preacher. For forty-three years she worked by his side, proving herself a true helpmeet. He and his wife were economical and carefully avoided debt. "I have determined to owe no man anything, if I have to make one room my dwelling, be my own servant, and live on crackers and milk."

In 1830, he and his intimate friend, Dr. J. B. Jeter, who years later was to serve a long time as president of the Foreign Mission Board, led in the formation of the Virginia Baptist Educational Society, which was to culminate in the founding of Virginia Baptist Seminary (later Richmond College). His church was for years among the most liberal contributors in the land to foreign missions. With many other missionary-minded leaders of that day, he had to combat the teachings of Alexander Campbell and his associates. Believing in foreign missions, in Christian schools, in missionary literature, and in Scriptural stewardship, he was equipped to lead Southern Baptists later in their new foreign missions enterprise.

Passing by his brief term as Chaplain of the University of Virginia, and as pastor of the Third Baptist Church, Richmond, we come to the time of his election as the first Corresponding Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, June, 1846.

Dr. J. B. Taylor was happy in his pastoral relations with the Grace Baptist Church, Richmond, when he was urged to accept the secretaryship of the Foreign Mission Board. For days he was unsettled and perturbed with respect to his duty. Finally he made known his decision to remain with his church, but agreed to give two days a week to the service of the Board and make a tour of the South in behalf of Foreign Missions. Just before leaving on that trip he had the joyful privilege of seeing Adoniram Judson who visited Richmond while on furlough. Dr. Taylor, in his letters to his wife and in his diary, records some of the impressions of that trip, Raleigh, Columbia, Augusta, Penfield, Macon, Columbus, Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Memphis, Cairo, Louisville, and Richmond. All the way the conviction was deepening that he should give his life to the Foreign Mission enterprise and by the time the Convention met in Richmond in June that year the path of God's will was clear; for twenty-six years he labored diligently and faithfully as the Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board. For nearly fourteen years, without interfering with his duties as secretary, he served as stated supply, twice a month, for the Taylorsville Church, an hour's ride by rail from Richmond. One of the homes in that community that was especially hospitable was the mansion of Richard Gwathmey, father of W. H. Gwathmey, for more than a third of a century Recording Secretary of the Board. In the intervals between frequent and long journeys he carried on an extensive correspondence and did much editorial work for the missionary periodicals published by the Board. From 1853 to the early days of the War Between the States, he was reinforced by Dr. A. M. Poindexter, Associate Secretary. During the dark days of that struggle when communication with the missionaries was almost cut off and the Confederate currency became so depreciated as to have little value he devoted much of his time, with the consent of the Board, to labor in military camps and hospitals and served nearly three years as Confederate post Chaplain. For three years, from 1863 to 1866, the Southern Baptist Convention did not meet. Through the trials of War and Reconstruction, Dr. Taylor was enabled by the grace of God, to keep intact the missionary organization and to lead Southern Baptists into a larger missionary program before he ceased his earthly labors. Enduring foundations were laid by him despite innumerable difficulties, incident to war and reconstruction. His ministry can be summed up in these words from a biographical sketch: "That he might awaken, stimulate, and systematize the missionary zeal of Southern Baptists, he went out again and again among them, making long and extended tours. By private and public appeals he not only secured money for immediate needs, but often streams of benevolence which became constant." A little while before his homegoing, December 22, 1871, he had insisted, because of ill health, that his resignation be accepted, effective March 1, the following year.

The 1872 Convention paid a deserved tribute to Dr. Taylor in these words: "He was believed to possess in a higher degree than any other man whose services we could command, that ardent piety, that devotion to the missionary enterprise, that confidence of the churches, that equanimity of temper, that peculiar prudency, that business capacity, and that unslumbering energy demanded in one about to undertake a work beset by manifold difficulties . . . In times of depression, he has inspired us with his own faith; in seasons of general apathy, his zeal has known no intermission; and in the days of our prosperity, his voice has ever been heard summoning us onward to yet more extended fields of usefulness."

Secretary Henry Allen Tupper—February, 1872-June, 1893

Dr. Henry Allen Tupper, who was elected January 16, 1872, as the successor of Dr. Taylor as Corresponding Secretary of the Board, was born in Charleston, South Carolina, February 29, 1828. His father was the "author and finisher" of the South Carolina Railroad from Charleston to Augusta (Ga.) which, when completed was the longest railroad in the world. His mother, who was educated in Philadelphia, was one of the most beautiful and intellectual women of that day.

The great longing of the mother's heart was the intellectual and religious education of her children. His father, who insisted on business order and carefulness took Henry Allen into his office and kept him there two years. "This I regard now as the most important two years of my education." Before his father would take one of his sons into his firm, he made him agree in writing that he would never endorse a note out of the regular order of business.

Under the preaching of Dr. Richard Fuller, Henry Allen Tupper came to be oppressed by the sense of his sins in which condition he remained until he accepted the promise in Romans 10:9 "Thou shalt be saved," and rejoiced in his new relationship. He was baptized by Dr. Fuller, April 17, 1846. Later he surrendered to the call of God to preach. He was graduated from Madison (now Colgate) University, Hamilton, New York. He was married November 1, 1849, to Miss Nancy Johnstone Boyce, the sister of Dr. James P. Boyce. From 1853 to 1872 he served as pastor of the church in Washington, Georgia, a cultural center, and during the War ministered to the soldiers in the Confederate Army. He rendered illustrious service as Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board until his retirement in 1893.

At the meeting of the Foreign Mission Board held in May, 1893, Dr. Tupper requested the Board to consider his resignation. He felt that he must retire from active service. In spite of his protest, he was heartily and unanimously reelected, and a committee was appointed to urge his acceptance—but he remained firm in his conviction that he should retire, and at the June meeting his resignation was accepted.

"Between these dates of February 1872 and June 1893—twenty-one years—voluminous records of the Foreign Mission Board contain on almost every page some proof of the zealous, assiduous, faithful, incessant labors of this very modest, quiet, Christian gentleman. To every state in the Southern Baptist Convention, and to every continent of the globe, his autographed letters carried wise advice, couched in terms of kindly sentiment, and most cordial politeness, while his unwritten record, stamped upon the minds and hearts of the members of the Board and the missionaries, is beyond the power of language to present. The influence of his faith, his calmness, his judgment and his consecration lingers with us to this good day."

After he retired from the Secretaryship he was instructor in Bible at Richmond College and was, for sometime, president of the trustees of the Woman's College of Richmond and was also a member of the Board of Richmond College. He was the author of two monumental books dealing with the early history of the Foreign Mission Board, The Foreign Missions of the Southern Baptist Convention, and A Decade of Foreign Missions.

During Dr. Tupper's term there were several distinctive developments. For some time during the '70s there was some agitation in favor of uniting with Northern Baptists. The 1870 Convention adopted unanimously the recommendation by a Special Committee "that the Convention and its Board should be maintained in their integrity. All the energies of Southern Baptists should be directed to their support and the increase of their usefulness . . . believing that the further agitation of a subject which has absorbed so much of the valuable time of this body, at its last three sessions, tends only to disturb our own harmony, without promoting fraternal relations with other bodies, etc."

At the 1879 Convention Southern Baptists discussed for hours the issues involved whether or not they should continue as a distinct organization as they had done since 1845, or enter into a more intimate relationship with their Northern brethren. Probably the most influential voice heard in those discussions was that of Dr. John A. Broadus whose substitute motion was adopted, and the Convention went on record with the following resolution: "Resolved, that five brethren be appointed by this Convention to bear to our Baptist brethren of the Northern States, at their approaching anniversaries, expressions of our fraternal regard, and assurances that while firmly holding to the wisdom and policy of preserving our separate organizations, we are ready, as in the past, to cooperate cordially with them in promoting the cause of Christ in our own and foreign lands." The brethren who attended that Convention were of the opinion that the Foreign Mission work of Southern Baptists was the greatest unifying force in the Convention.

Mexico

During Dr. Tupper's administration Southern Baptists enlarged their Foreign Mission program. Mexico was entered by Southern Baptists in 1880, Brazil in 1881, and Japan in 1889. Rev. James Hickey, a converted Catholic, a Baptist minister, residing in Texas, had crossed the Rio Grande, in 1861 and labored in Mexico until his death in 1866. On January 30, 1864 he organized the Monterey Baptist Church, the first evangelical church in Mexico. John Westrup, the first missionary of Texas Baptists to Mexico, began his work November 1, 1880, but was murdered shortly thereafter. We quote from the minutes of the Foreign Mission Board in report of meeting of the Board, November 1, 1880: "Brother Westrup has been informed that in accord with a previous action of our Board, his work has been transferred to us as a mission of the Southern Baptist Convention."

Rev. W. M. Flourney was appointed by the Texas Board as Westrup's successor, and was subsequently accepted by the Foreign Mission Board, July 28, 1881, on the condition that his support would be provided in Texas. The Texas Woman's Missionary Union offered to support Mrs. Flourney and this was approved (January 3, 1882). Dr. W. D. Powell went to Mexico shortly after the death of John Westrup and was appointed by the Foreign Mission Board May 31, 1882.

Senor Bustamenta, former governor of San Luis Potosi, gave W. D. Powell authority to visit his ranches and preach to the people: "The evangelical minister, William Powell, will visit all the ranches in Salado preaching the Bible in order to convert the young and old of both sexes. Overseers of ranches and all other employees will render every assistance and attend to every want of the evangelical preacher, and any expense that he may make will be charged to my account." However, Dr. Powell did not find all roads easy. In Tamaulipas he was thrown into prison and kept under arrest several days. On one occasion he was stopped by a highwayman, who, after examining the credentials and assets of the Baptist preacher, offered to lend him enough money to get home, but his offer was declined. On another occasion his Bible was taken from him and expert marksmen shot at it one hundred times but hit it only twice. The people exclaimed, "Surely that is God's book or Don Manuel would have put every ball through it." One fanatic asked for the Bible, read it, and was converted. One of the happiest days in W. D. Powell's ministry in Mexico was when he baptized fifty-seven converts in one day.

One of the most interesting chapters in the history of Southern Baptist Foreign Mission endeavor is the story of the building of Madero Institute for Girls in Saltillo with the help of Governor Madero of Coahuila. Secretary Tupper made a trip to Mexico early in 1884 and worked out satisfactory arrangements for the acquirement of the property.

Brazil

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Bagby were appointed missionaries to Brazil, December 23, 1880, and sailed January 13, 1881. Dr. Bagby's attention to this new land of missionary opportunity had been directed by General A. T. Hawthorne, who had spent several years in Brazil. Two months before their appointment, W. B. Bagby had been married to Miss Anne Luther, daughter of J. H. Luther, president of Baylor College for Women. The new organized W.M.U. of Texas undertook the support of Texas' first woman missionary and more than three hundred Anne Luther Societies were organized in 1881. Dr. and Mrs. Bagby were to spend fifty-seven years of active service in Brazil before they were separated by death. Dr. Bagby fell asleep in the Lord, August 5, 1939, and Mrs. Bagby, December 23, 1942, on the sixty-second anniversary of her appointment as a missionary. All five of their children gave themselves to missionary service in South America: Mrs. Ermine Bagby Sowell (deceased) to Argentina; Mrs. Helen Bagby Harrison, Mrs. Alice Bagby Smith, Rev. Taylor Bagby, and Rev. Albert Bagby to Brazil.

Mr. and Mrs. Bagby first stopped at Santa Barbara, where a small group of Baptists from the Southern States in North America had organized in September, 1871, the "First North American Baptist Missionary Church of Brazil." In 1882 Mr. and Mrs. Z. C. Taylor, likewise from Texas, joined the Bagbys at Santa Barbara, but a little later that year both couples removed to Bahia, where a Baptist church was organized in October. In 1884, Mr. and Mr. Bagby made Rio de Janeiro their home and in August that year the First Baptist Church in Rio was organized.

Japan Entered

In 1889, thirty years after Japan was opened to Christian missionaries, we sent two missionary couples to Japan, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCollum and Mr and Mrs. J. A. Brunson. However, Mr. and Mrs. Brunson resigned in 1892 and returned to the United States. J. W. McCollum may well be called the founder of Southern Baptist Mission work in Japan. In one of Dr. Tupper's letters to Missionary McCollum he wrote: "Remember, my brother, that you are to lay the foundations of an eternal work. Look a hundred years ahead." The McCollums were joined by the E. N. Walnes who went to Japan in 1892. When Mr. Walne was nearing the end of his earthly ministry he said, "I wish we were beginning instead of ending our career, so great are the opportunities in Japan." That there are faithful witnesses for Christ in Japan is due to the faithful work of McCollum, Walne, Maynard, Clark, Willingham, Ray, Dozier, Rowe, Mills, and others who with their companions laid foundations in Japan that cannot be destroyed by war.

Baptist Women

During Dr. Tupper's administration the interest of Southern Baptist women in missions was stimulated and directed in channels of practical work. The first report on women's work in the meetings of the Southern Baptist Convention was made to the 1872 Convention. "They recognize the hand of the Lord in moving the hearts of Christian women in England and America to organize among themselves missionary societies to support Bible readers to labor among the women of foreign lands. We urge upon the delegates present to take immediate steps to organize Female Missionary Societies in their churches." In 1875 we were told that "our female missionaries in China are to a considerable extent supported by the alms obtained through the hands of their sisters in these Southern States."

In 1876 the Board organized "Central Committees" for woman's work in most States. "The work has so augmented that it is becoming one of the most fruitful sources of missionary influence and income. The Convention should say to our Southern Sisters, 'Well done, good and faithful servants.'" The Sunbeam movement began in the spring and summer of 1887, directed by George Braxton Taylor, who conceived and promoted the idea and thereby made a great contribution to world missions.

Mrs. Cox in her Following In His Train says: "In a day when 'Woman's Work' was unpopular, Dr. Tupper fearlessly championed the cause of missionary societies for women." The brethren were awakening to the importance of the women's work and in 1877 confessed: "We have been slow to recognize and employ their power. . . . The result of their own special work in the past twelve years has been a universal surprise." From that time forth, there was a growing appreciation of the missionary reinforcement by women, although in 1885, some question having arisen as to the eligibility of women to seats as delegates in the Convention, the Basis of Representation in Art. III of the Constitution was changed to read, "The Convention shall consist of brethren, "instead of "The Convention shall consist of members," and the women accordingly were not admitted to the Convention as messengers until 1918.

When the Convention met in Richmond in May, 1888, a group of Baptist women representing ten states voted to organize "The Executive Committee of the Woman's Mission Societies (Auxiliary to Southern Baptist Convention)." Before the end of the year two other states joined the list. Two years later the name was changed to "Woman's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to Southern Baptist Convention." One pastor said he always felt it safer to attend the women's meetings as "you never can tell what the women might take to praying for if left alone!"

In December, 1887, the year before the W.M.U. was organized, Lottie Moon, weary from years of strenuous service in China, made a plea to Southern Baptist women to set apart a week of prayer and offering for world missions. The following December (1888) the first Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions was received. The goal was $2,000, but the gifts reached $3,000. These gifts increased year by year and helped to turn a retreat into a great missionary advance. The Lottie Moon Offering for 1944 was approximately $950,000.

Gospel Missions

Back in the late '80s and the early '90s Dr. T. P. Crawford, who had been for years an honored missionary in North China, advocated the view that native workers should not receive any salary from the mission and that no schools should be conducted by the mission. "Gospel Mission" advocates held also that missionaries should be supported by churches and not by wider groups such as conventions, through boards, etc. In practice this has not succeeded. Too frequently, missionaries sent out by individual churches, have been left stranded, without support.

Secretary Robert J. Willingham—September, 1893-December, 1914

One time when a keen observer heard Dr. R. J. Willingham speak, he compared him with another brother and said concerning the other man, "When you hear him speak you go away thinking of his great speaking power; but when you hear Bob Willingham, you go away thinking Foreign Missions is the greatest thing in the world." Many of us could never hear Dr. Willingham speak without having laid on our hearts the needs of a great lost world.

Robert Josiah Willingham was born May 15, 1854, in Beaufort District, South Carolina, which reminds us in passing that three of the seven Executive Secretaries of the Foreign Mission Board, Tupper, Willingham, and Rankin, were born in South Carolina; two, Love and Maddry were born in North Carolina. Robert J. Willingham and his brother, Calder, were baptized in August, 1867. The next year R. J. entered the University of Georgia; the next four years after graduation were given to teaching and to business. On September 8, 1877, he was married to Miss Sarah Corneille Bacon. One day Robert, a young man, met a deacon who asked him, "My young brother, has it ever occured to you that God wants you in some other business than that in which you are now engaged?" Robert Willingham had had the same impression but had not mentioned it to anybody. A little later he told his father about that impression. He said, "After all I believe I will have to preach. The picture haunts me by day and by night." Great tears ran down his father's cheeks as he said, "My boy, the evening you were born I prayed for that. I prayed to God, that if it was his will, to make you a preacher of the Gospel." On December 19, 1877, R. J. Willingham was licensed to preach by the First Baptist Church of Macon. On the first day of January he entered the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville. He was ordained by the First Baptist Church of Macon on June 2, 1878. His first pastorate was Talbotton, Georgia; he also preached to two small churches nearby.

We heard Dr. Willingham tell the story of his experience as a young pastor with a good deacon in a country church who was opposed to missions. Dr. Willingham did not debate the question with him but told him of some of the experiences of our missionaries in other lands. The heart of the old man was touched and he said, "I don't know about Foreign Missions but I believe in this thing you're talking about. I want to have a part in it." Then he gave the young pastor some money to be used in that kind of work.

He was next pastor at Barnesville. In 1887, he had two calls, one to the First Baptist Church of Houston, Texas, and the other to the First Baptist Church of Chattanooga. He spent four years in Chattanooga, and in 1891 accepted the call to the First Baptist Church of Memphis, Tennessee. He remained there one year and nine months when he was elected Corresponding Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board. He led Southern Baptists in their world mission enterprise until December 20, 1914, when, on his way to church, he was suddenly stricken and in a little while was gone.

Under his leadership Southern Baptists' gifts to missions increased from $106,332.00 in 1893 to $587,458.00 in 1914. In 1907 he and his wife visited the Southern Baptist Mission stations in Japan, China, Italy, and also mission fields in Burma and India. Expenses for the trip were provided by one or two churches, friends, and relatives. One of his children, Calder, was for some time missionary to Japan. Edward has rendered distinguished service as a pastor, and is this year Chairman of the Program Committee of the Northern Baptist Convention. A daughter, Mrs. T. Justin Moore is a member of the Foreign Mission Board; and another, Mrs. J. W. Downer, lives at Waco, where for years her beloved husband was a member of the faculty of Baylor University. In this connection it is interesting to note that each of the first three Secretaries of the Foreign Mission Board was represented on the foreign field by a child; George B. Taylor in Italy, Mary C. Tupper in Mexico, and Calder Willingham in Japan.

Institutions

Among the outstanding achievements of Dr. Willingham's administration was the development of our institutional work as represented in schools, colleges, seminaries, and hospitals. It has become absolutely necessary for missionaries to be trained men and women. Training schools and seminaries were needed in which native preachers and teachers could be trained. Most of our theological schools were either founded or recast under his guidance. The oldest one of these schools is the Graves Theological Seminary in Canton, China. The next was the Theological Seminary at Ogbomosho, Nigeria, Africa, which had its beginning in the work of Dr. C. E. Smith in training native preachers. Then came the seminary at Rome, Italy; Torreon, Mexico (now El Paso, Texas, until we can get back into Mexico); Pernambuco and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Hwanghsien, and Shanghai, China; Fukuoka, Japan; Buenos Aires; the James Memorial School and The Romanian Baptist Seminary, Bucharest. Various schools and hospitals have been among our greatest evangelistic agencies in these mission lands. Here is one example of many: When Dr. George W. Sadler was in Nigeria early in 1944, he spoke to several hundred students at the Baptist school at Lagos, made a strong appeal for the acceptance of Christ, and there were fifty-two professions of whom forty-two were either Moslems or sons of Mohammedan homes. Hospitals provided and maintained in Hwanghsien, Pingtu, Laichow-fu, Yangchow, Chengchow, Wuchow, and Kweilin in China; and in Ogbomosho, Nigeria, West Africa, have ministered unto multitudes in the name of Jesus and have been tremendous missionary assets.

Publishing houses at Shanghai, Shimonoseki, Rio de Janeiro, and El Paso, sent out leaves of healing to bless multitudes. The Foreign Mission plans to establish at the earliest possible date a publishing house in Nigeria, located at Ibadan, the largest native city in Africa.

Centennials

At least two missionary centennials have been observed with appropriate programs, one in 1893—celebrating the sailing of William Carey to India. The Home and Foreign Mission Boards each reported gratifying increase in mission offerings and a number of new missionaries were sent out.

Our second significant centennial was the one hundredth anniversary of the going of Adoniram Judson from America to Burma. Southern Baptists raised a special fund of $1,250,000.00 to provide church buildings, residences for missionaries, school buildings, publication plants, hospitals, etc.

In 1901 Dr. T. W. Ayers and Dr. P. S. Evans were sent to China for medical mission work. Again and again doors have been opened to medical missionaries—doors that had been closed to all others. In 1907 Southern Baptists had on foreign fields three hospitals and twelve medical missionaries. At the beginning of World War II we had eight hospitals.

Secretary J. F. Love—Home Secretary, May, 1914-June, 1915

Corresponding or Executive Secretary, June, 1915-May, 1928

Dr. James Franklin Love was born in Elizabeth City, North Carolina, July 14, 1869. He attended Wake Forest College and afterwards received honorary degrees from that institution and from Baylor University. After successful experience as a pastor he became secretary of the Baptist State Convention of Arkansas, where he served for eleven years. For eight years he was Assistant Corresponding Secretary of the Home Mission Board, making his home in Dallas. On May 1, 1914, he entered upon his greatest work, first as Home Secretary and later as Executive Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, in which position he remained until his homegoing, May 3, 1928. His administration included the stress of World War I and of the postwar period with its many complex reconstruction problems. Immediately following World War I, Dr. Love in company with Dr. Z. T. Cody and Dr. Everett Gill, Sr., visited Europe and Syria-Palestine. During his administration there were unparalleled developments in world mission enterprise. Southern Baptists assumed responsibility for Baptist mission work in Spain, Jugoslavia, Hungary, Rumania, the Ukraine, and Syria-Palestine, in addition to countries in which Northern Baptist missionaries were laboring. He made a great contribution to Southern Baptist life in his unfaltering insistence upon Scriptural bases for the world-mission work of Southern Baptists. "His unwavering faithfulness to Gospel truths increased loyalty to them wherever he went." One cannot read the reports of the Foreign Mission Board for the several years after the World War I without sensing the strain under which he struggled, the strain under which his physical powers broke. As someone has said, "While as a public speaker he did not have the overwhelming fire and emotion of Willingham he did have the power of philosophical analysis and clear, incisive language that interested and inspired his hearers." He was the author of a number of books which have enduring value for they were timeless in their discussion of great Scriptural principles. Among these books were Today's Supreme Challenge to America, The Mission of Our Nation, The Union Movement, The Unique Message and Universal Mission of Christianity, and several other volumes. During his administration he visited mission fields in the Orient, South America, and in Europe.

Secretary T. B. Ray

T. Bronson Ray was born in Garrard County, Kentucky, on August 14, 1868. His father was a leading physician of the community and served as a deacon for forty years. He received his academic training at Elliott Institute; National Normal, Lebanon, Ohio; and Georgetown College, Kentucky. He received his M.A. degree from Georgetown in 1895, and graduated from the Southern Seminary in 1898 with the Th.M. degree. He was ordained by the First Baptist Church, Georgetown, in 1893. After graduating from the Seminary he accepted the call as pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Nashville, Tennessee, where he served from September, 1898, until November, 1906, when he was elected Editorial Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board. As early as 1901 the idea of organizing Southern Baptists for mission study had taken hold of him. He was a pioneer in that field. He organized many mission study classes and prepared a suitable list of texts for mission study. He was the author of a number of books, among them Highway of Mission Study, Southern Baptist Foreign Missions, Brazilian Sketches, Only a Missionary, and Southern Baptists in the Great Adventure. He was the leader in raising the Judson Centennial Fund which was projected in the 1912 Convention held in Oklahoma City. He was also charged with heavy responsibilities in the 75 Million Campaign. He served successively as Secretary of Education, Assistant Secretary, Foreign Secretary, Executive Secretary (October, 1929—December, 1932), Assistant Executive Secretary, and Emeritus Secretary.

Dr. Solon B. Cousins said in his tribute to Dr. Ray: "A straight line ran from his work-shop to every station in other lands established by Southern Baptists. On the walls of the room where he worked might fitly have been written these words: 'This one thing I do—to help Southern Baptists to see their privilege, to feel their obligation, to seize their opportunity, and to do their duty in sending the Gospel of Christ to the ends of the earth.'"

Dr. Ray entered into the heavenly rest on January 15, 1934, after more than twenty-seven years of faithful and devoted service with the Foreign Mission Board.

Secretary Charles E. Maddry—January 1, 1933-December, 1944

We heard Dr. Maddry say sometime ago that one of the greatest sermons he had ever heard was preached by Dr. J. William Jones on the text: "Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord." That Scripture characterizes the life and labors of Dr. Maddry. Whether farm boy, college student, pastor, state mission secretary, Foreign mission secretary, he has always been fervent in spirit, serving the Lord, and never slothful in the Lord's business.

Charles Edward Maddry was born in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, April 10, 1876. From boyhood he had an insatiable desire to get an education. His parents were honorable, but poor, and he had to depend on his own labors to get through school. He was a hard worker on the farm and as someone has said, took a postgraduate course as a section hand on the railroad.

At the age of twenty-two he entered the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. He worked his way through by whatever honorable work was at hand: sawing wood, making fires, sweeping classrooms, and waiting on tables. After five years at that institution, he was graduated from the University in 1903, winning one of the coveted prizes from the University for oratory.

He had been converted at the age of eleven and before he completed his course at the University he yielded to the call of God to preach and was ordained by the Chapel Hill Church in June, 1902. For two years he was pastor at Hillsboro, North Carolina, and from 1901 to 1904 he was superintendent of the Orange County Public Schools. Thus, during his last year at the University he was pastor, student, and superintendent of schools. He spent one and one-half terms at the Southern Baptist Seminary, coming back to North Carolina as pastor of the Forest Avenue Baptist Church, Greensboro, which he had organized. Three and one-half years later he accepted the call of the First Baptist Church at Statesville, North Carolina. He and Miss Emma Parker were married May 2, 1906. From Statesville he went to the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Raleigh, North Carolina, where he remained until June, 1916, when he accepted the call of the University Baptist Church, Austin, Texas. While there he led in one of the most monumental achievements in the South, building the beautiful temple of worship and work for the use of that church so strategically located.

From Austin, he was called back to North Carolina to be Executive Secretary of North Carolina Baptists, in which position he served for twelve years, displaying all those qualities of leadership which inspired confidence and created enthusiasm.

When Dr. Maddry took up his duties as Executive Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, the Board owed more than $1,100,000.00 and the receipts the previous year had been the lowest for a number of years. That May, in the Washington City Convention, Southern Baptists adopted the Hundred Thousand Club plan and started to pay debts. Receipts increased, confidence was restored, and Southern Baptists went forward with a renewed purpose. One of the highest hours of the Board was witnessed at the April meeting of the Board in 1943 when the last note was burned and the Foreign Mission Board was clear of financial indebtedness. For the first time in seventy-one years, the 1944 report of the Foreign Mission Board contained no reference to interest payments of the Board which since its organization in 1845, total $1,108,638.47.

While he was Secretary, Dr. Maddry visited all of our mission fields. On most of these trips he was accompanied by Mrs. Maddry. We are indebted to Mrs. Maddry for the book, Believers and Builders in Europe. He was the first Secretary of the Board to visit Africa. . . . His impressions of Africa are given in his book, Day Dawn in Yoruba Land. All of our missionaries around the world love and honor Dr. Maddry.

Dr. Maddry has all of the countries on his heart and is tremendously interested in world developments. His interest will not be abated by the fact that he relinquishes the executive responsibilities of the Foreign Mission Board, for he continues to serve through 1945 as Field Representative, free to travel or write, all the while continuing to lay on the hearts of Southern Baptists the call of the world famishing for material and spiritual food.

As he insisted last year that the Board accept his resignation as Executive Secretary, effective December 31, 1944, some of the achievements of his administration were summarized in these words: The payment of the crushing debt, which with principal and interest amounted to more than $1,600,000.00; visitation of the Secretary to all Southern Baptist mission fields; reorganization of missions; the selection of regional secretaries for the Orient, for Latin-America, and for Europe, the Near East, and Africa; the adoption of a workable pension plan for missionaries and Board employees; the establishment and continued growth of THE COMMISSION; the receipt of approximately $1,500,000 for Relief (1937 to December 31, 1944); the setting up of a new and more exacting standard of requirements for missionary appointees; the appointment of a Secretary of Missionary Personnel; a commendable beginning in the field of visual education; an ever-increasing spirit of loyalty and good-will in the churches toward the world-wide program of the Board; the securing of an attractive home for the Board without cost to the Board; the building up of a postwar emergency reserve fund for the replacement of our enormous losses when we return to Europe and the Orient; the strengthening of the spirit of good-will and helpful cooperation with brethren of other religious bodies in America; and the opening of new and promising work in Colombia, Hawaiian Islands, and Paraguay. More churches than ever are asking to be allowed to support missionaries.

New Fields

Argentina was entered in 1903 by S. M. Sowell; Honan Province, Interior China, in 1904 by W. Eugene Salles and W. W. Lawton; Uruguay, in 1911, by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Quarles; Chile in 1917 by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davidson, the pioneer in Chile having been W. D. T. MacDonald; Colombia in 1941 by Mr. and Mrs. Schweinsberg; Hawaii, in 1940, by Mr. and Mrs. James D. Belote and Miss Hannah Plowden; Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Goldfinch, Miss Estelle Councilman and Miss Miriam Willis were scheduled to begin work this year (1945) in Asuncion, Paraguay.

Relief

The Foreign Mission Board has always made practical application of the teachings of Jesus and the Apostles concerning our responsibility to the needy. Again and again have our missionaries ministered to famine sufferers in China. At the close of World War I we sent Relief in form of money and clothing both to Europe and to China. In 1922 we reported 70 tons of clothing sent to Russia. From December, 1937, through December, 1944, Southern Baptists gave for distribution by the Foreign Mission Board approximately $1,500,000.00. We placed $200,000.00 at the disposal of our British Baptist brethren for their "orphaned missions" whom they could not reach in the dark days of the "Blitzkrieg"

Secretary M. Theron Rankin

When Dr. Maddry announced, in October, 1943, his purpose to retire from the secretaryship of the Board at the close of 1944, a committee was appointed to nominate his successor. After spending several months diligently seeking to find the mind of God, that committee was unanimous in the selection of Dr. M. Theron Rankin. He was elected Executive Secretary, June 6, 1944, to assume the duties of his new position, January 1, 1945. Theron Rankin was born in Newberry, South Carolina, July 28, 1894. His father was a Baptist minister. He received his academic training at Wake Forest College, and his seminary instruction in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He went out to China in 1921. In March the following year he and Miss Valleria Greene were united in marriage. After his first term of service in general work in China he was connected with the Graves Theological Seminary, first as teacher and treasurer, and later as president. In 1935, he was elected by the Foreign Mission Board as Secretary for the Orient. He was in Hong Kong when it was captured by the Japanese army and was interned for several months in Stanley Camp. He came home on the Gripsholm in August, 1942.

Presidents of Foreign Mission Board

The Foreign Mission Board has been honored in the men who have served as presidents. Not including the brethren who served as presidents pro tem are the following distinguished men: J. B. Jeter (1845-1849; 1853-1866, 1867); R. B. C. Howell (1850-1853); J. L. Burrows (1866, 68-70; 1872-1874); J. L. M. Curry (1871, 72; 1874-1880); H. H. Harris (1880-1895); C. H. Winston (1896-1901); J. B. Hutson (1902-1916); William Ellyson (1916-1919); R. E. Gaines (1920-32); L. Howard Jenkins (1932-).

Foreign Mission Periodicals

In the meeting of the Foreign Mission Board held in Richmond, May 20, 1845, in this entry in the minutes: "A committee consisting of Brethren Ryland, Taylor, and A. Snead were appointed to report on an organ of publication for the Board."

At the September, 1845, meeting of the Board, announcement was made that the Domestic Mission Board had accepted the proposition of the Foreign Mission Board "to occupy" eight pages in The Journal for Domestic Mission Intelligence. At the 1846 Convention, the Foreign Mission Board announced that in conformity with the uniform desire that a missionary periodical be published, arrangements had been made to issue a monthly entitled The Southern Baptist Missionary Journal. At the meeting of the Foreign Mission Board on May 4, 1846, the Board authorized a committee on publication to make a contract with H. K. Ellyson for publishing a magazine, and at the meeting in July that year, the corresponding secretary and president of the Board were appointed editors of The Missionary Journal. At the second Triennal Meeting held in Nashville in May, 1849, the Board reported that The Missionary Journal, the organ of both Foreign and Domestic Boards, had given general satisfaction. The announcement was made also at this meeting: "Being satisfied that a small cheap paper suitable for circulation among the masses of society, would contribute to the wider diffusion of missionary intelligence, the Board have commenced to issue a monthly sheet entitled The Commission." A plea was made for a much larger circulation of both The Journal and The Commission. "The experiences of all similar institutions have proved that the periodical press has been one of the most effective agencies in sustaining the missionary enterprise." At the Nashville Convention in 1849, the Committee on "Organs of Communication" reported: "In addition to The Missionary Journal, which was commenced about three years ago, the Board are publishing a small sheet called The Commission. . . . One gives instruction, the other makes the practical application."

At the Nashville Meeting of the Convention in 1851, the Board included the following item in its report: "The Board have found The Commission a valuable auxiliary in promoting theim designs. It has reached an issue of about 8,000 copies. The Journal has declined in the number of its subscribers about 1250 copies only being taken. . . The cash system was adopted and it was discontinued to numbers who actually desired the work, but who, from forgetfulness, omitted to send their subscriptions. . . The Board have, however, determined to discontinue both The Journal and The Commission, and to issue in their place in connection with the Domestic Board, a monthly paper called The Home and Foreign Journal."

At the next meeting of the Convention in Baltimore in May, 1853, the Foreign Mission Board expressed its disappointment that the circulation of the combined publication had not reached expectations and that on account of diminished space, there was not sufficient room for the Board's publicity. At the 1855 meeting in Montgomery, Alabama, the outlook was a little more encouraging as there had been some increase in circulation.

At the Third Biennial Meeting in Louisville in May, 1857, the Board reported that the previous July, another magazine, The Commission, had been commenced. "When the number of subscribers shall warrant such a measure, it is proposed to send a copy gratis to every pastor whose church contributes to the funds of the Board."

At the meeting in Augusta in May, 1863, during the War Between the States, announcement was made by the Foreign Mission Board that it had been necessary, shortly after the previous meeting in 1861, to suspend both The Commission and The Home and Foreign Journal because of the decreased receipts and the difficulty of securing paper, and because so many subscribers had been called from their homes into the army.

Announcement was made at the 1868 meeting of the Convention of the resumption of the publication of The Home and Foreign Journal. The following year the deficit was divided prorata between the two Boards and the Southern Theological Seminary, Greenville.

At the 1874 meeting of the Convention in Jefferson, Texas, there was considerable discussion, precipitated by the majority report recommending that The Home and Foreign Journal be discontinued, with a minority report by Dr. T. T. Eaton, recommending that the publication be continued under the direction of the Foreign Mission Board, and that the Home Mission Board be relieved of all of the responsibility for the issue of the paper from that date. Finally, the minority report was adopted by the Convention.

In 1875 the publication of The Home and Foreign Journal was discontinued because of the expense, but the following year, in response to a suggestion by the Foreign Mission Board, that it felt the lack of such a publication, the Convention authorized the Foreign Mission Board to resume, as early as practicable, the publication of The Foreign Mission Journal, provided the Home Mission Board had the privilege of using one-half of its columns on assuming one-half expense. The Foreign Mission Journal reappeared in April. (Note that it appeared as Foreign Mission Journal and not as Home and Foreign Journal.)

For a period of one year, 1895-1896, the publications of the Home Board and the Foreign Mission Board were consolidated under the title of The Mission Journal, but this did not prove satisfactory. The subscriptions were "only about one-half of what The Foreign Mission Journal had alone." The Convention recommended that The Mission Journal be discontinued and that each Board make its own arrangements for reaching their people. The Foreign Mission Board then resumed the publication of The Foreign Mission Journal. The report in 1897 recites the gratifying circulation of approximately 16,000 and adds: "We believe if we could get The Journal into 30,000 families through the increased interest thereby in missions, we could easily send out many new missionaries." The next year 22,000 circulation was reported.

Following the instructions of the 1916 session of the Southern Baptist Convention, The Foreign Mission Journal was merged with The Home Field into The Home and Foreign Fields and the combined publication was taken over by the Sunday School Board. This arrangement continued until the close of 1937 and beginning in January, 1938, the two Boards resumed the publication of their own magazines, the Foreign Mission Board publishing THE COMMISSION, and the Home Mission Board, The Southern Baptist Home Missions. The statement was made by Dr. Hight C. Moore in announcing the new arrangement that when The Foreign Mission Journal had consolidated with The Home Field, The Journal had a circulation of 27,000 and The Home Field, 21,000. In 1933, according to the Sunday School Board report, the circulation of The Home and Foreign Fields was 8,750, although in 1937, it had reached 12,184. The circulation of THE COMMISSION had steadily grown from the beginning of the new arrangement in 1938; at the present time it is 65,000.

CHAPTER III

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF HOME MISSION ACHIEVEMENTS

By THE EDITOR

Beginnings of Home Missions in the South, 1745-1845

Individuals: Baptist Home Missions in the South were begun by the heroic, sacrificial and truly apostolic labors of the early Baptist preachers who, like Thomas Etheridge and Shubal Stearns of North Carolina, Jeremiah Walker and Benjamin Watkins of Virginia, Daniel Marshall of Georgia, and many others, brought multitudes to know the Saviour, planted vigorous churches wherever there was a sufficient population, laid deep the foundations of all future Baptist work and largely revolutionized the whole life and thought of the people throughout vast regions of the South.

Churches: The efforts of these godly men, however, were ably seconded by such churches as the old First Church at Charleston, S. C., and the Sandy Creek Church of North Carolina. The First Church of Charleston not only helped in the establishment of other neighboring churches, but led in the movement to bring these other churches into the organization of the Charleston Association in 1751. The Sandy Creek Church, on the other hand, not only sent out her own pastor and scores of other workers into all the regions round about, but in seventeen years led in the establishment of 42 other churches from which 125 ministers went out to proclaim the unsearchable riches of Christ.

Associations: Then came the missionary work of the district associations, led by the old Charleston Association in South Carolina, from 1751 onward. The Virginia district associations soon followed the example of Charleston Association. And these in turn were followed by the associations in North Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

State Conventions: As early as 1821, Southern Baptists began to organize state conventions for missionary and benevolent purposes. In this movement South Carolina again led the way. Georgia Baptists followed in 1822, Virginia and Alabama in 1823, North Carolina in 1830, Kentucky in 1832, Tennessee (first convention) in 1833, Maryland and Missouri and Mississippi in 1836, Texas, Arkansas, and Louisiana in 1848, Florida in 1854, etc.

Boards of Triennial Convention: In the meantime, also, the Foreign Mission Board of the old Triennial Convention of American Baptists had been carrying on mission work among the Indians in the South since 1818. This work was enlarged from time to time until the calls became so urgent that the American Baptist Home Mission Society was organized in New York City, April 27, 1832. From 1832 to 1845, therefore, the Home Mission Society became the medium through which the Baptists of the South and the North did all their Home Mission work.

With such a history behind them, it was natural for our fathers, when they came together to organize the Southern Baptist Convention in Augusta, Georgia, in 1845, to create not one, but two great co-ordinate boards, one for Foreign Missions and one for "Domestic" or Home Missions. Thus began the work of Home Missions among Southern Baptists.

I. HOME MISSIONS "BEFORE THE WAR," 1845-1860

The first period of organized Home Missions among Southern Baptists was given over largely to four lines of endeavor: (1) building up a spirit of denominational loyalty and co-operation; (2) evangelism; (3) work among the Negro slaves; and (4) taking over and enlarging the work among the Indians, which had been carried on heretofore by the Foreign Mission Board, and later by the Home Mission Society, of the old Triennial Baptist Convention of America.

There were 40 missionaries doing work among the colored slaves during this period, and the work among the Indians was given special impetus by the union of the Indian Mission Association, having headquarters at Louisville, Kentucky, with the Southern Baptist Convention in 1855, and the labors of 40 other missionaries in giving the gospel to the Indians.

II. HOME MISSIONS AND THE WAR OF THE CONFEDERACY, 1860-1870

The next decade (1860-1870) brought that greatest of all human catastrophies to the South—the War of the Confederacy, and the indescribable chaos and desolation which followed. The wealth of the South decreased from $6,-887,000,000 in 1860 to $4,470,000,000 in 1870—or 35 per cent. The number of Baptists on the other hand, increased from 630,240, of whom 280,000 were Negro slaves in 1860, to 1,715,794, of whom 741,694 were Negro freedmen in 1880.

In spite of all the losses and all the crosses, however, three great lines of Home Mission endeavor were vigorously pushed during this period: (1) one of the most successful campaigns to reach and evangelize the soldiers ever witnessed in America was conducted by the 137 army missionaries sustained by the Home Mission Board and the various state conventions and resulted in 155,000 persons being baptized on profession of faith; (2) the helping and saving of the organized work in the older states which were devastated by the war; and (3) a sincere and worthy attempt to help the recently freed Negroes who had left the white churches, to find their places and work in their own churches and in the kingdom of God.

III. HOME MISSIONS IN RECONSTRUCTION, 1870-1882

In spite of all that could be done, however, the three greatest foes of organized society continued to stand up before the prostrate South and to challenge all her constructive forces for another dozen years. Dire poverty, intense racial and sectional antagonism and complete moral chaos—these were the forces which subjected the South to its greatest trial of faith. It is remarkable that it never once wavered.

The Home Mission Board, moreover, went right on with its work during this period, raising and expending, upon the average more than $20,000 a year in helping the needy churches, showing the misled and mistaught Negroes a better way, supporting its work among the Indians, trying to develop its Sunday school and publishing interests which had been committed to it in 1873, and everywhere winning men to Christ in large numbers.

Once, in 1879, a great feeling of despair seized upon some of the leaders and they seemed ready for reunion with Northern Baptists; and, in 1882, while still oppressed and depressed in every way, they seriously proposed doing away with the Home Mission Board and asking the various state conventions to assume the great burden of Home Mission work of the South. But the better judgment and greater patience of the hosts of Southern Baptists came to the rescue, and the work went on.

IV. HOME MISSIONS IN CONSTRUCTION, 1882-1900

The darkest hour is often just before the coming day. It was even so with the Southern Baptist Home Missions in 1882. For instead of doing away with the Home Mission Board, when the Southern Baptist Convention met in Greenville, South Carolina, in 1882, two great things happened. The first was the removal of the Home Mission Board from Marion, Alabama, where it had been located for the previous 37 years, to Atlanta, Georgia, its present headquarters. The second was the election of Dr. I. T. Tichenor the greatest religious statesman of his day as the corresponding secretary.

For the next 18 years, Dr. Tichenor gave to Baptist home missions in the South the wisest and best efforts of the greatest constructive mind among the Baptists of his day. In fact, it may be seriously questioned if Southern Baptists have yet produced Dr. Tichenor's equal as a denominational statesman.

In his recently published book, Epochs of Home Missions, Rev. Joe W. Burton calls attention to ten outstanding achievements wrought by Dr. I. T. Tichenor in the eighteen years of his leadership of Home Missions. They are worth repeating here:

(1) He saved the Convention from disbanding and going back to unite with Northern Baptists.

(2) He laid the foundation for our present Co-operative Program.

(3) He established the first church building department maintained by Southern Baptists.

(4) He rescued the publishing interests of Southern Baptists and gave such emphasis to Sunday school work that he became the forerunner of the Sunday School Board, established in 1891.

(5) He was the first Southern Baptist leader to call attention to the need of city mission work in the South.

(6) He inaugurated the Board's great work in Cuba in 1886 and gave it a splendid start.

(7) Dr. Tichenor revived the Home Board's educational work among the Negroes and greatly enlarged it.

(8) It was under Dr. Tichenor's guidance and leadership also that the system of Mountain Schools was established by the Home Mission Board.

(9) He vigorously promoted the direct mission work of the Home Mission Board on all the frontiers, and among all the races—Indians, Negroes and foreign-speaking peoples.

(10) Dr. Tichenor was the first, great Home Mission statesman to present the conception of a developed homeland as the greatest possible base for world evangelization.*

V. HOME MISSIONS IN EXPANSION, 1900-1919

When Dr. Tichenor laid down the active leadership of Baptist Home Missions in the South, in 1900, Dr. F. H. Kerfoot was elected corresponding secretary, which place he held for only a little more than a year when, in June, 1901, "he literally died in the harness," as someone has expressed it.

Then for almost two years,[6] Dr. F. C. McConnell—"Forensic Cyclone McConnell," as he has been aptly called—literally set the South ablaze with his inspirational, informational and prophetic appeals in behalf of Home Missions. Dr. McConnell, in very fact, gave Southern Baptists a new interpretation of themselves and a new understanding of their distinctive message and mission in the ongoing of Christ's kingdom.

In 1903, however, Dr. McConnell gave up the Home Mission work to return to the pastorate, and Dr. B. D. Gray was elected corresponding secretary of the Home Mission Board.

With the exception of Dr. J. M. Frost of the Sunday School Board and Dr. J. B. Taylor of the Foreign Mission Board, Dr. Gray perhaps rendered longer, more conspicuous and more laborious service than any other Southern Baptist leader in this century.

The first distinct period of Dr. Gray's leadership in Home Missions, extends from 1903 to 1919, or sixteen years. These sixteen years may be summed up in one word: EXPANSION. The following comparison will give some idea of the amazing growth of the work of Home Missions during this period.

VI. HOME MISSIONS' GREATEST DEEDS AND DEBTS, 1919-1927

Coming now to the second period of Home Mission work under Dr. Gray, it may be truthfully said that the years embraced in this period are without any parallel in Baptist Home Mission work anywhere in the world—both for the success of the work during 1920 and 1921 and for the crushing difficulties and debts which piled upon, impeded, and imperiled the work from 1922 to 1927. Let us look at the figures:

*See pages 77-84 of Epochs of Home Missions, published by the Home Mission Board in 1846.

In 1923, the total reported was	808,324.80
In 1924, the total reported was	822,183.60
In 1925, the total reported was	1,105,750.41
In 1926, the total reported was	1,343,276.04

In 1928, the total reported was	1,617,992.44

Dr. Gray Resigns After Twenty-five Years

Southern Baptists have had several notable leaders who have served the denomination in responsible positions over long periods of years, of which Drs. Taylor, Tupper, Willingham, and Love of the Foreign Mission Board, and Drs. J. M. Frost and I. J. Van Ness of the Sunday School Board are conspicuous examples. But along with these we must mention four outstanding Home Mission leaders—Dr. Russell Holman, 1845-1851 and 1856-1862; Dr. I. T. Tichenor, 1882-1899; Dr. B. D. Gray, 1903-1928, and Dr. J. Benjamin Lawrence, 1929-1945.

Dr. Gray's long and honorable administration of the affairs of the Home Mission Board was characterized by two things which can never be forgotten or overlooked: The first was the greatest expansion and development of Home Missions ever achieved by any Home Mission agency in the history of America, as shown by the statistics presented herewith. The second was the greatest two-fold disaster that ever overtook Baptist work anywhere in the nation. For the failure of the churches to pay their 75 Million Campaign pledges, brought a total debt of $1,617,992.44 upon the Home Mission Board by May 1, 1928, whereas the defalcation (plain stealing) of C. S. Carnes, who was then treasurer of the Board, in the amount of $909,461.00, not only brought the Board's total indebtedness up to $2,527,453.44, but brought on the greatest denominational scandal in the history of Baptist work in America and the greatest crisis which the Home Mission Board and the denomination had faced since 1882.

The Emergency Help of Dr. Arch C. Cree

Dr. B. D. Gray, however, did not resign until September, 1928, after completing 25 years and five days' service. In the meantime the Special Committee of Six from the Home Mission Board, working in conjunction with the Executive Committee of the Convention, commandeered the services of Dr. Arch C. Cree, at that time the Executive Secretary of the work of the Georgia Baptist Convention, and made him acting executive secretary of the Home Mission Board. Dr. Cree did heroic service in leading Southern Baptists in the special Honor Day Offering, November 11, 1928, at which time Southern Baptists gave almost $400,000 to be applied on the Home Mission Board's colossal indebtedness. But at the end of the year 1928, Dr. Cree asked to be relieved and Dr. A. J. Barton was made acting executive secretary up to the next annual meeting of the Home Mission Board.

Dr. J. Benjamin Lawrence Becomes Executive Secretary

At its annual meeting, about the first of June, 1929, after two days and nights of prayer and conference, the Home Mission Board asked Dr. J. Benjaman Lawrence, superintendent of missions for the Missouri Baptist State Association, to become the executive secretary-treasurer of the Home Mission Board —and elected him to the position over his repeated protests. And what is more, the Board persuaded him, against all his better judgment, to accept the impossible task as the will of God for him and for Southern Baptists. Had Dr. Lawrence known that, within five months from the time he was elected, the greatest, nation-wide depression in the history of America would suddenly descend upon the whole land and would come with special severity upon the South and the Southwest, and would last, like the famine in Egypt, for seven long and indescribable years—if Dr. Lawrence had known all this, would he have accepted the leadership of the Home Mission Board in June, 1929?

Happily for Southern Baptists and for Dr. Lawrence in the long run, he could not foresee the coming of this greatest of all disasters for Southern Baptist work—and he accepted. But this seven years of depression brought far greater losses and crosses to all Southern Baptist work and workers and to the Home Mission Board in particular, than all the Board's great indebtedness and the Carnes defalcation. For after the passing of this monster depression Southern Baptists paid all their indebtedness within a little more than three years.

VII. THE PERIOD OF RECOVERY AND READJUSTMENT, 1929-1945

Two outstanding tasks have engaged the minds and hearts of all Home Mission workers during Dr. Lawrence's administration—(1) the saving of the good name and credit of Southern Baptists by the payment of all its staggering indebtedness; and (2) the saving of all its marvelous and manifold missionary work, as far as possible.

The Great Debt Paid in Full

No greater single achievement has ever been wrought by any mission board of any denomination in America than this Board's payment of every penny of its great debt and every cent of the terrible interest charges, in the sum of $2,527,453.44, and thus saving the honor and credit of the Home Mission Board and the Southern Baptist Convention. This great Board, upon its honor, promised to pay all its obligations, and every cent stolen by the man whom it had trusted and honored, and it paid every penny—paid it in spite of seven years of the worst depression this nation has ever known. On May 12, 1943, two years ahead of its schedule, Dr. Lawrence signed a check for $55,000 which cleared all the debt away. We repeat: this is one of the greatest achievements every wrought by any religious agency of any denomination.

Here are the figures which tell the story of this magnificent achievement:

Years	Indebtedness
1928	$2,527,453.44
1929	1,970,981.19

Much of the Mission Work Saved

In addition to saving the honor and credit of Southern Baptists, the Home Mission Board has done much to save its manifold mission work. Like a great, heavy-laden ship caught in an awful storm, when the long depression descended suddenly upon the nation and swept with blighting effect over all the South and Southwest, some features of Home Mission work had to be sacrificed, cast overboard, or else jeopardize all of it. What could be given up? What could not be given up? It was a time of awful anxiety. In fact, it was a matter of life-and-death when the Home Mission Board had to give up its great Tuberculosis Sanitarium at El Paso, Texas, its whole system of precious mountain schools, its splendid staff of evangelists, and its great cooperative work with the state conventions. But there was no other way of escaping the peril that confronted the Board. Some of us, looking on, felt that the Board was unduly alarmed and was acting rashly. But when the awful depression held on and held on for all the long, agonizing years, we wondered what would have happened if the Board had tried to save all its manifold institutions, agencies and lines of endeavor.

New Tasks and Greater Tasks Ahead

We are very thankful to God and to the Home Mission Board for saving and enlarging its mission work among the Negroes, the Indians, the Mexicans, the foreign speaking peoples, the Cubans and others. But we do not see why the 3,500,000 mountaineers and the 7,000,000 share-croppers should not now be given a large and worthy place in the Home Board's great missionary program. Nor do we understand why the Home Mission Board hesitates to go to the great masses of utterly neglected Negro people in the Black Belt and launch a program that is worthy of our denomination and commensurate with the challenging needs and opportunities of the Negro people. Almost 12,000,000 Negro people now live here all about us. We are out of debt, and there are 5,600,000 of us. Do we have to go on playing and piddling with this greatest missionary obligation we will ever have and this greatest missionary opportunity we will ever have? We believe that all the mission work among the Negro people should be given over to the Home Mission Board and that we should ask this Board to multiply by five or even ten all the services which it is now rendering to these people.

In the meantime, the Home Mission Board is to be congratulated and honored anew for six other distinct lines of service which it is rendering with ever increasing effectiveness. These are:

1. The new leadership in evangelism which the Home Mission Board has provided in the person of Dr. Fred Eastham; also its sponsorship and support of Dr. M. E. Dodd in his challenging Southwide Crusade for a million souls for Christ in 1946.

2. Its serious campaign to bring all Southern Baptist forces into the Cooperative Program with special emphasis upon the unenlisted and uncooperating churches.

3. Its continued presentation of the basic principles, distinctive doctrines, and lofty ideals of our Baptist faith and life and work.

4. Its great and growing informational services, including surveys, books, tracts, pamphlets, magazines, etc.

5. The reorganized and revitalized city mission work of the Board which has already gathered great impetus under splendid leadership and promises a new day in the urban centers of the South.

6. And, best of all, the Home Mission Board has determined to find a way or make a way to do something worthwhile for the more than 23,000 rural churches, sixty per cent of which are pitiably undeveloped and in need of everything which the denomination can give to them.

Let all this good work go on until every nook and cranny and corner of the Southland is sewn down with good literature and until every man and woman and boy and girl of every race has received the message of life and salvation in Christ.

CHAPTER IV

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF EVANGELISM

By the EDITOR

There follows here the year by year record of Southern Baptist evangelism covering the past one hundred years. We have attached the year 1844 as showing what Southern Baptists had and how many they won to Christ the year preceding the organization of the Southern Baptist Convention; but these 1844 baptisms are not counted in the totals for the one hundred years.

In Part I it will be noted that from 1845 to 1890 we have recorded the baptisms by states. So that the Baptists in each state may now see what their respective states achieved in soul-winning for those early years before Southern Baptists began to publish real statistics. The records by states are not given from 1891 onward to save space and for the reason that these records are published in the minutes of the Southern Baptist Convention and are already available to all students of this period.

In Part II, we have summarized the record of baptisms for the entire one hundred years, bringing the records all down the years to the present. The only skip in this record is from 1861 to 1877 when the War of the Confederacy overwhelmed the South. However, I have called attention to the fact that, for five years during this awful war (1861-1865), the greatest revival ever known to take place among soldiers in army camps and on the battlefields swept over every section of the armed forces of the Confederacy, resulting in the conversion and baptism of perhaps 165,000 soldiers.

Then in Part III we have presented an analysis of the whole one hundred year period. To save space we have omitted most all comments, in the hope that the readers would let these statistics speak their own great message.

Second Period: 1861-1871

The Great Revival During the War, 1861-1865

We have no complete or trustworthy statistical reports from the churches for this entire period, but we have something far greater than any statistical report—the record of the most far-reaching revival in the armed forces of the Confederacy ever witnessed in any army, in any nation, in modern times. Beginning with the second year of the war, this revival spread to all sections of the army and to all the training camps and hospitals, and continued to the very end of the war, with three most remarkable results:

1. Great numbers of the soldiers were brought to know Christ and to publicly confess him before men. Up to January 1865, at least 150,000 were known to have been converted and baptized. In addition to these conversions, multiplied thousands of backsliders reconsecrated their lives to God. Army life and morale, therefore, were revolutionized.

2. Literally thousands of these new converts and reconsecrated Christians heard the call of God to special service. Hundreds of Baptist and Methodist preachers and lay-leaders in the forty years following this war were men like Dr. J. B. Gambrell of Texas, who heard God's call in the army and dedicated their lives to him during the war.

3. The ministers and lay-leaders who were converted and dedicated their lives to God during this great revival brought a new day to the churches at home and a new sacrifice and service to the cause of Christ when the war was over. In fact, these soldiers who were converted and rededicated during this four year struggle of the Confederacy, did more to make over the churches at home than all other forces combined. So that, in spite of all the indescribable poverty and want and humiliation which came upon the people of the South during the Reconstruction period, the figures in the following table show that the churches experienced net gains in membership amounting to an average of 79,518 a year for the entire Reconstruction period—which is two and one-half times as many as were gained by these same churches during the better years of 1821 to 1835.

CHAPTER V

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF SOUTHERN BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOLS

By THE EDITOR

PART I. THE BEGINNINGS OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL MOVEMENT

One of the most remarkable things about the Sunday school movement is its two distinct but almost simultaneous beginnings—one in England and one in the United States, with almost no connection between them. This came about because the Sunday school movement got under way precisely at the time of America's two critical wars with England—the War of the Revolution (1776-1783) and the War of 1812, the effects of which lasted until 1816.

Both Luther and Knox, to be sure, established (about 1530) schools which gave instruction in secular subjects during the week and in religious topics on Sunday. Later (1780-1785) the great English philanthropist and publicist, Robert Raikes, established schools in which paid teachers gave instruction in secular topics on Sundays to the neglected and underprivileged children of English communities.

And, while both these types of schools undoubtedly helped to lead the way to the establishment of the Sunday school movement, neither of these types of schools was in fact a Sunday school for the study of the Bible. And it remainined for Mr. William Fox, a wealthy Baptist deacon of London, to launch the first Sunday school in England for the exclusive study of the Bible in the year 1783; also two years later (1785), to launch the first general Sunday school organization in the world—"The Society for the Support and Encouragement of Sunday Schools."

Beginnings of Sunday Schools in United States

The very earliest Sunday school to be established in America, strange enough, was in fact a "Sabbath School" established by the Seventh Day Baptist Church in Ephrata, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, under the leadership of Ludwig Thacker in 1740. This "Sabbath School," conducted on the Jewish Sabbath, had been going on for forty years before Robert Raikes established his schools in England. It was closed down in 1780 when the buildings which housed the church and the "Sabbath School" were taken over by the Government and used as a hospital for the wounded soldiers of the American Revolution.

There is also some evidence to support the claim that Dr. Joseph Belamy of Connecticut established and nurtured a small Sunday school in his church from 1740 to 1760. But about the close of the Revolutionary War, in 1783, serious consideration began to be given to the establishment of Sunday schools in all the non-Catholic churches in America, and regular Sunday schools, usually called "Sabbath Schools," began to be established in many of the states from 1783 onward, as follows:

1786: Some authorities claim that Bishop Asbury established a regular Sunday school at Hanover, Virginia, in 1786. This Sunday school, however, completely disappeared within the next few years. And right or wrong, Lynchburg, Virginia, claims the honor of establishing the first continuous Sunday school in that state, in 1816.

1791: In March of this year the first regular Sunday school was established in Pennsylvania. In the same year, the first Sunday school was established in Boston, Massachusetts. New York followed in 1792; New Jersey in 1794; Rhode Island in 1797; Maine in 1812; Delaware in 1814.

1790: Coming on into the South, we find that the Methodist Conference, which met in Charleston, South Carolina, in this year, passed a far-reaching resolution, directing that their preachers should establish and maintain Sunday schools for both whites and blacks, in all their churches.

*Vol. IV, p. 2148 of the Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

1786: We do not know when the first regular Sunday schools were begun in Virginia, but we learn from Semple's History of Virginia Baptists, page 127, that the Dover Association began to seriously grapple with the problem of religious education among the youth of the land as early as 1796—and took definite action looking to the solution of this problem.

1804: So far as actual history is concerned, the honor of leading out with the first modern Baptist Sunday school in the South, must perhaps be given to the Second Baptist Church of Baltimore (now the East Baltimore Baptist Church), which has had a regular Sunday school since 1804.

General Sunday School Societies

In the meantime, general Sunday school societies began to spring up all over the nation.

In January (11th) 1791, for example, The First-Day or Sunday School Society was organized at Philadelphia, Penn.

The New York Sunday-school Union was formed in 1816.

Then followed the New England Sabbath School Union, and finally, on May 25, 1824, the American Sunday School Union was organized into which all the other Sunday school societies were presently merged. Almost immediately, moreover, the Sunday School Union began its successful effort to work out a system of uniform lessons for the multitudes of Sunday schools now being conducted by all evangelical Christian bodies. And by 1827 the Union was able to present a series of forty lessons a year for the next five years, and thus made the beginning of our present International Sunday School Lesson System.

PART II. RECORD OF SOUTHERN BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOLS. 1845-1944

Some years ago, I ransacked all historical documents available to me in the hope of finding when Southern Baptist churches began having Sunday schools, and particularly how many Sunday schools Southern Baptists had from year to year beginning with 1845. I need not tell you that I found very little data worth mentioning. In all the Southern states in 1845, for example, I managed to find the records of only 468 Sunday schools with 2,808 officers and teachers and 27,924 enrolled. It is but fair to say that I found all these in four states—and nothing at all in the other states—that is in Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia. Of course, I knew that South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Kentucky and Missouri all had Sunday schools in 1845. But where were the records of them? I could not find them.

Well, recently, I have made another long and difficult search for Sunday school records—and have found a few more. But I am sure that I have not found one-half of those existing in 1845. For example, Allen's Register for 1836 gives us the astonishing record of 228 Sunday schools in North Carolina in 1835! More than half of North Carolina's 425 churches had Sunday schools in 1835! And these 228 Sunday schools had 13,231 enrolled, which is one-half of North Carolina's Baptist church membership for that year! My, but that took my breath! For if Maryland and Virginia and South Carolina and Georgia and Tennessee and Kentucky, etc., all had a like proportion of Sunday schools, the number which I put down for 1845 would have to be multiplied by four or five. But I am still guessing and groping and searching for these early day Sunday schools.

In view of what I found in North Carolina, and in Edisto Association in South Carolina, however, I must revise my estimates for 1845. Until I secure more definite records, I am obliged to say that the Sunday schools of Southern Baptists in 1845 numbered at least, as follows:

Sunday schools	1,218
Officers and teachers	7,308
Total enrolled	78,900

Alas, I found that only four surveys of Sunday schools had ever been made between 1845 and 1896. We present these four surveys in the order in which they were made:

CHAPTER VI

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

First Section by THE EDITOR

Baptist Pioneers of Christian Schools in the South

Rev. Oliver Hart, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Charleston, South Carolina, initiated, in 1751, what is believed to be the first distinct movement for Christian education anywhere in the South. Because of his patriotism he was forced to give up his pastorate in Charleston and to flee for his life. But in 1787, Dr. Richard Furman became Hart's successor in the pastorate in Charleston; also the outstanding leader and champion of Christian education throughout this whole section.

It was under Dr. Furman's leadership, for example, that the State Baptist Convention of South Carolina was organized in 1821—the first regular Baptist state convention to be organized in America—and one of the main purposes of this convention was the fostering of Christian education.

It was also largely due to the generous aid of Baptist sentiment that the state of North Carolina led out in 1795 in the establishment of the first state university in the South. And Georgia Baptists, led by such great denominational statesmen as Henry Holcombe, W. T. Brantley, and Adiel Sherwood, later also by Jesse Mercer, began the definite establishment of a system of Christian schools as early as 1802. These, with Dr. Daniel P. Bestor who established a school at Lafayette, Alabama, and the greatly beloved leader, Dr. Luther Rice, are the real pioneers of Christian education in the South.

Baptist Schools and Colleges in 1845

Largely due to the leadership of the men just mentioned, but chiefly due to Richard Furman in South Carolina and to Jesse Mercer in Georgia, there were some fourteen important Baptist schools and colleges in the South by the close of the year 1845, when the Southern Baptist Convention had been organized. These institutions were as follows:

Columbia College, Washington, D. C., established in 1821.
Georgetown College, Ky., established in 1829.
University of Richmond, Va., established in 1832.
Wake Forest College, N. C., established in 1834.
Furman Theological Seminary, S. C., established in 1835.
Mercer University, Georgia, established in 1837.
Judson College, Alabama, established in 1839.
Western Baptist Theological Institute, Covington, Ky., established in 1836.
Union University, Tennessee, established in 1841.
Howard College, Alabama, established in 1842.
Mississippi College, given to the Baptists in 1842.
Limestone College, South Carolina, established in 1845.
Baylor University, Texas, established in 1845.
Mary Hardin-Baylor College, established in 1845.

There were over 700 students in these fourteen schools and colleges in 1845.

"Before the War" Period: 1845-1860

From 1845 to 1860 more Baptist schools were established in the South than in any similar period in history. Most of these, however, were small schools which did not survive many years. The main institutions established in this period were as follows:

William Jewell College, Missouri, 1849.
*Bessie Tift College, Georgia, 1849.
Carson-Newman College, Tennessee, 1850.
Furman University, South Carolina, 1851.
Mossy Creek College, Tennessee, 1853.

*Known as Monroe Female College, Forsyth, Georgia.

Bethel College, Kentucky, 1856.
Keatchie College, Louisiana, 1856.
Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, South Carolina, 1859.

In addition to these eight institutions, there were ninety-six female schools and academies conducted during this period. These Baptist schools, moreover, had property valued at $1,500,000 and 5,000 pupils.

The War and Reconstruction Period: 1860-1880

This twenty-year period was marked (1) by the temporary suspension of some eighty or more of the Baptist schools and colleges, the Southern Baptist Seminary being among this number; and (2) by the establishment of a few new and important institutions, chiefly in the border states of the South. Among these, we mention the following:

LaGrange College, Missouri, in 1866.
Ewing College, Ewing, Illinois, in 1867.
Vardeman School of Theology, Liberty, Missouri, in 1868.
Judson College, Judsonia, Arkansas, in 1871.
Southwest Baptist College, Jackson, Tennessee, 1874.
Clinton College, Clinton, Kentucky, in 1874.
Shorter College, Rome, Georgia, in 1877.

Southern Baptist Seminary resumed its work and moved to Louisville, Kentucky, in 1877.

The Recovery Period: 1880-1890

Only a few important schools and colleges were established during this period. For it was still a life and death struggle to maintain the institutions already established. Moreover, in spite of the best efforts of the depleted and impoverished people of the South, most of the female colleges and academies had to be abandoned during this period. But among the new schools, we mention the following institutions as being established during this period:

Buckner College, Witcherville, Arkansas, 1882.
Mt. Lebanon College, Mt. Lebanon, Louisiana, 1883.
Deland Academy, Deland, Florida, 1883.
Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas, 1886.

DEVELOPMENT PERIOD: 1890-1940

Second Section by DR. A. B. BOND, recently deceased

Institutions

1. The number of schools in this period fluctuates. The mere figures tell a pathetic tale. The totals for key years are: 1890, 67; 1900, 66; 1920, 119; 1930, 97; 1940, 67.

The period opens and closes with the same number. Between 67 and 119 lies a fearful story of failures. But, another side of the history must not be overlooked—the sacrifices that brought into life these schools and the honorable service rendered. We might well say to them:

"That nothing walks with aimless feet;
That not one life shall be destroyed,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete."

2. Types of Schools.—Fifty years ago schools were grouped simply into colleges for men, female seminaries, academies, and theological seminaries. The academy has continued mainly coeducational while former men's colleges now matriculate women. In 1890 the types ran: colleges, 18; female seminaries, 29; academies, 19; theological, 1; total, 67.

Through the influence of President W. R. Harper, University of Chicago, there arose in the nineties a new classification. To the Junior College was assigned the first two years of the four-year course. Its graduates were accredited to proper rating in the Senior College, but many of its graduates ended their academic training there. The Junior College occupies a vital place in the present scheme of education.

Under this new method of types the rise and fall may be tabulated:

Senior	1920, 36;	1930, 31;	1940, 27
Junior	1920, 22;	1930, 30;	1940, 24
Acad.	1920, 56;	1930, 31;	1940, 12
Theol.	1920, 5;	1930, 5;	1940, 4
Totals	119	97	67

The difference in the number of theological is due to counting the Southwestern Seminary and Training School as one in 1940. There have been some combinations and correlations among the colleges, accounting in part for the variation in number. The chief loss occurs with the academies. The Home Mission Board has abandoned its former extensive mountain school program. The modern system of the state consolidated high school has largely forced the church's rural academy out of existence. Secondary education must become a state function. Good roads, the auto, free tuition, sometimes free books, free transportation, accredited courses, better facilities,—these assure the victory over the denominational academy. The service which these church schools have rendered in their day of need and opportunity should not be minimized or forgotten.

The 67 schools of today are distributed thus: Ala., 3; Ark., 2; Fla., 1; Ga., 5; Ky., 9; La., 4; Miss., 4; Mo., 4; N. C., 8; Okla., 1; S. C., 5; Tenn., 4; Tex., 9; Va., 7; W. Va., 1.

During this period has arisen schools for religious instruction both for men and women: the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary with its Training School for Women, Seminary Hill, Texas, 1909; The Woman's Missionary Union Training School, Louisville, Ky., 1907; The Baptist Bible Institute, New Orleans, La., 1918. These with the Louisville Seminary are developing a large number of men and women for intelligent, effective leadership for the churches at home and in the far-flung lands.

Personnel

1. Student Body.—A scheme of the enrolment for key years indicates the growing attendance despite the decrease in the number of schools. The 1940 gain over 1890 for the totals is 181.9%; for men 195.5%; for women 170%.

	Schools	Men	Women	Total
1890	67	4,747	5,505	10,252
1900	65	8,064	3,066	11,130
1920	119	13,174	18,022	31,196
1930	97	10,996	14,880	25,876
1940	67	14,028	14,864	28,892

In the two decades from 1920 to 1940 the enrolment with the Senior Colleges rose from 50.4% to 61.9% of the entire numbers. The students in the Junior Colleges also increased in this period. The great loss occurred in the academies, the decline going from 9,314 in 1920 to 1,749 in 1940. This is due to the closing of so many academies, the drop being from 56 to 12.

A suggestive phenomenon appears: The women students outnumber the men. This is true for every year in the Half-Century with one exception—1900. The peak of preponderance was reached in 1921 when the women were ahead by 5,772. Then the difference decreased to 3,884 in 1930, and by 1940 the men had so far gained as to reduce the number to 864. This situation is found in the colleges rather than the academies.

One is challenged to discover the cause. A venture of answer may be offered. a.—The Call of the Dollar. This Half-Century has throned the Dollar more than ever before in history. Its appeal has been too strong for the boy. He has fretted when restrained in school; his heart has been in the bustle of business. This attitude for gain affected the girls less in the earlier part of this period. Boys clamored for the right of jobs. The girls were freer to pursue their studies. b.—World War Impact.—Colleges poured their students into the vortex of war. Prospects were deflected to training camps. It was too late for the returned veteran to pick up his educational career. In 1920 and 1921 the women had their chance. Post-war days brought a hysteria of spending. Money was plentiful. Few boys were content to exchange the bill for the book. c.—The Depression Blight.—After the deluge of plenty came the desert of want. Young men sought in vain for jobs which were given to the young women because they would accept less pay. By their help in the home support, the women could assist their brothers through college. Woman has become man's severe rival in business. Vision of a seer alone could present a change.

A Half-Century ago the woman student of theology was an unknown quantity. In 1890 in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, our sole institution for the ministry, 170 men were matriculated. The Southwestern Seminary, the Baptist Bible Institute, and the Woman's Training School were organized and admitted women students. The total of men and women in these in 1920 was 1,377. The next decade brought a loss of 20% in their enrolment while the Southern Baptist membership increased 19.4%. One is almost startled by the figures for the next ten years. In 199 this type of students increased 48.6% over the enrolment of 1930, while the church membership gain reached only 26.2%. The effect of the woman student of theology upon the percentage of attendance may appear from the figures for men only. In 1930 the loss over 1920 was 9.5%; the 1940 gain over 1930 was 32.5%.

Shall Southern Baptists have an educated ministry?

Will the churches afford an adequate support for the graduate?

Could Baptist autonomy discover a method of placement for the graduate to the mutual advantage of both man and church?

Can Baptists absorb into its activities, missionary and local church, the graduates of our Training Schools for Women?

2. Faculty.—One could wish to publish abroad the Half-Century heroic service of the teachers of this period. Their names do not crowd the pages of Who's Who. They have been content to be unknown as they labored in the fine art of making men and women. Poor equipment and poorer salaries were but stimuli. Their academic preparation would not always be termed "standard," but they had the infinitely more valuable asset—ability to translate culture into terms of life and to transmute their ideals into their students. The present faculties compare favorably with those of similar position in state and other church schools. Scholarship is not the ultimate in a teacher's ability. In 1890 there were 614 teachers in the 67 schools; in 1940 there were 874 men, 854 women, total, 1,728. One might borrow a criticism to designate these as heroes "of whom the world was not worthy."

These teachers had abiding convictions and well directed purposes. Perhaps I could not better characterize them than by a recital of the Teacher's Creed.

The Teacher's Creed

I BELIEVE in God, in whom all truth subsists, and in Jesus Christ as the Way, the Truth, and the Life;

I BELIEVE in the competency of the soul to know the truth and to come into vital fellowship with reality;

I BELIEVE in the universality of the grace of God, and the consequent universality of the right of every man to an education;

I BELIEVE in the regeneration of the soul as the condition of the highest appreciation of truth, and as the religious fundamental of all true knowledge;

I BELIEVE in the development of character through knowledge that translates creed into conduct;

I BELIEVE in the aristocracy of culture that eventuates in the democracy of service;

I BELIEVE in the sacrifice of material gain that student life may receive a culture of mind, heart and body;

I BELIEVE in the life everlasting and the rewards of the students in the School of Christ.

Material Investment

Figures may become stumbling stones to confusion or way-signs to interpret dynamic forces of life. Southern Baptists have ventured vast sums in education under their control. The placement may not always have been with good judgment but certainly with good intention. Not without a modicum of pardonable pride may the following schedule be submitted.

	Property	Endowment	Total
1890	$ 6,631,114	$ 4,299,801	$10,930,915
1900	5,189,000	2,367,051	7,506,051
1920	20,883,647	13,060,662	33,944,309
1930	41,642,122	21,725,429	63,367,551
1940	45,145,411	28,392,823	73,538,234

The total material investment has increased 572.6 per cent in this Half-Century. Certain debts offset the net resources but I have not had opportunity to secure the data. Invested funds have felt the economic stress in reduction of interest and loss through ill advised placement, sometimes unavoidable through the reflex of the depression.

I wonder if the above schedule might not cast into the discard a jibe frequent in my youth: "You Baptists are so poor and ignorant."

Standardization

1. Regional Agency.—At Atlanta in 1895, Chancellor J. H. Kirkland, Vanderbilt University, led in the organization of "The Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States." The purpose was to erect standards by which schools should be classed and judged for efficiency. Similar bodies have been organized for other sections of the country.

Came first the grouping into the four-year Senior College, the two-year Junior College, the four-year High School. Then followed the requirements to qualify for each. All schools automatically became accredited or not with relation to the list made by the Association.

The dominating scope of the Association becomes evident through the judgments it undertakes to pass upon the Senior College: Entrance requirements, requirements for graduation, number of degrees to be conferred, number of college departments, training of the faculty, salaries, number of classroom hours for teachers, number of students in classes, financial support for the college, library, laboratories, separation of college and preparatory schools, proportion of regular college students to the whole student body, character and distribution of material equipment, curriculum and spirit of administration, standing in the educational world, professional and technical departments, each institution must file with the Commission on Higher Institutions a report at stated times upon the official blank.

If anything has been omitted, one might refer it to a lapsus mensis.

2. Attitude toward the Association.—Public opinion has already given its approval. Rural and urban interrogatory demands answer from each of these three classes of schools: "Is your school accredited"?

What should be the Baptist attitude toward standardization? A new social order has come to the South during this Half-Century. Re-adjustments must be made; new recognitions must be had. Isolation would bring harsh reproach. A Baptist school must be as competent to function in its field as the state institution. It will meet the current and accepted standards for efficiency when possible. It will make constant effort to measure up. In some instances the approach to the goal must be slow and painful but purposeful. Condemning judgments should not be too hastily passed. The student product of an unaccredited institution might well rank with that of the more favored.

A number of our colleges have already reached the goal of membership in the Southern Association and some in another regional agency. Of the twenty-seven Senior Colleges, nineteen are members of this Association, six being colleges for women. Five of the twenty-four Junior Colleges are also members.

An abiding imperative must be recognized by framers of rules. The Baptist autonomy and genius must remain inviolate. No self-authoritative body may legislate for Baptists, who claim the right to adjust their own program and define their own destiny.

Curriculum

1. The Method.—A Half-Century ago Southern Baptist schools in common with others of the South had not felt the rising new movement in pedagogic method. The curriculum for the B.A. degree was a definite course of studies. All candidates must follow the same pathway toward graduation.

Patterned after the English university system, the elective principle for the curriculum was adopted for the University of Virginia by Thomas Jefferson in 1825. However, the spread of the method was due to the influence of President Charles W. Eliot who introduced it in Harvard for the Senior Class in 1872, and later for other classes. Usually, the work of the first two years of the Senior college is prescribed and choice of other studies obtains for the other two years. This applies to the bachelor degrees. This method is gaining rapid favor.

2. The Content.—The current Half-Century period is marked by the greatest intellectual revolution of all the centuries. New categories, attitudes and substance of thought have created a new world. The college would of necessity reflect the change.

Prior to this Half-Century the content of the curriculum was grouped about Latin, Greek, Mathematics, and English. The B.A. degree course was known as the classical. Today, Latin and Greek are not required in many colleges for graduation, Mathematics is reduced to a minimum, while English has not so badly fared. Three royal claimants have entered the field.

The rapid and extended researches, discoveries and experiments in the physical sciences have characterized this Half-Century as the scientific age. This youthful claimant would often demand the throne and compel all other truthseekers to conform their methods to the "scientific." Biology, chemistry and physics have contributed great advances to thought and would arrogate comparable honor. A cursory glance at a college catalogue will evidence this broad field.

Social science has found an insistent place in the curriculum. History, sociology, psychology, economics, Romance languages—what distance they have carried the curriculum from the former good old days when a college catalogue was a modest publication!

The professions have become successful encroachers. The pre-professional courses have multiplied to the extent that many colleges are specializing the last two of the four-year period in medicine, law, religion, electricity, etc. The student is graduated Bachelor of Arts of these specialties.

The Baptist college must follow the current as well as possible. This pre-special requires great outlay for equipment and salaries. Our schools sometimes falter forward.

May one dare a criticism? In the average four-year college, the curriculum has become too ambitious. Far too many subjects and courses are offered. Emphasis has been given to material aspects of the college standards to the detriment to standardization of education.

Denominational Control

Denominational ownership and control of schools were loosely organized prior to this Half-Century. Money was obtained through private benefactions and the schools were governed largely by self-perpetuating boards of trustees. The schools have lost a large part of their local character as the state organizations have come to elect, or nominate, the controlling boards. Property ownership may inhere in the associational or state body or in the trustees. There is closer legal and practical control now than ever.

How far should academic liberty extend? May a teacher in a Baptist institution have absolute privilege to express any opinion? Can freedom of thought and speech be bridled? Is persecution the right word when teaching is censored?

The Baptist attitude is clear and historic. Liberty of thought, word, and deed is the birthright of every man. But, Baptists must insist that the teacher in a Baptist school shall contribute to the Baptist product in student life and thought.

A man may teach his own ideas, regardless of their conformity to any current opinions, but he should not be unwise enough to expect Baptist salary for contravening and subverting Baptist ideals. This is not Baptist narrowness.

Southern Baptists have not always acted with wisdom in the building of schools. This turbulent Half-Century has wrecked some which perhaps should never have been started; others have stumbled along with poor equipment and support and debt.

I raise some interrogatories. How many colleges should there be? Should any state have more than one Baptist college? Should education be entirely co-educational, or is there need for the college for men and the college for women? Do Southern Baptists need a great Southern University? Should a Baptist school employ any but Baptist teachers? Is it wise for a school to incur debts for enlargement of plant when no reasonable expectation to pay is visible? Should the budget of expenses be kept within the limits of known income? Do Baptists need a vitalizing conscience on education? Ought there to be a general co-operation in the effort to administer the educational obligation and need?

Campaigns

The initial effort toward founding a college was individual or local. Impelled by ambition, some great soul would start the movement into which others might be swept. Funds were hard to raise. The Seventy-five Million Campaign brought a new idea. Education shared with benevolences the results of that effort. Followed then the state convention direction of time and method of raising money. The local schools should not launch its own plans regardless of state advice and even consent. This method may lead to hardship in some cases but the general welfare is advanced. Wishful thinking led to capitalizing on the promises of that Campaign. Payments found buildings that could not be financed from their receipts. Debts accumulated. Southwide institutions suffered thus as well as state.

The Education Board

The same Southern Baptist Convention, that projected the Seventy-five Million Campaign, established in 1919 the Education Board and located it at Birmingham, Alabama. Dr. J. E. Dillard served as Temporary Corresponding Secretary for one year, while retaining pastorate of his great Southside Church. The secretaries were Dr. W. C. James, Dr. J. W. Cammack, and Dr. Rufus W. Weaver. For seven years Albert R. Bond served as Editorial Secretary. The Board was discontinued in 1928.

Conditions incident to its creation forecast its death. To it were committed certain administrative tasks that soon enforced a large debt which could not be met out of the meager allotment from Southwide funds.

The Board, however, rendered valuable service in its effort to create an educational conscience among Southern Baptists. It sought to become a clearing-house of inspiration and information on education under Baptist control. Had it been left free to the definite field thus desired by certain leaders, it could have filled a place that some agency must yet assume, if Southern Baptists have more than an incidental and local attitude to general denominational education.

Honor Roll

Baptists may be justly proud of their educators during this Half-Century. They deserve a monograph; here only paragraphs are possible.

1. Special Group

Of the present Southern Baptist schools, Georgetown College (Kentucky) is the oldest for men, dating to 1829. Its ideals have not been lowered during this lapse of one hundred and eleven years. In 1890 Dr. R. M. Dudley was its honored and competent president.

Judson College (Alabama) ranks first in time among those for women, having been founded in 1839. Friends hope that it may overcome its stifling difficulties of finances. Dr. S. W. Averett was the president in 1890.

One 1890 president survives today. Born, reared and educated in Mississippi, Dr. W. T. Lowrey has rendered a long and honored service to that state. A graduate of Mississippi College and the S. B. T. Seminary, he has served as president of Blue Mountain College (Mississippi) in 1885-98 and 1911-25, and of Mississippi College in 1898-1911. Cultured and gracious, he bears the manifold honors of the many years as befits a real Chesterfield.

FIFTY-FIVE YEARS teacher in the same institution? Such is the distinction of Dr. John R. Sampey. From his native Alabama, as an alumnus of Howard College, he entered the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and was graduated in 1885. At once he became instructor in Hebrew and assistant in other departments. He has been Professor of Old Testament Interpretation since 1892 and President since 1929. Many honors and trusts have come to him, having served a three-year term as President of the Southern Baptist Convention. He has made valuable contributions to Hebraic studies. We few survivors of that 1898 class still envision the tall, spare-made, quick-moving, black-bearded, young professor, to us still "Tiglath."

President F. W. Boatwright, University of Richmond (Virginia), tops the presidential length of service. A Half-Century as professor and 45 years as president he has given his pedagogic career to his alma mater. Student at American universities and those abroad, his professorship of romance languages at Richmond has been a signal success. His students have admired his scholarship, courted his friendship, and profited by his sympathetic counsel.

The names of three presidents of the largest colleges may been mentioned.

Dr. S. P. Brooks, President of Baylor University (Texas) from 1902 to his death in 1931, was Georgia born, an alumnus of Baylor and Yale, historian, sociologist, orator, ten-talented executive, a friend to students, and was recognized by many academic and civic organizations as well as by the Baptists not only of Texas but of the entire South.

Tennessean by birth, Kentuckian by education, Southerner by disposition and service, world-wide in sympathies and reputation, Dr. W. J. McGlothlin came to the kingdom at a critical time. A graduate of Bethel College and the S.B.T. Seminary, and having had some experience in teaching, he served as tutor in Hebrew during part of his seminary course and in 1894 became instructor and in 1896 assistant professor in the Department of Old Testament Interpretation. Leave of absence later gave him his chance to receive his Ph.D. at Berlin in 1901.

As a young scholar of thirty-three, he faced a supreme test. Upon the retirement from the Seminary of Dr. W. H. Whitsitt, the Chair of History became vacant. The famous "Whitsitt Question" had disrupted numerous Baptist bodies. The Seminary had been the object of violent criticism. Who could be acceptable as professor of Church History and coalesce the variants of attitude? The young professor was transferred from his chosen Hebraic field to full professorship in the Chair of History. Did he succeed? For nineteen years he taught his new specialty with distinction in the lecture room and with general denominational approval. He served as president of the S. B. Convention and proved himself a master of policies. Author and scholar, his best asset was his ability to make and hold friends. His tragic death in 1933 was universally mourned by Baptists and unnumbered of all faiths. He was president of Furman, 1919-1933.

Capacitated to rank with the foremost scientists, full-knowledged in the lastest theories, President W. L. Poteat of Wake Forest College (North Carolina) gave affirmation to the query raised by his book, "Can a Man Be a Christian Today"? For forty-nine years he taught at Wake Forest, biology being his specialty. He served as president 1905-1927. His death in 1938 was a distinct loss to religion and science.

2. Presidents of 1890

A few worthy names may be drawn from the Honor Roll of 1890. Howard, B. F. Riley; Ouachita, J. W. Conger; Alabama, J. F. Furbee; Mercer, G. A. Nunnally; Mississippi, R. A. Venable; William Jewell, J. P. Greene; Furman, Chas. Manly; Southwestern (Union), G. M. Savage; Carson and Newman, J. T. Hen-

The Dominant Motive

Baptists easily justify their educational task. Leadership is essential to intelligent progress. In previous paragraphs, I have suggested some of the basis for this justification. These may be supplemented and summarized in the statement of the Dominant Motive.

The dominant motive in education should be development of character that will appropriate the culture of the race, that will hold adequate control over individual forces of life, that will give competent response to duties, and that will eventuate in sacrificial contribution to the welfare of men.

Such a motive can find its true dynamic only in intimate relationship to Jesus Christ. Such a character can find its sanction only in Christian ideals. Education, that omits Christ from its ambitions and controls, fails to give recognition to truths that are the ultimates of human worth.

CHAPTER VII

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF SOUTHERN BAPTIST JOURNALISM

By DR. ALBERT RICHMOND BOND in the "Quarterly Review"

The origin of Southern Baptist Journalism was the missionary imperative and impulse 1812-1845. Its purpose has been to consolidate efforts in order to advance the manifold enterprise of making the Baptist genius effective. Its scope has reached each constituent state of the Southern Baptist Convention. Its method has largely adopted the weekly press, privately owned and operated for denominational aims. Convention ownership in the states has developed within the last two decades.

This article is restricted. Its limits of space exclude the vast number of papers that had brief though contributory existence. Only the papers, now accepted as convention organs, may here have brief historic survey.

I. Individual Paper History

1. Hundred Year Old Papers

The Christian Index.—Founded 1821 ('22). Inspired by the news of the conversion to Baptist beliefs of Adoniram Judson and Luther Rice, the Triennial Convention was organized in 1814. Its purpose was to arouse and unify Baptist zeal in America for Foreign Missions. Rice founded The Columbian Star in 1822 to further the plans of the Convention. As The Columbian Star and The Christian Index, the paper was edited by the brilliant W. T. Brantley in Philadelphia, 1826-28. It was bought by Jesse Mercer and removed to Georgia in 1833, and by him presented to the Georgia Baptist Convention in 1840. It was ably edited for a time by Henry Holcombe Tucker, preacher and educator of great reputation and worth. The first part of the title of the paper was dropped. Later it passed into private ownership.

Into the present survey enters as editor, Dr. J. C. McMichael (1895). In 1896 ownership and editorship passed over to Dr. T. P. Bell and Dr. I. J. Van Ness. In 1900, the latter went to Nashville to become editorial secretary of the Sunday School Board and later for seventeen years its executive secretary. Dr. Bell, however, continued with The Christian Index until ill health forced his retirement in 1915. With him had been associated since 1900, Dr. B. J. W. Graham, who had acquired part ownership. The paper was sold in 1915 to the Index Printing Co., Bell and Graham being retained as editors. Graham continued to serve until 1920. He was succeeded by Dr. Louie D. Newton, who consistently advanced the splendid work of his predecessors. His term (1920-28) closed with his acceptance of the pastorate of the Druid Hills Baptist Church, Atlanta. Since then, Dr. O. P. Gilbert has edited the paper with credit to himself and approval of his constituency. The Christian Index is published at Atlanta, Ga.

The Western Recorder.—Founded 1825, it claims its lineage, in germ at least, from The Baptist Recorder (1825) and The Baptist Banner (1834). Shifted about in locale and editorship, the paper in 1851 was named The Western Recorder, having been published at Louisville, Ky., since 1836. Owners and printers have been many until 1887 when the Baptist Book Concern bought it. Prior to our survey period, certain great men were editors, of whom we mention J. L. Waller, W. C. Buck, S. H. Ford, A. C. Graves, R. M. Dudley, A. S. Worrell.

Into this period comes Dr. T. T. Eaton, 1887-1907, as editor. Following his death, Dr. J. M. Weaver acted until Dr. C. M. Thompson assumed charge and served until July, 1909. Dr. J. W. Porter came next with a term from July 1, 1909, to January 27, 1921. Dr. Victor I. Masters then directed the paper from February 1, 1921, to 1942, when Dr. Jno. D. Freeman became editor.

The Religious Herald.—Founded 1828. It owes its being to William Sands, a practical printer. In 1857 D. Shaver became its editor and brought the paper into large usefulness and prominence. In 1865, two men, whose names have passed into household words throughout the South, became editors, Dr. J. B.

Jeter and Dr. A. E. Dickinson, the former continuing thus for several years and the latter down into 1897. For some years the versatile writer and famous preacher, Dr. William E. Hatcher was associated with The Religious Herald's editorial staff. In September, 1887, Dr. R. H. Pitt became junior editor, and in December, 1906, he entered upon his remarkable career with this paper, becoming both editor and owner, and continuing in this position until February 15, 1937. Though not convention owned, it serves as the organ for Virginia Baptists. Dr. Reuben E. Alley is the present able editor. It is published at Richmond, Va.

The Biblical Recorder.—Founded 1833. The name Meredith is interlaced with North Carolina Baptist history. This paper was established by Thomas Meredith. It has molded opinion in the state throughout its long and honorable life. Complete data are unavailable to the writer.

Into our survey period, however, came Editor C. T. Bailey who was succeeded in 1898 by the Honorable J. W. Bailey. Dr. Hight C Moore was editor 1908-17, resigning to take up the work of editorial secretary of the Sunday School Board periodicals. Dr. Livingston Johnson served from 1917 to 1931. Dr. J. S. Farmer, for many years the successful business manager of the paper, with the able assistance of Dr. Geo. W. Paschal, took up the editorial duties upon the death of Dr. Johnson and continued until 1937. Mr. N. A. Dunn was the acting editor as well as business manager until Dr. J. C. Slemp was made editor 1940-1942. The Recorder is now published at Raleigh, N. C., by the Baptist State Convention, Dr. L. L. Carpenter editor since 1942.

The Baptist and Reflector.—Founded January 1, 1835. Through several lines of ancestry the paper traces its history, being known as "The Baptist Gleaner," "The Baptist Reflector," "The American Baptist," "The American Baptist Reflector." In that history great names distinguish the editorial chair—J. R. Graves, J. B. Moody, R. B. C. Howell, J. B. Chevis. In 1888, Dr. E. E. Folk effected certain combinations and became editor of the newly named The Baptist and Reflector, which he edited with great distinction until his death in 1917. At various times had been associated with him in ownership and editorial management, Drs. J. R. Graves, J. B. Moody, O. L. Hailey. In 1891, Dr. Folk became sole owner. Upon his death in 1917, Dr. Albert R. Bond took possession as editor and majority stockholder and in 1920 turned over his rights by sale to Rev. M. R. Cooper. He in turn after about a year disposed of his interests to the State Executive Board. Since that time it has been Convention owned. From its inception under the new name the paper has been published at Nashville, Tenn. Dr. J. D. Moore served four years as editor, and was succeeded in 1925 by Dr. J. D. Freeman, who, after serving the paper for seven years, was elected state secretary, and Dr. O. W. Taylor was called to continue the traditions of this paper's editorial policies.

The Alabama Baptist.—Founded in 1836. "The Family Visitor" was started in 1835 at Wetumpka, Ala., by Rev. John D. Williams and was purchased in 1840 by Gen. E. D. King and Dr. Milo P. Jewett and was removed to Marion. It had a checkered course of names and locale, being known as "The Alabama Baptist," "The Alabama Baptist Advocate," "The Southwestern Baptist," and finally took permanent form under its present name and Birmingham as its home. For a period, 1865-1872, it was merged with The Christian Index of Atlanta, an Alabama section of the paper serving none too well the Baptists of Alabama. Having owned the paper from 1888, Major J. G. Harris in 1902 sold it to Dr. Frank Willis Barnett who was editor and owner for seventeen years. The Alabama Baptist State Convention purchased the paper from him in 1919 and elected the present editor, Dr. L. L. Gwaltney, who has served since then as editor and business manager. It is published at Birmingham, Ala.

2. Fifty Year Old Papers

The Baptist Courier.—Founded in 1869. My sources are regrettably meager. But Dr. James A. Hoyt was editor in 1890. He was succeeded by Dr. A. J. S. Thomas, who continued as editor into 1897, having accomplished a splendid task. Another brilliant editor was Dr. Z. T. Cody whose term of service lasted from 1911 to 1934. He was followed by Dr. W. C. Allen, 1935-1939, and then Dr. J. M. Burnett took charge in 1940. The paper is published at Greenville, S. C., and is owned by Baptists in the state.

The Baptist Record.—Founded 1877. On February 1, 1877, The Baptist Record was established at Clinton, Miss., later removing to Jackson, with Dr. J. B. Gambrell and Dr. M. T. Martin as editors. The latter served only about a year, while Dr. Gambrell gave his wonderful talents to the paper for 15 years. In 1888 The Baptist Record and the Baptist Layman were united under the name "The Baptist." A $10,000 stock company was organized to run the paper and Dr. J. B. Searcy became editor and Dr. T. J. Bailey business manager. Soon, however, the entire direction of the paper came to Dr. Bailey who was editor for the term 1898-1912. In 1912 Dr. P. I. Lipsey was elected editor and continued very much to the delight and edification of the numerous Baptists of the state and the South. The paper is owned by the Convention and is published at Jackson, Miss. The name reverted to "The Baptist Record." In 1941 Dr. Lipsey retired and in 1942 Dr. A. L. Goodrich was made editor.

The Baptist Message.—Founded 1883. This is the State Convention-owned paper of Louisiana Baptists, published at Shreveport, La. In 1890, it was known as The Baptist Chronicle (begun in 1885), and was ably edited by Rev. R. M. Boone. Many changes followed; but in 1925 Dr. F. W. Tinnin was made editor and has been doing a good job of it ever since.

The Florida Baptist Witness.—Founded 1887. Into our survey period came Rev. C. S. Farris and continued as editor until in 1896, to be followed for a brief time by Rev. J. C. Porter. While pastor at Lakeland, Fla., Dr. W. D. Nowlin was editor and owner of the paper from 1911 to 1914. Other editors have been A. J. Holt, 1916-17; J. W. Mitchell, 1925-27; P. L. Johnson, 1928-30; and since 1930, Dr. E. D. Solomon, who has not only built up a fine circulation, but has made an outstanding religious journal of it.

The Baptist Standard.—Founded 1888. The ancestry of the Standard goes back to "The Western Baptist" (1888). Dr. J. B. Cranfill was secretary of the Texas Baptist State Board (1889-1892). Bitter attacks were made against him and the Board by several papers in the state, especially the Texas Baptist and Herald, edited by Dr. S. A. Hayden. Upon his retirement from the Board, Dr. Cranfill with M. V. Smith bought "The Western Baptist" and renamed it "The Texas Baptist Standard." It was published at Dallas, then moved to Waco, and in 1898 was returned to Dallas, Texas. Smith died in 1893 and Dr. Cranfill continued until 1904. The paper has always maintained a zeal for the organized work, ready to challenge any destructive force. Its editors have been distinguished men of great ability. We name Dr. J. B. Gambrell, almost five years (1910-1914); Dr. E. C. Routh, associate editor, 1912-14, editor, 1914-28; Dr. F. M. McConnell, from 1928 to 1944; and Dr. David M. Gardner, 1944—. It is convention-owned and has the largest circulation of any Baptist weekly in the world (over 140,000).

3. Present Period Papers

The Word and Way.—Founded 1896. Dr. S. M. Brown was founder, owner and editor until his death in 1938, having had his son, J. E. Brown, associated with him since 1931 and being succeeded by him. Some years ago it absorbed "The Central Baptist." Though privately owned the paper is recognized as the organ of the Baptists of Missouri. Published at Kansas City, Mo.

The Arkansas Baptist.—Founded 1902 by Dr. A. J. Barton. The original name was "The Baptist Advance," the renaming taking place in 1933. After Dr. Barton resigned, Dr. John Jeter Hurt became editor for a time, being succeeded by Rev. E. J. A. McKinney, who served for some thirteen years (1906-1919). Dr. McKinney was followed by Dr. J. S. Compere, former missionary to Africa (1905-09), Arkansas pastor, assistant state secretary, served as editor 1919-30. Dr. J. I. Cossey followed as editor from 1933-1939. The paper is owned by the convention. Dr. Lewis A. Myers was the efficient editor 1939-1942. Since 1942 Rev. C. E. Bryant has been doing a superb job as editor. The paper is published at Little Rock.

The Illinois Baptist.—Founded 1905. Dr. W. P. Throgmorton was editor for many years before his death in 1927. Later editors have been J. H. Felts, 1928-31; Elbert Waller, 1932-33; W. W. Hunsaker, 1934-36; I. E. Lee, 1937 to 1939. The paper is convention-owned and issues from Carbondale, Ill., J. M. Murrie, editor at present.

The Baptist Messenger.—Founded 1912. Serving as editor for many years, ending 1927, Dr. C. P. Stanley gave great impulse to the progress of the paper and hence to the Baptist cause. In 1928 Dr. E. C. Routh became the editor and manager and continued to 1943 when his son, Porter Routh, became editor. Published at Oklahoma City, the paper is owned by the convention.

The Baptist New Mexican.—Founded 1915. Its editor has usually been the state secretary. However, H. C. Reavis has filled the position from 1928-1939, and Rev. H. F. Burns took charge in 1940. In 1943 Reavis resigned and Rev. Harold Dye became editor. Published at Albuquerque, New Mex., and owned by the convention.

The Maryland Baptist.—Founded 1912. Formerly issued by the State Board as a monthly and sent practically free to the Baptists of the state, the paper was called "The Maryland Baptist Church Life" and was edited many years prior to 1935 by Francis A. Davis. Secretary J. T. Watts now directs it. Published at Baltimore, convention owned.

Arizona Baptist Beacon.—Founded in 1939. It was ably edited by the State Secretary, Dr. H. Alfred Zimmerman 1939-1943; but in 1944 Willis J. Ray became editor. It is issued from Phoenix.

The Gulf Coast Baptist has been brilliantly edited by Dr. John A. Held at Houston, Texas, since 1937.

4. Board Publications

Foreign Mission Board.—"The Southern Missionary Journal" began publication in 1846. Under the changed title of "The Foreign Mission Journal" it continued many years as a monthly but never attained the desired circulation. It was discontinued and a new venture to represent both Home and Foreign Missions was published by the Sunday School Board. It was known as the "Home and Foreign Fields" and was ably edited by Dr. G. S. Dobbins, 1916-1932, and later by Dr. John L. Hill, 1932-1937. The Board now issues "The Commission," monthly magazine now in its ninth year, Richmond, Va.

Home Mission Board.—"The Home Field" was published for many years as a monthly magazine. Then the Board co-operated in publishing "The Home and Foreign Fields." It now gives publicity through its own magazine, "Southern Baptist Home Missions," published monthly at Atlanta, Ga., and ably edited by Joe W. Burton, publicity director of the Board.

Sunday School Board.—With its organization in 1891, the Board began publication of Sunday school literature. The periodical phase of its work has developed so that with weekly, monthly, and quarterly issues the number now reaches the astounding figure of 77, and the circulation of all periodicals is over 35,000,000—a far cry from those first days. The Board is located at Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Clifton J. Allen is Editorial Secretary.

Woman's Missionary Union.—The Union publishes three monthly magazines. "Royal Service," successor to "Our Mission Fields," is the official organ of the Union and Miss Kathleen Mallory, the Secretary of the Union, is the Managing Editor. The magazine is in its 40th year of publication. In its 15th year, "World Comrades" is intended specially for G.A.'s, R.A.'s, and Sunbeams. Editor, Miss Juliette Mather, Associate Editor, Miss Elma Currin. "The Window," running in its 17th year, definitely for Y.W.A.'s is edited by Miss Juliette Mather with Miss Elma Currin, Associate. These magazines are published at Birmingham, Ala., and have very large circulations.

II. Twenty Year Editors

Southern Baptist Journalism has been blessed with a number of editors who have served twenty or more years. They deserve a Croix d'Honneur. Certain ones were associate or special editors for part of their record.

B. J. W. Graham, 1900-20, Christian Index,—discerning business man, discreet editor, effective leader, author of "Baptist Biography" (3 vols.).

T. T. Eaton, 1887-1907, Western Recorder—brilliant polemist, fluent writer, forceful orator, real theologian, busy pastor, front rank denominational leader.

Victor I. Masters, 1921-41, Western Recorder—easy to read writer, venturesome editor, lover of a controversy, voluminous author of "Baptist Missions in the South," "Making America Christian."

L. L. Gwaltney, 1919-41, Alabama Baptist—scholar, counselor with good insight, editor with current viewpoint, author of "Man's Fairest Home," "A Rosary of Facts," "Forty of the Twentieth."

Z. T. Cody, 1911-34, Baptist Courier—gentleman of the old school, pungent writer, careful editor, scholar, friend of the young preacher.

E. E. Folk, 1888-1917, Baptist and Reflector—gracious even to opponents in controversy, uncompromising prohibitionist, lover of Baptist doctrines, editor who knew what and when to write, author of some books of denominational value.

P. I. Lipsey, 1912-1941, Baptist Record—generous in varying opinions, facile writer, sensible editor.

E. C. Routh, 1912-28, Baptist Standard, 1928-43, Baptist Messenger—editor by genius and experience, accurate judge of timely topics.

In 1943, Dr. Routh became editor of The Commission.

A. E. Dickinson, 1865-1897, Religious Herald, antebellum gentleman whose polish a new era could not tarnish, far-sighted in editorial policies, capable writer.

J. R. Graves, 1846-1893, Baptist and Reflector—born polemist, contender for ancient forms of faith, remarkably eloquent preacher, author of "Old Landmarkism," "The Great Iron Wheel."

R. H. Pitt, 1887-1937, Religious Herald—Chesterfield in silk hat and Prince Albert, writer with diamond-tipped pen, sympathetic friend to every noble cause, a Christian gentleman of highest type.

It has been my privilege to know personally each of these heroes of the press.

III. Criticism

1. Circulation.—This is the initial problem of any paper. This Fifty Year period of review has developed a critical situation for the religious press. Numerous periodicals of every size, content and appeal now challenge the attention of readers of the primaries and adults alike. The religious paper is no longer the principal or sole visitor to the home. It has lost its priority. It must fight for attention. It can not claim privilege of caste.

Income from advertisements is dependent upon number of readers. Makers of articles of nation-wide sale will not place their advertisements with papers limited in circulation and groups of the population. Many of the Southern Baptist papers have their space controlled by an agency which specializes in this class of publication. Most of the papers suffer annual deficits, despite the space taken by the denominational boards. This problem is acute and seemingly insoluble.

How to get subscribers? The hoary method is personal solicitation by the editor or field representative. This is foredoomed to failure. The pastor will not canvass his membership. What then?

The church budget plan is the best so far devised. The local church places a copy of its state paper in every home or in select groups of homes in its resident membership and bears the cost as other items of operating expenses. Special rates are usually obtainable for this method. Postal laws prevent the state organization from doing this. But the plan will not run itself. Pastor and deacons must be won to it.

The form of the paper makes a better appeal now than formerly. Many of the papers have the semi-tabloid make-up with eight to twenty-four pages. The physical set up is more attractive and readable.

Private ownership and management have given place to convention ownership, only two or three of the state organs now being handled by individual or corporate management. Baptist conscience has progressed thus far, placing properly the obligation to reach the church membership with denominational information and inspiration. The Southern Baptist Convention from time to time has adopted resolutions of approval of the denominational press, but it can have little force in bringing the papers into adequate support and effectiveness. The problem inheres in the local church and the state organization.

2. Contents.—The Baptist press must justify its existence and appeal for support only as it advances one centralizing purpose—to cultivate the Baptist beliefs and to deepen the Baptist experience. It is incidentally, not primarily, evangelistic and proselytic. It is seldom read by the non-Christian and the non-Baptist church member. The Baptist membership is the area of specialty for the Baptist press.

The present Baptist press reflects the modern type of thought. Fifty years ago the emphasis was upon distinctive and distinguishing doctrines. Men now think more in terms of social service, co-operation, community solidarity, world interests. The press is less Baptistic in its contents. This obtains for editorial and contribution. One likes to have a thin slice of ham doctrine within the bun of gripping tales of world events that the sandwich may be appetizing.

Contributed articles are hard to get and harder to designate. The reply to the editor's request for something commanding and living and gripping is met by the inability of the overloaded and driven pastors. Copied exchange articles results. Preachers do not like for their state papers to use syndicated articles. So the ancient demand for brick without straw recurs.

The news columns should deal with the denominational life as reflected in the local church happenings and events of general interest. The secular press will care for the other items.

3. Controversy.—Within the state there often arise policies that need full discussion. There will be contrary opinions. The cloture rule finds no Baptistic favor. The press should be impartial within limits of reason and yet retain its right to advocate its own viewpoint.

One would be a poor historian of the Baptist press for the past fifty years, if he were indifferent to certain subjects that provoked Southwide polemics.

In the early part of this period discussion waxed hot and often bitter over alien immersion—should a Baptist church receive into membership an immersed Methodist, Presbyterian, etc., without re-immersion; open or close communion—should a Baptist church invite to, or permit at, the Lord's Supper participation of others than Baptists, or even Baptists not members of the local church; Baptist church succession—can Baptists trace Baptist church organization unbroken back to apostolic times and practice. The historian, not the advocate, here writes.

The physical sciences entered this survey period with a blaze of glory. Darwin, Spencer, Huxley and others had created a new terrain of thought—and much fog. People began to wonder if evolution explained all mystery of life in origin and processes. Theology was threatened with displacement. A rarefied, modernized form of deism entered the lists for acceptance. Monism, both physical and ethical, found worthy champions. Dr. I. J. Van Ness asked me at my ordination: "Do you believe in monism"? I was newly graduated from the university. The Baptist press gave large space to these questions.

Upon the death of Dr. John A. Broadus, Dr. W. H. Whitsitt was elected president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1895. For many years he had held the chair of Church History there. A storm, a tornado, a cyclone—any violent name will do. "The Whitsitt Question" came well nigh cleaving in sunder the Baptist denomination in the South. Churches were disrupted, friends were mutually alienated, divisions multiplied. Dr. Whitsitt had written that the people who later were known as English Baptists had not for a number of years prior to 1641 practiced immersion for baptism. It was erroneously charged that he did not hold immersion of a believer essential to baptism. The Baptist press gave great space to both sides of the controversy. Dr. Whitsitt was forced to retire from the Seminary in 1899. And the scars healed slowly.

About 1920 out of the North rode another Don Quixote to demolish with spear the windmills of the South. It was claimed that "modernism" was destroying the evangelic faith of Southern Baptists. The "fundamentalist" had come to the kingdom at the crucial time. Five tenets came under review: the inspiration of the Bible, the virgin birth of Christ, his resurrection, his vicarious atonement, his second coming. But the "fundamentalist" did not confine himself to clear interpretation of these while demanding that all men agree with him, under penalty of the brand of "modernism." Nor would he tolerate the idea that one could be a New Testament Baptist, and neither "modernist" nor "fundamentalist."

The dragon of evolution would not stay dead. Several leaders of the denominational press charged some of the Baptist front rank men with holding to atheistic evolution. So severe became the contention that the Southern Baptist Convention was forced into the task of formulating and promulgating "A Baptist Confession of Faith" in 1925. Its final form was as little satisfactory to some papers as had been the original statements of the brethren under criticism. One or two state conventions voted to require heads of Southwide institutions to "sign on the dotted line" or financial and denominational support would be withheld.

4. Constructive.—The Southern Baptist press during this survey period has in the main been constructive. The editors have been loyal to liberty of thought and expression, and yet their central purpose has been to advance the Baptist program when it had become formulated. They have been signally free from petty carping over trivial matters.

Southern Baptists will prophesy a new era for the next fifty years when they shall have assumed the task of reaching in a worthy manner the Baptist church membership for an intelligent appreciation of, and response to, the Baptist message and mission to the whole wide world.

Ye Editors, I salute you in the name of the 5,600,000 Southern Baptist hosts. I bless you in the name of the tenets you have helped to preserve and spread. I crown you in the name of him whose glory is your chiefest ambition.

PART II—STATISTICAL SURVEY OF SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

CHAPTER I

PROGRESS OF SOUTHERN BAPTISTS IN 1944

—The Twenty-Fifth Annual Report of E. P. Alldredge, Secretary of Survey, Statistics and Information

A Year of Uniform and Enlarged Gains

Two things characterized the year of 1944 for Southern Baptists, and differentiated this year from each of the three preceding war years. For example, it was the first year since America began active participation in World War II that Southern Baptists experienced gains in all main departments of work. And then it was the year which brought our greatest gains in some important departments of work. Both these features will be noted in this report.

Associations: For the first time in recent years the number of associations reached 925. In spite of the loss of one of the old associations during the year, we came out with a net gain of four district associations over the preceding year—thanks to four new associations in California and one in Michigan.

Churches: In the number of churches (local congregations) there were even larger gains, the number increasing from 25,790 to 25,965 in this one year—that is a net gain of 175 churches during 1944. This was more than three times the gains of the preceding year. A very small gain in 1945 will bring the number of Southern Baptist churches to more than 26,000.

Ordained Ministers: Here again, Southern Baptists showed unusual gains—the number of ordained ministers increasing from 23,311 in 1943 to 24,011 in 1944, thus presenting a net gain of 700 during the year. It is but fair to say that some of this gain was due to adding in the returning chaplains. Some gains, of course, came from the few new associations reported this year; while perhaps one-half of these gains represented recently ordained ministers.

Baptisms: Southern Baptists in 1944 hardly began to go back up to the great numbers baptized in the pre-war years of 1938, 1939 and 1940; but they did make a fair increase over any of the war years, as the following comparison shows:

In 1941, 209,593 baptisms
In 1942, 209,127 baptisms
In 1943, 202,301 baptisms
In 1944, 218,223 baptisms

And, while this is a net increase of 15,922 baptisms over the 1943 record, it is several thousand miles from the goal of one million baptisms in 1945 which Southern Baptists have set as a mark for this Centennial Year. Alas, the records of 1944 show that 6,555 churches reported no baptisms at all; that 1,902 other churches reported only one baptism each; and that it required 26 church members to win one person to Christ!

Church Members: In church membership Southern Baptists in 1944 went beyond the splendid gains of most recent years. That is to say, Southern Baptist membership increased from 5,493,027 in 1943, to 5,667,926 in 1944, representing a net gain of 174,899. Going back ten years, the following table shows our splendid gains:

In 1935, the net membership gain was 112,366
In 1936, the net membership gain was 92,898
In 1937, the net membership gain was 113,287
In 1938, the net membership gain was 175,213
In 1939, the net membership gain was 178,989
In 1940, the net membership gain was 155,153
In 1941, the net membership gain was 133,805
In 1942, the net membership gain was 128,997
In 1943, the net membership gain was 125,898
In 1944, the net membership gain was 174,899
Total net gains for ten years, 1,391,504
Average annual net gain, 139,150

If this tempo of net increase is maintained, Southern Baptists will number 6,363,676 in 1950.

Sunday School Work: The year 1944 brought gladness to the great army of Sunday school workers among Southern Baptists. For in the face of three years of severe losses in Sunday school enrolment and one year (1943) of loss in the number of Sunday schools, the year 1944 presented a net gain of 123 new Sunday schools and 47,652 net gain in enrolment! And, while these good gains do not wipe out all the great losses of the war years, they show that we have recovered from the shock of sending 480,000 Southern Baptist young people into the nation's armed forces and that once again we have gone forward with the great motto: "EVERY SUNDAY SCHOOL SHOULD GROW!"

The Sunday school record of the four years of World War II is as follows:
In 1941, we gained 407 Sunday schools, but lost 36,907 in enrolment.
In 1942, we gained 116 Sunday schools, but lost 122,538 in enrolment.
In 1943, we lost 242 Sunday schools and lost 97,951 in enrolment.
In 1944, we gained 123 Sunday schools and gained 47,652 in enrolment.
Total net gains in Sunday schools, four years, 404.
Total net losses in enrolment, four years, 209,744.

Church Houses and Pastors' Homes: Once again, three remarkable things took place with the church property of Southern Baptists in 1944. The first of these, of course, was the practical completion of the campaign to clear off all indebtedness, on all church buildings and pastors' homes. This movement had gone a long way in 1943, but it was continued with such vigor throughout 1944 that the records will perhaps show that 90 per cent of all local church indebtedness had been wiped out by the end of the year. (The actual records will be given later on.)

The second remarkable thing which took place with Southern Baptist church property in 1944 was the net gain of 259 church houses and 321 pastors' homes. We can understand about the gains in pastors' homes; for these were mostly residences which the churches purchased for their pastors. But how, under Government limitations, did Southern Baptists come into possession of 259 additional church houses, some of them very costly? Frankly, we do not know! It is true that we had 175 new churches in 1944, but not more than half of these had church houses. So we are still wondering about this.

But the greatest wonder of all, is how after paying out perhaps ten millions of dollars to clear new churches and old ones of all indebtedness, Southern Baptists were able to invest $11,572,219 of new money in building new church houses or further enlarging the old ones—and this in the face of all the Government's limitations on building.

That is to say, the church houses among Southern Baptists increased from 23,906 in 1943, to 24,165 in 1944; while the pastors' homes grew in numbers from 4,724 in 1943 to 5,045 in 1944; and the total value of Southern Baptist church property rose from $248,168,495 in 1943, to $259,740,714 in 1944—a net gain of $11,572,219 for this one year, the fourth year of America's war effort. This exceeds the great gains of 1943, by $3,534,908! Frankly, we know of nothing like this among Southern Baptists in war times.

Training Union Work: Once again we are forced to report a net loss both in the number of B.Y.P.U.'s and other Training Union units, and also in the total enrolment. That is to say, the number of Training Union units declined from 49,200 to 48,879, showing a net loss of 321 Training Union organizations in 1944; whereas the total enrolment of all these organizations declined from 777,732 in 1943 to 759,885 in 1944, showing a net loss of 17,847.

Two main causes account for these losses in Training Union work in 1944: (1) The passing of great numbers of our young people from civilian life into the armed forces of America. For, while the young people going into armed forces of the nation are retained upon the rolls of the churches and also are retained in the Extension Department of the Sunday schools in considerable numbers, they are dropped from the rolls of our Training Unions. (2) A second trouble has been encountered during the last several years, and has been dealt with to some extent—the habit of estimating the Training Union enrolments, and in most cases estimating them far too high. This soon results in a highly inflated enrolment which has to be cut down. We found four states in 1944, for example, estimating the per union enrolment at 19 or 20 when the actual enrolment was found to be only 13 to 14.5 per union. In most of the states, this inflation of membership was practically all removed from our tables in 1944; so that the totals for the South and for the several states are more nearly correct than at any time within the past five years.

With 480,000 of our Southern Baptist young people in the armed forces of this nation, and still others being called up throughout the year, it was only by the grace of very great efforts in the Adult, Intermediate and Junior departments that we have been able to come to 1945 with 48,879 training organizations and 759,885 persons definitely enrolled in Training Union work.

In 1941, $44,857,608—Gain in year, $ 4,498,569
In 1942, 52,247,662—Gain in year, 7,390,055

In 1944, 17,303,519—Gain in year, 3,847,879

Average Per Member Gifts, Southern Baptists

In 1941, each of the 5,238,132 Southern Baptists gave $7.07 to local work; $1.49 to missions, and $8.56 to all causes.

In 1942, each of the 5,367,129 Southern Baptists gave $7.93 to local work; $1.80 to missions, and $9.73 to all causes.

In 1943, each of the 5,493,027 Southern Baptists gave $9.03 to local work; $2.45 to missions, and $11.48 to all causes.

In 1944, each of the 5,667,926 Southern Baptists gave $10.46 to local work; $3.05 to missions, and $13.51 to all causes.

That is to say, while the average gifts to local work increased less than 50 per cent during these four years, the average gift to missions increased over 100 per cent.

Once again (in 1944), Southern Baptists gave a still larger percentage of their gifts to missions, education and benevolences than in any recent years.

22.6 per cent of their total gifts going to missions and benevolences as compared to 77.4 per cent given to the local work of the churches. That is still too low a proportion for missions and benevolences, but it is a distinct improvement over past years. And it shows an increase of 26.6 per cent in the gifts to missions and benevolences in 1944, as compared to 19.5 per cent increase in the gifts to local work of the churches.

CHAPTER III

THE EVANGELISTIC CRUSADE FOR A MILLION SOULS IN 1945

DR. M. E. DODD, Leader of the Evangelistic Crusade

Greatest and Most Inspiring Undertaking

At the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta, Georgia, May 16-18, 1944, there was launched the most challenging and inspiring program for the year of 1945 which Southern Baptists have ever undertaken in any year. It was determined to celebrate the completion of one hundred years of glorious service by the Convention with a great Crusade for Christ, having a six-fold purpose, as follows:

A Million More Souls for Christ
A Million More Church Members Enlisted
A Million More Persons Taught in Schools and Churches and Making Definite Plans for:
Rebuilding the Wreckage of the War
Reviving the Spirit and Practice of Scriptural Giving Relieving Humanity's Crying Needs, at Home and Abroad

Placing First Things First

Then it was rightly agreed to place first among the six great purposes of the Centennial Crusade the superb challenge to win a million more souls to

Christ during the year 1945. Three things constrained and all but compelled Southern leaders to give chief emphasis to the Evangelistic Crusade for a Million Souls for Christ in 1945:

1. The overwhelming and growing needs of the unreached masses. There are 35,000,000 persons in the South and Southwest, all ages and all races, who are unreached by any church. And some 20,000,000 of these have reached the Gospel age and are consciously in need of God and the pardon of sins. This vast number of unreached souls is growing at the rate of 175,000 to 200,000 a year faster than all the churches of all faiths in this territory.

2. The increasing failure of Southern Baptists to reach these unreached masses:

In 1938, we baptized 256,814 persons, 1 to 18.6 church members
In 1939, we baptized 269,155 persons, 1 to 18.3 church members
In 1940, we baptized 245,500 persons, 1 to 20.7 church members
In 1941, we baptized 209,593 persons, 1 to 24.9 church members
In 1942, we baptized 208,127 persons, 1 to 25.6 church members
In 1943, we baptized 202,301 persons, 1 to 27.1 church members
In 1944, we baptized 218,223 persons, 1 to 26.0 church members

With greater and still greater memberships in all our churches; with better and still better church houses, literature and all kinds of equipment; and with the best financial condition in our churches we have ever known, the passion for souls is dying out in Southern Baptist hearts, while fewer and still fewer men and women are making the great surrender to Christ, and larger and still larger grows that great army of the unsaved—now approximately 25,000,000 in the Southland.

On every hand it was agreed that, whatever else we did do in this great Centennial Year of 1945, we should humble ourselves and pray and seek God's face and favor for a great ingathering of the lost ones.

3. The ghastly moral wreckage which this great war is bringing upon this nation. Along three lines this war is bringing the greatest moral wreckage which this nation has ever known: (1) The war and the war work are disrupting and destroying more homes than any two wars in the history of this nation. (2) This war is creating the most staggering problem of juvenile delinquency known to any nation in modern times, except Russia. And (3) by surrounding the military training camps and the military bases of operation, where 11,800,000 men now live and serve, with plenty of strong drink, lewd women and gambling facilities, we are now seeing more of our young men wrecked from these damnable institutions of vice than by all the bullets of the enemy. And this threefold wreckage will be left for our churches to grapple with! Make no mistake about this matter! This nation is taking a headlong plunge into a moral abyss such as none of us have ever seen or known—and nothing but the power of the God of heaven, manifest in a nation-wide, heaven-sent revival will touch the problem that we will face after this war!

Suppose that our airplanes and fighting ships and foot soldiers succeed in smashing into bits every vestige of power and might of Germany and Japan, and then return to America and find here:

Unbelievable burdens of public debt
Uncountable numbers of broken homes
Myriads of children and young people completely adrift
An orgy of drinking and gambling and lewdness
One-fifth of the service men dead or wounded for life
Two-fifths of them morally and mentally wrecked
Big business attempting to corner the necessities of life
Labor unions controlling the polls and the politicians
Churches grown ritualistic, professional, proud, and powerless

What, then, will become of America? America cannot be saved by great armies and great navies, nor by so-called great men and great aggregations of capital. America can only be saved by the goodness and mercy and power of God (Psalms 27: 13).

Greatly Gifted Leaders Sought Out

In such an emergency, Southern Baptists sought out the greatest and most gifted leaders and soul-winners among us to lead and inspire and to push this Evangelistic Crusade

First of all, Dr. M. E. Dodd was called by all the main agencies of our Convention to become the Director of the Evangelistic Crusade. And his great church at Shreveport promptly and graciously released him for this gigantic task. Then the Home Mission Board called Dr. Fred C. Eastham of Wichita Falls, Texas, one of the most splendid and dynamic personalities and one of the most gifted pastors and evangelists in this nation, to be Superintendent of Evangelism for the Board, and to assist Dr. M. E. Dodd in whatever way possible, for the furtherance of this Evangelistic Crusade. Dr. Eastham accepted this new work with the Home Mission Board in November, 1944, and has already gone, heart and soul, into this great crusade.

Five Urgent Reasons for Success

There are, therefore, many reasons why this great Evangelistic Crusade should succeed—why this great task should be pushed until the million more souls are actually won to Christ in 1945. I mention only five of them here:

1. This Evangelistic Crusade is certainly the most inspiring, challenging and altogether worthy campaign ever undertaken by Southern Baptists, or any other group of Baptists, in the history of this nation.

2. This Evangelistic Crusade has the most superb leadership ever given to such a campaign in the history of this nation. When has any great evangelistic campaign in this nation had two such leaders as Director M. E. Dodd and his associate, Dr. Fred C. Eastham, and such a galaxy of local leaders throughout the several states?

3. This Evangelistic Crusade has the unified and hearty support of the great host of 5,667,926 Southern Baptists who, when fully aroused and properly led, compose the greatest evangelistic force in this nation, or the world today.

4. Southern Baptists and the people of this nation are conscious of their need of such a great, inspiring and challenging crusade as this undertaking presents, and are rejoiced to have part in it.

5. Nothing Southern Baptists could do, nothing that they could plan to do, would so greatly honor the name of Christ, advance his cause in this nation, and bless all the people, as the successful working out of this Evangelistic Crusade and the winning of a million more people to him. Surely, surely we will not falter nor fail in such a glorious task!

The Seven Greatest Years of Evangelism

The greatest evangelistic record made by Southern Baptists in recent years came in the following years:

In 1921, one person was baptized for every 13.7 church members
In 1908, one person was baptized for every 14.5 church members
In 1922, one person was baptized for every 14.9 church members
In 1906, one person was baptized for every 15.5 church members
In 1907, one person was baptized for every 15.6 church members
In 1909, one person was baptized for every 15.7 church members
In 1915, one person was baptized for every 15.9 church members

It is not the number of baptisms, but the ratio of baptisms to the members of the churches. And, judged by this standard, the seven years here mentioned are our best in recent times.

Evangelism

A Million Can Be Won

(Tune: "Send the Light")

By E. P. Alldredge

There's a call comes sounding through the South today:
"Evangelize! Evangelize!"
There are hopeless millions who have gone astray,
Evangelize! Evangelize!

CHORUS

Evangelize, the night of death comes on!
Lost ones now may soon be found!
Evangelize, a million can be won,
Diademe for Christ's own crown!

See those unchurched millions growing every hour!
Evangelize! Evangelize!
While the loving Father gives his grace and power,
Evangelize! Evangelize!

Think of how He loved and sought and prayed and gave!
Evangelize! Evangelize!
And how sure and mighty now He is to save!
Evangelize! Evangelize!

Then arouse us, Lord, to heed this holy call,
Evangelize! Evangelize!
Help us win a million more, both great and small!
Evangelize! Evangelize!

WHAT WE SPEND MONEY FOR

The Growing Liquor Bill: Since 1934, the legalized liquor bill of America has grown from $2,003,000,000 to more than $7,000,000,000, as follows:

In 1934, Americans spent	$2,003,000,000
In 1935, Americans spent	2,553,000,000
In 1936, Americans spent	3,164,000,000
In 1937, Americans spent	3,442,000,000
In 1938, Americans spent	3,237,000,000
In 1939, Americans spent	3,425,000,000
In 1940, Americans spent	3,529,000,000
In 1941, Americans spent	4,192,000,000
In 1942, Americans spent	5,187,000,000
In 1943, Americans spent	6,083,000,000
In 1944, Americans spent	7,000,000,000 plus

This is $51.47 per capita for every man, woman and child, one day old and up, in the United States. If the sales of illegal liquor be added to this the bill will perhaps reach $8,500,000,000, or $62.49 per capita.

The Movies Get $2,040,000,000: The movies are now getting $2,040,000,000, or $15 for every man, woman, and child in the nation.

The Gamblers Are Still First: Their take from the United States in 1944 was approximately $8,000,000,000—$62.50 per capita. The race-track gamblers got $9.00 per capita for every man, woman, and child in the nation.

Cigarettes Cost $2,970,000,000 in 1944: The Bureau of Internal Revenue reported that the sale of cigarettes to the people of the United States reached the unbelievable number of 270,000,000,000, or 13,500,000,000 packs in 1944, which at 22 cents a pack make up the near sum of $2,970,000,000, or $21.80 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

The Beauty-Parlor Bill Has Gone Up to More Than $1,120,000,000: In 1944, the beauty-parlor bill for the 55,000,000 women and girls of this nation, fifteen years old and up, rose to $16 for every woman and girl in the nation.

Public Education now claims $5,280,000,000.

The Churches are expending $1,915,000,000.

Crime has gone up from $15,000,000,000 to $16,000,000,000.

Christmas a Big Business: Americans spent for Christmas, 1937, $5,000,000,000; or $38.46 per capita; whereas they spent approximately $4.46 per capita for all religious purposes, for the entire year of 1937.

The Average New York Working Girl spends her money as follows: Food, 31.4 per cent of her salary; rent, 20.6 per cent; clothing, 17.7 per cent; fun, 9.1 per cent; carfare, smokes, and candy, 7.4 per cent; insurance and savings, 6.1 per cent; medical care, 4.8 per cent; personal care, 2.9 per cent.

The Main Sports Call for and Receive $4,000,000,000 a Year: According to Frank G. Menke in his Encyclopedia of Sports, as follows:

Angling	$1,200,000,000
Firearms	650,000,000
Motor Boats	600,000,000
Golf	500,000,000
Bowling	450,000,000
Skiing	150,000,000
Attendance Groups	260,000,000
Miscellaneous	190,000,000

Increased value of Orphanage property	1,100,000

HOSPITALS AND ORPHANAGES AMONG SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

DR. J. LOUIS BRISTOW, Superintendent, 2700 Napoleon Ave., New Orleans, La.

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST HOSPITAL

We close the year 1944 with a deep sense of gratitude to our Heavenly Father who has brought us through the most difficult year of our history, a period filled with war's carnage and loss; but a year in which he gave us opportunity to serve the greatest number of suffering people we have ever cared for in any similar period; and that while experiencing great difficulties in securing man power and supplies. We enter the New Year with hope, albeit the war outlook is still serious.

"We Shall Not Break Faith"

There is a devotion to the service of human beings, whether they be men fighting on the far fronts, or men and women at home, which is deeper than any spoken pledge of faith. It is the devotion of trained hospital workers to a vision of human health and happiness. Day after day the depth of this devotion is made manifest, in distant places where men fight and fall, in homes and hospitals where disease attacks and health falters. And this service to which free men and women give themselves is its own dedication, its own affirmation of the faith that always will be kept, through war and peace.

CHAPTER VI

HOSPITALS AND ORPHANAGES AMONG SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

DR. J. LOUIS BRISTOW, Superintendent, 2700 Napoleon Ave., New Orleans, La.

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST HOSPITAL

We close the year 1944 with a deep sense of gratitude to our Heavenly Father who has brought us through the most difficult year of our history, a period filled with war's carnage and loss; but a year in which he gave us opportunity to serve the greatest number of suffering people we have ever cared for in any similar period; and that while experiencing great difficulties in securing man power and supplies. We enter the New Year with hope, albeit the war outlook is still serious.

"We Shall Not Break Faith"

There is a devotion to the service of human beings, whether they be men fighting on the far fronts, or men and women at home, which is deeper than any spoken pledge of faith. It is the devotion of trained hospital workers to a vision of human health and happiness. Day after day the depth of this devotion is made manifest, in distant places where men fight and fall, in homes and hospitals where disease attacks and health falters. And this service to which free men and women give themselves is its own dedication, its own affirmation of the faith that always will be kept, through war and peace.

Service in 1944

Work of the Hospital which is susceptible of tabulation indicates the following: We admitted 24,804 patients, and gave them 127,522 days of service. Eleven hundred and sixty-one persons were given 14,987 days of free service, at a cost to the hospital of $66,875.67. There were 2,688 births, and 5,542 emergency room cases which were not hospitalized. Forty-two young women were graduated from the School of Nursing, and twenty-four doctors completed their fifth year of medical training. Operating income was $1,207,046.81; receipts from the denominational cooperative program were $47,410.99; other gifts amounted to $20,016.46, and interest received was $638.59; thus giving us a total income of $1,275,112.85 for the year. We paid all operating expenses, including the free work, paid $154,757.46 on the new dormitory which will be completed in January; and $2,268.90 on other capital expenditures; and closed the year with $20,119.66 in the bank.

Cooperation With Others

We did the usual volume of free work for representatives of other Boards and Agencies of the Convention. During the year we cared for 39 missionaries of the Foreign Board, giving them 172 days of service at a cost to the hospital of $1,747.93; we cared for eight missionaries of the Home Mission Board, giving them 38 days of service at a cost of $309.95, and for 52 inmates of the Home Board's Emergency Home for unmarried mothers, giving them 374 days of service at a cost of $2,068.85. We gave free service to scores of workers for various State Baptist Boards, to aged ministers and members of their families. We cared for 29 babies from the Protestant Home for Babies in New Orleans, giving 334 days of service at a cost to us of $1,696.60. In December the home where these fatherless babies are cared for was destroyed by fire. All the babies were rescued, and a hurry call was made for assistance. We sent our ambulances with doctors and nurses, and a large number of the little homeless tots were brought to our hospital where they were cared for until other arrangements could be made for them. That service is not included in the above tabulation, as these children were not sick.

Denominations of Patients

Each patient who is admitted is asked to give his religious denominational affiliation. Some of them do not answer the question, or give fantastic replies but from those who gave an answer we gather the following figures:

Catholics	8,457	Christian Scientists	31
Baptists	2,954	Latter Day Saints	26
Methodists	1,148	Unitarians	21
Protestants	943	Seventh Day Adventists	19
Episcopalians	771	Congregationalists	17
Presbyterians	767	Church of God	5
Lutherans	473	Quakers	4
Jewish	272	Buddhists	3
Christians	192	Greek Orthodox	3
Evangelicals	184	Miscellaneous	120
Church of Christ	37	Not Given	4,635

Included in "miscellaneous" are Nazarenes, Pentecostal, Assembly of God, Holiness, Salvation Army, Church of Jesus, Sanctified, Mason, Theosophist, and other such designations. There were 2,688 new-born babes and 1,034 children under 10 years of age not included in the tabulation.

Hospital Missionary

Miss Bonnie Jean Ray has served for more than a year as hospital missionary, and she has done a notably fine work among patients. It is difficult to evaluate such a service, but that which may be tabulated indicates something of the extent of her labors. During the year 1944 Miss Ray made 6,841 visits to patients; gave away to them 75 bibles and 1,234 tracts; wrote 112 letters for sick folk; witnessed 14 professions of faith in Christ; spoke at 11 women's missionary societies; distributed hundreds of Sunday School leaflets each Sunday among patients and visitors; and taught a Sunday school class nearly every week. Many commendations have been received from patients and members of their families respecting the spiritual ministrations of Miss Ray. Unfortunately for us, Miss Ray has resigned her position, to take up work in the Baptist Bible Institute, her resignation having come December 31. We regret to see her go; but hope to procure another worker in the not distant future.

School of Nursing

Great emphasis has been placed upon the training of nurses during the last two years. There are now more young women in schools of nursing than at any previous time. The needs of the Government for nurses in the army and navy, and in soldier and marine hospitals in this country greatly exceeded the available supply; and an appeal was made to hospitals to expand the schools. The Federal Government even supplied millions of dollars to schools to meet the necessary expense of such training. Of course, Southern Baptist Hospital declined to accept tax money even for so salutary a service. We have greatly increased our facilities and the number of students in our School, and we have paid our own way throughout, both in building and teaching costs.

We completed arrangements with Tulane University to give our preclinical students courses in Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, and Microbiology. These classes will be taught in the classrooms of the University, and we will transport students to and from that campus at our expense. This University affiliation will cost the Hospital more than $7,500.00 per year, but will give our students college training in the subjects named. Upon completing the subjects a credit of 10 semester hours will be given to a student, which may be applied toward a degree. The University also recognizes our teaching in other subjects, giving a full college year credit therefor, thus shortening the time necessary for a student to obtain a Bachelor's degree, after she has a diploma in nursing.

Religious Life

The religious life of the students is worthy of attention. Miss Dorothy Lee Knight is full-time student religious secretary, and among students there are several religious organizations. The daily chapel service is conducted by the young women themselves; and during the year there have been missionaries and other distinguished Christian men and women who have spoken to the students. Groups of students go out to the mission stations in the city, carrying the enthusiasm and cheer of youth, and conduct services; and they engage in other activities.

Convention Action

The Southern Baptist Convention in session in Atlanta last May voted to discontinue as of December 31 the allocation of cooperative funds the Hospital heretofore has been receiving. This will mean a reduction of some $40,000 per year in our income.

As is indicated in another place in this report, we gave nearly twelve hundred persons free hospital service during the year, and Staff doctors gave their professional services free to them. This service was given at a cost of $82,153.50 to this Hospital. Doctors' services were in addition to this. We have served the poor ever since we began operating; and we shall continue so to serve. This Hospital was organized and financed by Southern Baptists for such purpose. We receive nothing from any Government source, Federal, State or Municipal, nor from this city's Community Chest. What we do is a direct contribution of Southern Baptists to indigent sick folk; and we want the free privilege of continuing this service without Government interference.

It is our firm conviction that the Christian hospital is an institution noble in purpose and worthy in function; that the existence of hospitals is essential to the wellbeing and happiness of all persons; that hospitals should serve the afflicted at a nominal cost or free of charge, recognizing only the need of the individual for medical care; and that our Baptist hospitals should render this care as a distinctively Christian ministry.

A Christian hospital serves its patients in a way not to be found in another type of hospital. A distinguished businessman of New Orleans wrote to us as follows:

"I would like to recount an incident which made a profound impression upon me, one that I will likely never forget. I was to be operated upon, and though I knew there was nothing to fear, nevertheless one cannot escape a little bit of the fear of the unknown—the fear of what could happen. My family had not been able to be on hand early enough to see me before I was taken to the operating room, and I was alone in my room. I was not uneasy, but something was lacking. Then I heard a sound. The nurses in their morning chapel service were singing a hymn, and the sound of it drifted through the windows. It was "God Will Take Care of You." I only heard one verse and the chorus, but that was enough. I knew then that everything was all right. I felt a quiet peace that was not due to an opiate. I knew I had the one thing I needed. I have told several people of the incident, and one of the nurses to whom I told it said that from then on the chapel service would have a different meaning to her. So may I express my gratitude, though I am not of the Baptist faith, for that little breath of sacred hymn in a moment of uncertainty. I am certain that it was God's will to send it to me."

That is only one of the many such letters expressing gratitude for the Christian atmosphere in Southern Baptist Hospital. When folk are sick and uncertain, they need to have some such thing as that hymn to strengthen them, and such hymns are only heard in a Christian hospital.

CHAPTER VII

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OF SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

DR. CHARLES D. JOHNSON, Chairman
PRESIDENT JOHN W. RALEY, Vice-Chairman
PRESIDENT SPRIGHT DOWELL, Secretary, Education Commission

This is the sixteenth annual report of the Education Commission. It embodies the statistical facts upon which educational policies are based. It presents the major facts that have developed since the last report. It interprets educational trends. It points out evidences of co-operation on the part of conventions and associations and describes situations in the Christian educational program that require careful study and wise direction to save those areas in the Southern Baptist Convention territory from disintegration and consequent alienation from Christian teaching.

Theological Seminaries in Strategic Positions

The three theological seminaries are in larger positions of influence than at any time in their history. This influence is felt at home and abroad. It is effecting in the Americas where war machines have not bombed cities, communication systems, fortifications, educational, religious and eleemosynary institutions. But this influence is not diminished in the fighting areas. Our seminary trained men are serving as chaplains in the most heroic manner with the fighting forces. When the victory for freedom has been won by the military arm of the United Nations our seminary trained men will be in possession of evidence that will serve our Foreign Mission Board as a veritable storehouse from which to assemble the workable material from which to construct a plan for establishing freedom in the hearts of mankind throughout the world.

Enrolment Gains in Seminaries

Our seminaries show increased enrolment as compared with last year. In the regular session last year there were 1,604 students. This year the enrolment is 1,890. The summer session students in last year's report numbered 202 while this year's report shows 303 with an added 83 special students bringing the total to 386 to add to the regular session student enrolment. Women are being trained for special religious work at home and abroad. The Training School at Louisville has 200 students. Women students in Southwestern and the Baptist Bible Institute bring the total to 642. Men outnumber women two to one. The percentage of women in training is growing each year.

*This is the report of 1942-1943 which appeared in the 1944 Handbook. Later reports not yet available.—Editor.

Women Outnumber Men in Colleges and Universities

While the enrolment in our Baptist colleges and universities has only slightly declined since last report it is because women students have increased in many of our schools while men have joined the armed forces. There are 12,260 students in our four-year colleges and universities this year. Last year there were 13,058. This is a decrease of only 798 students. There was a gain in the enrolment of women students almost sufficient to keep the enrolment equal with that of the previous year, notwithstanding the war which has claimed more than fifty per cent of the men in many of our colleges. The total number of men in our four-year colleges this year is 5,985, the number of women 7,019, so that women outnumber men by 2,034. Colleges for women in some states have the largest enrolments in all their history. Some of the smaller colleges for men primarily have greatly decreased enrolments. In many instances it has been possible for the college faculties and the buildings and equipment to serve the nation by housing and teaching army and navy units. If the students in these units were added to the regular enrolment the report would show an increase, though rather small, over the report of last year. The training programs of the army and navy have been absorbed by the colleges and universities in the most admirable manner. College presidents, deans and other administrative officers are worthy of highest commendation for their wisdom in co-ordinating the various types of study and training with the regular work of the school.

Few Changes in Administrative Offices

It has been a time of many changes within the year in our colleges. Few changes, however, have been made in presidencies and deanships. The changes have come within the teaching ranks. Many of the younger men have gone into the army or navy. A considerable number of women teachers have gone into war services of various kinds. It has been necessary to call into service men and women for mathematics, physics, and chemistry that have not been teaching for many years or who have only recently completed courses leading to degrees with majors in these three fields. Readjustments are already being made by college executives in order to be ready for the postwar return of students to the studies they left to enter the armed forces.

Special War-Time Meeting of the Education Commission

Upon the request of a large number of college executives the Education Commission was called to meet in an extra session for the purpose of a conference on readjustment to meet war time emergencies. These topics were discussed:

1. Interpretation of the National Education Conference
2. The Christian College in the Present International Crisis
3. How to Adapt College Courses to Meet the Present Emergency
4. How to Make the Wisest Use of the Summer Session
5. How to Proceed in Planning Courses for the Coming Year
6. Would a New Policy Be Adopted Regarding Scholarships
7. The Christian College for the Duration and for the Long Future
8. Making and Administering the College Budget
9. Creating, Increasing and Investing Endowment Funds

The conference was held in Memphis, a central location, on February 13-14, 1942. The effects of the conference began to be felt almost immediately. Every president, dean, and business manager returned to his respective school with knowledge gained that was of a practical value. It was put to use. The reports from colleges and universities each quarter since that conference have shown how effective the conference was. One of the most beneficial of all the discussions was the one on endowments; another was the one on budget making and budget control. Our colleges have now reached the point that their business management can bear favorable comparison with the best of business organizations. And educational standards have been co-ordinately stabilized.

Junior Colleges and Academies

The junior colleges have suffered greatly from the war. The enrolment of boys in them dropped from 1731 last year to 939 this year. More girls, however, are attending the junior colleges this year than last. Last year there were 4,494, this year there are 5,058. The total enrolment in the junior colleges shows a decrease of 228, a very small decrease. Several of the junior colleges are too small to expect to prosper either educationally or financially unless more students can be attracted. No doubt the numerous campaigns for funds now being successfully conducted will have good results in attracting students as well as funds for these worthy schools. Three junior colleges have fewer than 100 students. A junior college should have not fewer than 200 students. Nine junior colleges have fewer than 200 students. When the war is over it should be perfectly normal to expect these schools to return to their usual enrolments if a standard educational program is provided in standard physical, social and religious environment.

The academies show an increase in number of boys. While the senior colleges, universities, and junior colleges report a decrease in number of men the seminaries and the academies report an increase. One academy has 740 students. This is Fork Union, Fork Union, Virginia. This academy leads the list. The second is San Marcos in Texas. Both have stressed military training for many years and have demonstrated the practicability of military discipline and Christian teaching in a well regulated Christian school. Students from these two thriving academies have gone to mission fields near and far and now their officers are defending the flag of the United States around the world. Five academies have fewer than 100 students. One report shows that reorganization is in process. Fewer than fifty students are in this school and one other. Reference to the statistical table will give exact enrolment.

Total Enrolment in All Our Baptist Schools and Colleges

The total enrolment in all of our Baptist schools and colleges exclusive of the army and navy units and not counting the summer session is 22,005. Last year the total enrolment for the regular session was 22,861. The decrease this year is less than two-tenths of one per cent. The summer session enrolment is 6,198. Approximately half of the summer session enrolment is made up of duplicate enrolment. The approximate number of students for the year is 2,500, still not counting those in army and navy units. The rapid turnover of army and navy students added to the difference in the length of study makes any statement regarding such enrolment subject requiring explanation hence regular student enrolments are reported in the statistical tables exclusive of military students. Nearly all our colleges and universities for men have army or navy units. Some have both. There are colleges, too, that have specialized training units. Baylor and Wake Forest Medical schools are in the service of the nation on accelerated programs. Dental students and nurses are similarly in training. They are at once regular students and in training for military duty.

Ministerial Students and Volunteers

The theological seminaries lead with the largest number of ministerial students. There are 1,250 in the three seminaries and 124 volunteers. Baylor University, Waco, Texas, leads all the colleges and universities with 182 ministerial students and 72 volunteers. Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas, comes second with 156 ministerial students and 20 volunteers. Two other schools have more than 100 ministerial students each. These are Howard College, Birmingham, Alabama, with 138 ministerial students, 50 volunteers, and Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, North Carolina, with 108 ministerial students and 26 volunteers. The total number of ministerial students in the colleges and universities is 1,483 and 414 volunteers.

In the junior colleges there are 240 ministerial students and 159 volunteers. In the academy there are 40 ministerial students and 26 volunteers making a a total in the junior colleges and academies of 280 ministerial students and 185 volunteers.

Ministerial students in all our Baptist Schools	2,963
Student Volunteers	723
Total	3,686

Building and Endowment Programs

Building and endowment programs are in progress in many states. In some states the program is all inclusive. Schools, hospitals, and missions are in a single budget. In other states the program is for Christian education, and the funds collected are prorated on a percentage basis among the schools and colleges. In still other states there are campaigns for college endowments and for buildings, these being conducted by the colleges themselves under the supervision and with the support of the Baptist convention or association. It is probably safe to say that there is more general interest at this time in providing adequately for our Christian schools than at any time since the first two years of the 75 million campaign.

Property and Endowment

The total value of Baptist school properties listed in the reports for the present year is $47,101,925.60. The endowment is $28,606,048.71. The total of these is $75,707,974.31. Inasmuch as endowment income fluctuates from year to year as do property values it is most encouraging to know that the campaigns now in progress are succeeding admirably. As all administrators of colleges know, property deteriorates. Buildings wear out. Equipment goes out of date. Building and equipment must be replaced. It is necessary also to increase endowment funds for they have never been sufficient to give the Baptist educator the opportunity he should have to provide all the faculty of the highest type and the needed libraries and science buildings and equipment necessary to implement an educational program on a full scale. Only seven of our 26 colleges and universities have as much as a million endowment. Some of our colleges have as little as $25,000 in the permanent endowment fund. Seven have under $500,000 and only seven have more than one million. When endowments are low it makes it necessary to call annually upon the conventions for increased appropriations if educational standards are to be maintained. Of course we want our Baptist students to have standard educational opportunity in our own Baptist schools. If such opportunity is not provided we can only expect many of the best students to go to other schools where adequate opportunity is afforded.

State Conventions Are Co-operating in Endowment Campaigns

During the present year our Baptist schools have received from state conventions $538,216.99. This is the surest kind of proof of the belief in our Baptist schools. But this is most necessary because endowments are too low. Both plans need to be in operation year after year, that is, endowments should be supplements each year by convention appropriations but the corpus of the endowment should be augmented year by year. Only in this way can our Christian schools be made the permanent institutions all of us know they should be.

Endowments are being increased admirably in some schools. During the year Mercer University's endowment has been increased by $307,666.91. William Jewell College received $210,000.00 to add to endowment. Bessie Tift College has received $115,000. Blue Mountain College has received $35,000 for endowment during the year. The University of Richmond received $34,527.89. Fork Union Academy received $100,000. Three colleges received $25,000 each: Carson-Newman in Tennessee, Shorter in Georgia, Ouachita in Arkansas. Many others received smaller amounts. The total reported for the year to be added to endowment is $1,229,144.86.

Education Commission's Service Enlarged

The work of the Education Commission has grown to meet new demands. An educational service in line with the Convention's original resolution has been conducted by the Commission functioning from the office of the chairman in co-operation with five sub-committees of the Commission. The closest and most cordial co-operation has been maintained from year to year with all the boards and agencies of the convention and with the sixty-five schools and colleges in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention. The annual Christian Education Conference at Ridgecrest has rendered a service of special advantage to educators and to the teachers of Bible and Religious Education and religious educational directors. The publication of thousands of pamphlets, the distribution constantly of information regarding our schools and colleges in response to requests of associations, conventions and local churches and societies are among the services of the Education Commission.

College News and Views

College News and Views is the monthly publication of the Education Commission. It has become a source of information used from month to month by educators and by Christian educational leaders throughout the Southern Baptist Convention and beyond. The results of Christian educational research are published in this monthly publication along with the current news of vital interest to all our Christian leaders.

Research, Scholarship, and Publications

Our Baptist college faculty men and women have recently engaged in more research than heretofore while carrying a full teaching schedule. As a result of this research the scholarship in our faculties is maintained on a high level and books and articles for magazines are being written. The Sunday School Board has published a number of books in recent years written by faculty members in our Baptist colleges. Other publishers have sought manuscripts from our faculty members, and within the last year one of our Baptist women authors, Miss Sara Lowrey, graduate of Blue Mountain College and of Baylor University, and member of the Baylor University faculty, was recently notified by her publishers in New York that her text book had been adopted in 69 colleges and universities. The book on Christian Education by Dr. H. I. Hester, graduate of Wake Forest College and of the Southern Baptist Seminary, has had wide circulation throughout the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention. These are only representative of what our Baptist college faculty members are doing in research and authorship. Publishing is being done, too, by the colleges and universities themselves. Just as the great universities much older than a majority of our Baptist schools have made large contributions to productive scholarship by the method of publishing results of research, our own schools are now making valuable contributions in the various fields of knowledge including religion, history, science and the arts. The Education Commission is promoting all of the ideals of standard education in a Christian atmosphere with a steadfast faith in the ultimate establishment of Christian principles among all the peoples of the world.

CHAPTER VIII

STUDENT WORK OF SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

FRANK H. LEAVELL, Secretary
WILLIAM HALL PRESTON, Associate
MRS. T. C. CLARK, JR., Associate (ad interim)

The year has been one of vicissitudes and recurrent upsets. This has been true not only at the Nashville headquarters but throughout the states, and on the various campuses. But despite the interruptions, inconveniences, and consequent problems the work of the Department of Student Work has gone steadily forward. For the successes and the blessings of our Heavenly Father upon our efforts all the members of the department are humble and profoundly grateful.

Changes in Personnel.—In the course of the year we suffered serious losses in the resignation of Dr. Claude U. Broach as associate secretary, Miss Mary Nance Daniel as associate secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Williams as assistant editor of The Baptist Student. Dr. Broach re-entered the pastorate and his successor has not yet been employed. Miss Daniel resigned to become Mrs. T. M. Rea of Dallas, Texas. Mrs. T. C. Clark, Jr., is serving in that capacity at least for the duration of the war, her husband being in service. Miss Williams became Mrs. Curtis Smith and was succeeded by Miss Genevieve King, formerly City B.S.U. Secretary in Dallas. The Secretary of the department returned to Nashville in September, 1944, after an absence due to illness, and has resumed the Secretaryship of the department. Mr. William Hall Preston has served faithfully throughout the year. To him is due special gratitude for carrying additional responsibilities in the absence of the Secretary. Miss Nelle Arnold has served throughout the year as office secretary and Miss Mary Jo Clark, formerly of Mississippi, served for a part of the year as office assistant. Gratitude is again expressed for the unity, loyalty, and perfect co-operation among the members of the department.

War Conditions.—Possibly the campuses of America have never suffered such upsets, reorganizations, and disruptions as during the past year. To the colors of our country have gone thousands of the men students. Not only students, but a large number of student secretaries have answered the call, leaving vacancies on many campuses, in many state headquarters, as well as in the Nashville office. To the campuses have come a larger number of girls than ever before. Also, the influx of army trainees has done much to change the complexion of the campuses, the result of which has been quite disturbing to the organized student religious work. The effort of the Department of Student Work has been to sublimate these problems. Consistent emphasis has been upon maintaining at all cost the organizational "set up" of the campuses and the states, and the holding high of the goals and ambitions, and pressing forward.

The department has endeavored to keep contact with the men in service. Special literature has been prepared and circulated. The Baptist Student magazine has been generously circulated. Impressive and attractive tracts and other literature have been sent out.

Religious Focus Weeks.—Some five years ago the Department of Student Work tried experimentally the promotion of Religious Focus Weeks on the campuses of Baptist schools. It was an effort for even closer co-operation with those schools. Behind the effort was a desire to render the most possible service to Baptist schools in which the department has always felt a special interest. The demand has grown beyond our manpower and ability. Asking some schools to defer such a meeting, we were able to promote Focus Weeks on the following campuses: Baylor Hospital, Baylor University, Ouachita College, Georgia Baptist Hospital, and Central College.

It is the conviction of the Department of Student Work that this feature has great value. This opinion is shared enthusiastically by the administrative officers of many schools and universally so by the students themselves. By taking teams of from ten to fifteen efficient workers, specialists in various Christian emphasis, to a campus for a week, with access to the classrooms for religious discussion, with two public chapel services each day, with conferences with individuals and small groups, with seminar discussions, a religious impact is possible which affects vitally the entire life of the institution. Plans for the continuation of this feature are being extended and expanded.

Annual State Student Conventions.—In October-November, 1944, seventeen annual state student conventions were successfully promoted. Despite the changed status of the student bodies of the South, the attendance upon these meetings was quite satisfactory although not quite so large as in former years, whereas the spiritual impact was more obvious and the total results most gratifying. The keynote for each of the conventions was "The World Christ Supreme in My World." We wait in suspense the possibility of holding these meetings in the fall of 1945. That will depend upon the position taken by the United States government regarding such meetings.

The Official Organ.—The Baptist Student magazine has gone forward in usefulness throughout the year. The subscriptions have exceeded slightly that of last year. The Baptist students of the South have learned to appreciate this magazine as a vital part of their college experience. The change in assistant editors in midyear was effected without serious consequences. The purpose and program of the magazine is to exalt Christ as the students' adequate companion, to present the program and emphases of the denomination as a whole, to give instruction as to world Christian movements, to lay proper stress upon doctrinal emphasis, and to afford spiritual undergirding for the Christian life and experience of the individual student. The magazine goes not only to the campuses of the South but throughout America and to many countries of the world.

International Emphasis.—The B.S.U. emphasis and organization continues to find its way to other countries, especially to those fields upon which our Foreign Mission Board is supporting missionaries. The Foreign Mission Board recently sent another missionary as a student worker in South America, we now having two full time secretaries there. Missionaries to other countries are being asked to assume responsibility for the student work. The Department of Student Work maintains vital contact with the Youth Committee of the Baptist World Alliance through which its message has outlet to nations around the world. During the past year student work has been definitely promoted in the Hawaiian Islands where missionaries have been sent pending the opening of the fields of the Orient.

Southwide Student Retreat, Ridgecrest.—Despite the upset conditions on the campuses and universal unrest due to the World War, the attendance at the Student Retreat exceeded by nearly two hundred that of the former year. The registered attendance was 1,604. The program maintained its usual high order. Whereas the spiritual tides throughout the world were low due to the demoralization of war, it was imperative that the spiritual emphasis of this program be kept on the highest possible plateau. In many respects the spiritual impact and total results were better than in former years. "Where sin abounds, grace doth much more abound." Encouraged by the splendid results of last year's meeting we look forward anxiously to the coming season. At this writing it is not yet determined, due to the government's emergency request, whether it will be possible to hold this meeting in June of '45. If so, we will endeavor again to have a meeting of surpassing power.

Volunteer Summer Work of Students.—The Department of Student Work maintains its effort, purposely stimulated during the period of the war, to enlist students throughout the South for volunteer work in their home churches, their district associations, and their state. In response to this appeal students have responded in the most gratifying way. Many students went afield during the summer of 1944 under the direction of their state Baptist forces and rendered an invaluable service. The Vacation Bible School continues to utilize thousands, Youth Revivals are held throughout the South, mission classes are conducted, study courses taught, institutes held, and distinctly missionary work in the mountain sections as well as among the Negroes, Indians, and foreign people is done. We look forward to the coming summer with eagerness. The Youth Revival emphasis is prominent—one state leader having already announced plans for thirty-five Youth Revivals to be conducted by students.

Secretaries' Conference in Nashville.—This year the invitation, for what was formerly a conference for only student secretaries, was expanded and the attendance consequently was larger than before. The total attendance of student secretaries, student workers, and other campus leaders approached seventy in number. Extensive plans were made for the year's work. The meeting this year was held jointly with a similar meeting of the Sunday School and Training Union secretaries, thereby affording additional opportunity for inspirational gatherings. The practical results of this meeting were most satisfactory. Similar meetings were planned in many of the states to follow immediately and to be patterned after the Nashville meeting.

In Step with the Denomination.—The Department of Student Work co-operates with the perennial program of the denomination at large. A number of special features of the department now appear on the denominational calendar. Likewise, features on the denominational calendar are included on the calendar of the Baptist Student Union. This co-operation is profitable.

Every effort is being exerted for maximum co-operation with the Centennial Crusade as a denominational activity. Special literature has been printed and sent to the campuses and personal commitment cards for individual student signature are proving popular over a widespread area.

In keeping with the resolution of the Southern Baptist Convention, former B.S.U. students and others on the war fronts around the world are being urged to exert Christian emphasis, as do foreign missionaries, among those with whom they make contact.

Some Special Emphases.—The Master's Minority Movement continues as a spiritual challenge to students throughout the South and in other countries. A book on this subject has been authorized by the Sunday School Board and is now being written. Literature formerly used still proves helpful.

Maximum Christianity, as stressed in B.S.U., serves as a helpful ideal and aids countless students in their effort at greater spiritual power.

The My Covenant Series of books continue in popularity and Southwide usefulness.

The department continues to promote the "On My Honor Campaign." This ten-year program against cheating and other dishonesty has been slightly disrupted, due to campus changes, but the movement will be diligently stressed from year to year, with additional literature being circulated.

At the suggestion of Dr. Holcomb, Mr. William Hall Preston, Associate Secretary, attended the Yale School of Alcohol Studies for a brief course last summer.

Professional Schools and Business Colleges.—This phase of the work of the Department of Student Work deserves, and we hope shall receive, more specialized direction. Often we fail to remember that students in business colleges and professional schools are as much the object of the B.S.U. activities as are students of other educational institutions. Universally the response to our efforts in these fields is encouraging. We hope for a special worker in these fields in the future.

For the Schools of Nursing the department has published this year, at six week intervals, an attractive news sheet entitled, The Prescription, which has been enthusiastically received and highly appreciated.

Seminary Courses.—The department greatly appreciates the hearty co-operation of our two seminaries and the Baptist Bible Institute in promoting special curricular courses for student secretaries. In response to this opportunity more and more students are enlisting for such training. Plans are now being perfected for even better promotion of this special training. More publicity is to be given to these seminary courses.

Special Programs.—We find splendid results coming from the weeks of special emphasis as now included in the Calendar of Events of B.S.U., and as promoted on the various campuses. Such weeks of special emphasis, as promoted during the past year, are as follows:

Join the Church Day in October
State Student Conventions in October and November
Student Night at Christmas in December
Vocational Emphasis Week in January
Student Evangelistic Week in February
Co-operative Mission Study in March

Volunteer Enlistment Week in April
Student Retreat at Ridgecrest in June
Volunteer Summer Service—June, July, August

Secretarial Force.—The Department of Student Work maintains its insistence upon the highest possible preparation among the choicest personnel of our young people for student secretaries. The term "Student Secretary," by mutual agreement, is used for only those who give their full time, on salary, to student religious work. The high standard which the B.S.U. maintains depends to a great extent upon the personnel and the proper preparation of such secretaries. It is with great gratitude that we give below the roster of our present student secretaries. Of necessity this list changes often. Due to the demands of our nation at war we have had more interruptions the past year than formerly. Also, the list is a bit smaller than formerly, but the standards have not been lowered.

State Student Headquarters.—Especially gratifying, and prophetic of the future program of student work, is the greatly increased interest in the various states in B.S.U. work. All states of the Southern Baptist Convention are now definitely promoting student work and making liberal investments therein. In most of the states the ideal has been reached, that is, a Department of Student Work and a full time State Student Secretary in charge thereof. With such state promotion the Department of Student Work of the Sunday School Board can be of greater assistance. Under such a "set up" the announcement has been made in one state that their program is to place on every college campus an efficient full time student secretary and also to build, or provide, on each campus a building to serve as student center. This is progress!

The Student Center.—Great strides have been made during the past year in the purchasing and furnishing of buildings which are used as student centers on, or adjoining, a campus. For one campus plans have been projected for expending not less than $100,000 for such a student center to be built as soon as building conditions will permit. This student center movement is a helpful, if not essential, feature of the Citywide Student Secretary and his work.

First Magnitude Recognition.—Due to changing entirely the Standard of Requirements effective September 1, 1944, we are unable to announce, as formerly in this report, a list of campuses having been recognized as First Magnitude. There has not yet been sufficient time for meeting the requirements of the new Standard.

The incompleted list of the Honor Roll for 1943-44 appearing in last year's report contained eleven names. Those appearing in the following list attained First Magnitude under the old Standard after that report was published.

Judson College, Marion, Ala.	Miss Mary Essie Stephens, B.S.U. President
Baylor University, Waco Texas	Miss Velma Kay, B.S.U. President
Norman Junior College, Norman Park, Ga.	Marion R. Epps, B.S.U. President
N. Greenville Jr. College, Tigerville, S. C.	Wingard Berry, B.S.U. President
Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee	Jack B. Fellows, B.S.U. President
Tennessee College for Women, Murfreesboro	Miss Mary Frances Hayes, B.S.U. President
Furman University, Greenville, S. C.	Ellis Bryan, B.S.U. President
Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus	Miss Carolyn Sessions, B.S.U. President
Georgetown College, Ky.	George Gaddie, B.S.U. President
Mississippi Southern College, Hattiesburg	Reval Langston, B.S.U. President
Central College, Conway, Ark.	Miss Emma Lee Standiford, B.S.U. President
University of Tennessee Jr. College, Martin	Miss Amanda Harding, B.S.U. President
Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, Okla.	Miss Martha Hester, B.S.U. President

In Sacred Memory.—The Department of Student Work pauses reverently at the recurrent notices of former B.S.U. workers who, in loyal service to their country and their God, have paid the supreme sacrifice in courageously fighting for liberty throughout the world. We pray that the Christian's comfort which comes from a merciful Heavenly Father may attend the relatives and friends of these, our former comrades in campus service.

Best Report in Four Years: The year 1944 brought a new note into our wartime Sunday school reports. In 1941, 1942, and 1943 there were great losses, but in 1944 apparently the tide made a definite turn, and the report showed a net gain of 123 Sunday schools and 47,652 in enrolment. The record of the four war years is as follows:

1941, gained 407 Sunday schools; lost	36,907	in	enrolment
1942, gained 116 Sunday schools; lost	122,538	in	enrolment
1943, lost 242 Sunday schools; lost	97,951	in	enrolment
1944, gained 123 Sunday schools; gained	47,652	in	enrolment
Total net gains in Sunday schools, four years			404
Total net losses in enrolment, four years			209,744
Present number of Sunday schools (1944)			24,626
Present enrolment (1944)			3,380,630

Looking Back Over 28 Years: Looking back over the 28 years since Dr. J. M. Frost died, here is what we find in the record of Southern Baptist Sunday school work:

Sunday schools in 1916	18,394
Sunday school enrolment in 1916	1,784,392
Sunday schools in 1926	21,147
Sunday school enrolment in 1926	2,683,331
Sunday schools in 1936	22,704
Sunday school enrolment in 1936	3,173,356
Sunday schools in 1944	24,626
Sunday school enrolment in 1944	3,380,630
28 years gains in Sunday schools	6,232
28 years gains in Sunday school enrolment	1,595,638
Average annual gain, 251 Sunday schools, and 57,000 enrolment

A Bird's-eye View of Sunday School Growth: Here is a bird's-eye view of Sunday school progress for the one hundred years of Southern Baptist history, 1845-1945:

First Southern Baptist Sunday school, known to exist in those early days and to have come on down to the present is the one organized in the old Second Baptist Church, Baltimore, now the East Baltimore Baptist Church, Baltimore, Maryland, in the year 1804.

In 1845, there were at least 1,218 Sunday schools in Southern Baptist churches, with an enrolment of 78,900.

In 1872, there were 4,784 Sunday schools in Southern Baptist churches, with 287,658 enrolled.

In 1882, Southern Baptist Sunday schools had grown to 9,109 with an enrolment of 563,057.

In 1891, Dr. J. M. Frost gathered up the statistics of Southern Baptist Sunday schools and found only 8,600 Sunday schools and 494,845 enrolled. This report showed a loss as compared to the report of 1882, but it was due to the incompleteness of the reports given to Dr. Frost in 1891.

In 1896, Dr. Lansing Burrows made his first regular report on Sunday schools, showing 9,738 Sunday schools and 611,528 enrolled.

In 1906, the number of Sunday schools had grown to 12,058, while the enrolment had climbed up to 876,682.

In 1916, as has been noted already, we reported 18,394 Sunday schools, with 1,784,992 enrolled.

White Sunday School Possibilities, 1940

Total white population (1940)		35,603,079
Elementary children in the South	(21.44%)	7,633,300
Intermediates in the South	(7.32%)	2,606,145
Young people in the South	(14.44%)	5,141,085
Young adults in the South	(16.20%)	5,767,699
Older adults in the South	(40.60%)	14,454,850

This means that the Elementary Department of our Sunday school work here in the South is responsible for 21.44 per cent (7,633,300 souls) of all the white children of the South, as follows:

Cradle Roll	6. 0%—2,136,185
Beginners	3,62%—1,288,831
Primaries	4.86%—1,730,310
Juniors	6.96%—2,477,974

The Intermediate Department of our Sunday school work is responsible for 7.32 per cent (2,606,145) of the boys and girls (13-16).

But the Young People's and Adult Department of our Sunday school work, as it is now organized, must shoulder responsibility for and look after 71.24 per cent (25,363,634) of all the white people in the South, as follows:

Young People (17-24)	14.44%— 5,141,085
Young Adults (25-34)	16. 2%— 5,767,699
Older Adults (35 and up)	40. 6%—14,454,850

Average Enrolment by Departments

In view of the foregoing tabulation, showing the age-group percentages of the white population in the South, it is interesting to see how this compares with the departmental enrolment in our Sunday schools. In 1938 we surveyed the enrolment of our Sunday schools by departments in 85 district associations and 3,587 churches. And here are the percentages which we found, indicating the line-up of our Sunday schools by departments:

Cradle Roll have	6.2 per cent of the total enrolment
Beginners have	6.6 per cent of the total enrolment
Primaries have	6.7 per cent of the total enrolment
Juniors have	14.6 per cent of the total enrolment
Total Elementary enrolment, 37.1 per cent
Elementary portion of the population, 21.44 per cent
Intermediates have	12.9 per cent of total enrolment
Young People have only	11.3 per cent of total enrolment
Adults have only	31.1 per cent of total enrolment
Extension Department (adults)	4.3 per cent of total enrolment
General Officers (adults and Young People) have	3.3 per cent of total enrolment

Total adult enrolment has but 38.7 per cent of total enrolment as compared to 56.8 per cent in the population.

Vacation Bible Schools

The Statistical Summary lists 7,484 Vacation Bible schools as having been held by Southern Baptists in 1944 with an enrolment of 635,947, of whom 534,655 were pupils and 101,292 were faculty members. The average daily attendance was 486,578, or 77 per cent of the enrolment. These figures were all record breakers. Already, some two hundred additional schools, not in the statistics, have been located. No doubt about eight thousand schools were held. The goal for 1945 is 10,000 Vacation Bible schools, with 50,000 conversions

Training Union Crowning a Century for Christ

The Baptist Training Union, as a denominational movement, is just half as old as the Southern Baptist Convention. It was launched as The B.Y.P.U. Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention in the fall of 1895, in Atlanta, Georgia. The Training Union is crowning the first century of Southern Baptist life with fifty years of golden achievement in our churches. The first twenty-five years of Training Union history were devoted to the development of the Baptist Young People's Union, and the second twenty-five years to the development of the modern graded all-church membership training program known as the Baptist Training Union. The original Baptist Young People's Union is still one department of the Training Union. One of the brightest jewels with which Southern Baptists are crowning their first century for Christ is the Training Union movement itself.

"Baptist Principles for a Better World"
Training Union theme for 1945

The Baptist Training Union has always been characterized by church loyalty and denominational zeal. It gives intensive instruction and training in Baptist life and Baptist work. The Training Union theme for 1945 is "Baptist Principles for a Better World." The theme for the first quarter is "The Bible—God's Blueprint for a Better World"; the second quarter, "Christian Individualism—A Basic Essential for a Better World"; third quarter, "Christ's Church—The Divine Agency for Building a Better World"; fourth quarter, "Christ's Commission—The Christian's Program for Building a Better World." These quarterly themes are developed into monthly themes, and from the monthly themes stem the topics for the weekly meetings. The programs for the year present a marvelous opportunity for our Baptist people to study and proclaim our Baptist principles. We believe firmly that these principles are the great foundation stones upon which to build a better world.

The emphases of the denominational calendar also are incorporated in the Training Union Calendar

Training Union Promotional Program for 1945

The Training Union promotional program for 1945 is the fruit of co-operative planning of the Baptist Training Union Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board and all the state Training Union departments. All these forces had a part in setting up the objectives of our program and in making all the plans.

As a matter of information the objectives and main events of the year's program are presented here.

Educational Objectives

1. To inform our people through the periodicals, textbooks, special literature, and field program concerning our Southern Baptist history, our heritage, and our program for the Centennial Year.
2. To show that Baptist principles, correctly understood and applied, are the eternal principles upon which to build a better world.
3. To press upon our denominational leadership and our churches the imperative necessity for training all of our people in church membership to secure their full participation in church and denominational life, and to show that the Training Union is necessary to give this training

Numerical and Activity Objectives

Editorial Work

The editorial staff of the Training Union Department is a part of the Editorial Division of the Baptist Sunday School Board. All Training Union literature and textbooks are planned and edited in the Training Union Department. The Training Union Calendar of emphases, events, and activities is constructed around an annual theme and monthly themes. The lesson courses also are based upon these themes. The Calendar is presented annually to the central curriculum committee of the Baptist Sunday School Board and approved by that committee.

The editorial staff is composed of the following workers: J. E. Lambdin, editor; C. Aubrey Hearn, associate editor; Mrs. J. E. Lambdin, Junior and Intermediate editor; Mrs. J. E Hart, editorial assistant; Miss Sallye Broyles and Miss Helen Conger, assistant editors of the Baptist Training Union Magazine. Leonard Wedel, Clay I. Hudson, R. Maines Rawls, Versil Crenshaw, Frances Whitworth, and Thelma Arnote are department editors of the Baptist Training Union Magazine.

Our New Workers

There have been a number of changes in the personnel of the Training Union staff during the past year.

On September 1, 1944, Joe Davis Heacock resigned as director of associational work to become a member of the faculty of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary of Fort Worth. He was succeeded by Leonard E. Wedel of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Mr Wedel came from the Trinity Baptist Church where he served as educational director for the past two years. He is a graduate of Oklahoma University, with the A.B. and M.A. degrees.

Henry C. Rogers left us on September 1 to become the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lincolnton, North Carolina He was succeeded by Versil Crenshaw, for seventeen years associate Training Union secretary of Virginia. Mr. Crenshaw has a fine background of education, with work at the University of Virginia and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville. He has also had wide experience in Intermediate work.

Miss Charlotte Tedder, after serving for a brief period as director of Junior work, resigned on October 1, 1944, to become the bride of Fred J. Swift. Miss Frances Whitworth, for the past five years the able and efficient associate editor of the Baptist Training Union Magazine, succeeded Miss Tedder as director of Junior work. Miss Whitworth has a fine background of experience in working with Juniors in the state Training Union department of Georgia, and is well prepared educationally for the work. She is a graduate with the A.B. degree of Bessie Tift College, and with the M.A. degree of George Peabody College of Nashville.

Following the resignation of Dr. Allen W. Graves two years ago, Winston Crawley served as acting director of Young People's work through July, 1944. R. Maines Rawls, for the past two years Training Union secretary of Alabama, was elected to succeed Mr. Crawley. He began his work with the Department on October 1. Mr Rawls is a graduate of Mercer University with the A.B. degree. He served four years following graduation as associate Training Union secretary of Georgia He comes to us with fine practical experience and a thorough educational background for work with young people. We believe that he has come at a strategic time for work with the young people. We expect a great period of expansion in this work following the war.

Miss Sallye Broyles and Miss Helen Conger, members of the office staff of the Training Union Department, are now serving as assistant editors of the Baptist Training Union Magazine.

Ridgecrest

The Ridgecrest assemblies in 1944 were among the best ever held there. The three Training Union weeks were well attended and all the work was of an unusually high character.

One of the outstanding features of the Ridgecrest Training Union Assembly is the service for calling out the called. During the three weeks 466 young people responded to this call. The cards which these young people signed are kept on file. We feel that Ridgecrest is to play an increasingly important role in helping to recruit missionaries, preachers, and denominational workers of all kinds. A general consecration service also was conducted each week and all those present rededicated their lives to the work of Christ in their own churches.

In compliance with the request of our Government, the Sunday School Board has decided not to hold the Ridgecrest Assembly in 1945. We shall begin early to make big plans for the season of 1946. Let us hope and pray that by that time conditions will permit the resumption of this great phase of our denominational work.

Our Office Ministry

One of the most important phases of the work of the Training Union Department is the promotional work carried on from our office. Emmett Golden is our efficient office secretary, and Miss Edith McMillan is assistant office secretary. Mr. Golden supervises the work of our office staff. A constant stream of office promotion is carried on throughout the year. Free tracts, Standards of Excellence, study course awards, and Standard awards are sent directly to the churches from our Department. By means of general correspondence we do everything we can to help the workers in the churches.

Looking Toward the New Century

Plans are already shaping up for the Training Union program of 1946. The theme selected for the year's work is "Christ Above All." The work in our churches, in our associations, and in all of our general denominational institutions must be Christ centered if we are to meet the needs of the postwar world. Evangelism, Christian education, missions, and all of our other great denominational ministries are meaningless unless Christ be at the center. All efforts to build a better world will come to naught if they are not dominated by Christ.

We feel that this will be a supremely important theme with which to initiate a new century for Christ.

The promotional program for 1946 will challenge us, in the name of Christ, to press forward toward our lofty objective of establishing a functioning Training Union in every Baptist Church, of setting up a functioning associational Training Union in every association, the enlistment of all of our people in the Training Union, and the improvement of all of our training work in every church.

ASSOCIATIONAL PROMOTION

LEONARD E. WEDEL, Director of Associational Work

Although approximately one third of the Training Union associational officers of the Southern Baptist Convention are new leaders, splendid results have been accomplished this year in all phases of associational work. Some of the significant results are:

1. Our annual report shows approximately 800 organized and functioning associations.
2. In 1944 there were 24 Standard associations, the largest number in our history. This figure represents a gain of 100 per cent over 1943.
3. A total of 530 awards for The Associational Baptist Training Union Manual were requested. This is an increase of 72 over the previous year.
4. Associational officers' training meetings were held in every state and the District of Columbia.
5. All states and the District of Columbia promoted enthusiastically the Southwide Simultaneous Associational Training Union Mass Meetings on April 24, 1945. This was an outstanding event and resulted in making a significant impact upon the training consciousness of our Baptist life.
6. Eight states have added full time workers charged with the specific responsibility of promoting associational work. This is an increase of five over 1943.

Many phases of associational promotion projected throughout the year never reached the statistical table. Some of the favorable signs of progress are:

1. A determined effort on the part of all those in leadership to organize unorganized associations; to complete the organization in every association; to lead associational officers in the study of The Associational Baptist Training Union Manual; to aid, encourage, and challenge these officers to plan and promote a consistent and worthy program of work.
2. An increasing number of associations are sending in their quarterly reports. This is a manifestation of their interest and a contributing factor in the general uptrend.
3. An increased effort is being made by the associational organizations to reach the host of churches now without Training Union work and to strengthen others. This includes the promotion of organized visitation, conducting study courses, and adequate follow-up work.
4. An increased emphasis is also being given through the associational Training Union to lead our Baptist people in a special ministry through services in hospitals, jails, to shut-ins, among foreign elements and races, sponsoring mission Sunday schools, vacation Bible schools, and other worthy forms of missionary endeavor.

In spite of the many restrictions brought on by the war, there is a wholesome optimism throughout the Southern Baptist Convention as seen in the continued promotion of all phases of associational Training Union work. This is highly encouraging.

All of the splendid results and signs of progress during the Centennial Year could not have been possible without the superb leadership of the state Training Union secretaries and their able assistants.

We are the recipients of a glorious past and because of it the future shines ever brighter before us.

DEPARTMENT PROMOTION

Story Hour Department

THELMA ARNOTE, Director of Story Hour Work

A thoughtful analysis of correspondence field work, literature orders, and quarterly reports reveal consistent growth and interest in the Story Hour of the Training Union. In 1944, 360 new units of Story Hour were organized and 4,851 more children were enrolled. As has been true in past years, this increase closely compares to a similar expansion in the Adult union work.

The most conspicuous achievement has been in leadership training. Nine hundred eighty awards were issued for the study of The Story Hour Leadership Manual; requests come almost daily from leaders seeking suggestions for improving their work.

Another gratifying phase of our work has been the rapid extension of Story Hour department organization. The Story Hour Leadership Manual presents complete plans for Story Hour organization and grading for churches of all sizes.

A Story Hour is no longer a mere convenience to a church; it is a necessity. No Training Union is complete until it includes an adequate Story Hour organization for the children under nine years of age.

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT

FRANCES WHITWORTH, Director of Junior Work

Leading up to the Centennial Year, steady progress and growth have characterized Junior union work. We anticipate rich returns in Juniors won to Christ during the Evangelistic Crusade, and we covet training in church membership for every convert.

Circulation of the Junior Union Quarterly exceeded 200,000 in 1944, while The Junior Leader reached a peak of approximately 18,000 copies. Because of gratifying wide usage of new aids to leadership provided last year, all three of these have been reprinted, i.e.: The Junior Leadership Manual, The Junior Leader's Plan Book, and eight supplements to the Plan Book

Juniors were second only to the Adults in the number of study course awards issued in 1944, a total of 60,517. This Is My Bible, by Bethann F. Van Ness, is an excellent new study course book for Juniors which has been well received.

Juniors are doers; we would lead them into worth-while activities.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT

VERSIL CRENSHAW, Director of Intermediate Work

The Centennial Crusade has greatly increased the responsibility of the Baptist Intermediate union leadership. Thousands of Intermediates are being won to Christ and automatically they become possibilities for membership in Intermediate unions. This number of new converts, added to at least a half million Intermediate church members prior to the opening of the Crusade, gives this age group the largest number of possibilities in the entire history of the movement.

The following factual information is indicative of progress in the Intermediate work.

1. During the year, 845,821 copies of the Baptist Intermediate Union Quarterly and 68,546 copies of The Intermediate Leader were distributed. The average circulation per quarter was 211,455 for the Baptist Intermediate Union Quarterly and 17,138 for The Intermediate Leader. This is an all time high record for circulation of these periodicals.
2. Ever zealous to inform themselves about the duties and privileges of church membership, Intermediates earned 60,256 study course credits during the year.
3. Determination to do the work on a high plane of efficiency resulted in 273 Standard unions and 11 Standard departments.
4. More than a thousand Intermediates were in attendance at the Ridgecrest Training Union Assembly. A large number of those present dedicated themselves to special service. This should help to furnish leadership for our second century of Southern Baptist life.
5. Growing interest in Bible study and familiarity with the use of the Word of God is noted in the fact that fifteen states were represented in the Southwide Intermediate Sword Drill at Ridgecrest.

During the year two outstanding books were added to our Study Course curriculum. They are the Intermediate Leadership Manual, Pearson, for adults working with Intermediates; and Growing In Bible Knowledge, Graves, for Intermediates.

There is much to be done to strengthen and fortify our work. Our unenlisted throngs must be reached through enlarged organization, departmentization, personal enlistment, thorough planning, and practical activities. These are "imperative musts" now!

YOUNG PEOPLE'S DEPARTMENT

R. MAINES RAWLS, Director of Young People's Work

It is gratifying to note that during the past year the drop in the number of young people in Training Union has been checked and an increase is reported in the fourth quarter over the fourth quarter one year ago. This increase has come in spite of the large numbers of young people who continue to enter the armed services of our country. It seems that our churches have become adjusted to wartime conditions and have enlisted heretofore unenlisted young people.

The energies of this department are being directed toward strengthening the enlistment program and increasing the efficiency of the Young People's unions throughout our Southland. The objectives of such a program are two: to help our young people and our churches realize the most from this department now, and to have an organization capable of enlisting the 100,000 or more Baptist young people who will return after the war.

During 1944, the Southwide Young People's Speakers' Tournament was held in three parts during the three weeks of the Training Union Leadership Assembly at Ridgecrest. Youth Week was again a part of the regular promotional program of this department.

Prospects are bright for continued progress during 1945.

ADULT DEPARTMENT

CLAY I. HUDSON, Director of Adult Work

A careful study of the status of the Adult work of the Training Union at this time arouses great optimism for the future. In 1944 the adults led all departments of the Training Union in gains in organization, enrolment, and in study course awards.

The Adult department now reports 10,691 unions, a gain of 480 over 1943. The enrolment reported is 189,177, a gain of 11,298 over 1943.

In the fourth quarter of 1943, 203,933 Adult union quarterlies went to the adults from the Sunday School Board. In the same quarter of 1944, 226,703 copies were circulated. This is a gain of 22,770.

In 1944, 73,882 study course awards were issued, a gain of 7,733 over 1943.

We are convinced that we are on the verge of a great period of expansion of Adult union work.

Does Church Union Solve the Problems?

It will be noted that, with in the past ten years, there has been a decided increase in religious denominations in the United States—an increase from 204 denominations in 1932 to 256 in 1942. And this has come to pass in spite of the union of several rather large denominations, and great agitation for further church union.

Here is an outstanding example of the way church union works:

In 1939 the total membership of the Methodist Church (uniting Southern Methodists, Protestant Methodists and Methodist Episcopal branches) was 7,948,373. In 1942, the total membership of this united church had fallen to 7,813,891, showing a net loss of 134,482 for the three years.

Compare this record with that of Southern Baptists for the same three-year period and you will find net gains of 417,955, as follows:

Southern Baptist church membership in 1939	4,949,174
Southern Baptist church membership in 1942	5,367,129
Net gain for the three years	417,955

In other words, Southern Baptists, going on attending to their own business, have had a net gain of 417,955 in the three years of the great global war; while our Methodist brethren, with all the supposed advantages of church union, have suffered a loss of 134,482 members in the same period. Think it over!

NEW POPULATION STATISTICS OF UNITED STATES

Bureau of The Census Reports for July 1, 1943

Some High Points in the Report

1. Only 25 of the 48 states and the District of Columbia showed decided increases in population between April 1, 1940, and July 1, 1943; while the other 23 states showed decreases for this three-year and three-month period.

2. The Southern and Western States, as a whole, showed approximately 4,000,000 increase for this period; while the Northeastern and North Central States showed about 2,000,000 decrease.

3. The population of the whole United States, meantime, showed a net increase of more than 2,250,000, or 1.7 per cent for this three-year and three-month period. That is to say, the population of the nation as a whole increased about 57,700 per month, or 692,400 per year for this period.

4. The largest decreases, strange enough, occurred in the Northeastern States, where there was a net decrease of 2.9 per cent, or over one million inhabitants in this period.

5. The West showed the greatest gains, having a net increase for this period of 2,264,672, or slightly more than the nation as a whole; whereas the Southern States came second with a net gain of 1,993,184 for this period, or an average gain of 51,107 per month, or 613,284 per year.

Four states, however, led all the rest of the states in the nation—these were Arizona, California, Florida and Nevada. To these must be added the District of Columbia. The inhabitants of this group of states and the District of Columbia actually increased 20 per cent over the 1940 figures, California leading all the rest with a net increase of 1,559,135 for the three years and three months.

SOUTH AMERICA AS A GREAT NEEDY MISSION FIELD

South America, like North America, is a very great and a very needy mission field. The simple facts in the case give one a conclusive answer.

1. According to Roman Catholics themselves, South America is a very great and a very needy mission field. Here are the statistics for the South American countries published in the Catholic World Atlas (1929, see Table XXXV): This table shows less than 72 per cent of the people in South America affiliated with Roman Catholics, as compared to something over 28 per cent which are either non-Catholics or unreached by any church.

The Real Church Situation in South America

Unhappily these Roman Catholic statistics are greatly exaggerated, both for the Catholics and for the non-Catholics as well. It will be noted, for example, that non-Catholics are here listed as having 2,506,071 members and "adherents" in South America! But non-Catholics had only 251,621 communicants or actual church members in 1925 and only 438,682 in all South America in 1940. And if there are 2,000,000 non-Catholic "adherents" in South America there are 2,000,000 reasons for more mission work in South America.

But what percent of the 66,301,908 nominal Roman Catholics in South America are really "practicing" Roman Catholics, and what per cent are without any understanding of the Roman Catholic Church or any concern for its welfare, and are lost in indifferentism and paganism?

If more than 60 per cent of the 66,301,908 nominal Roman Catholics in South America are "practicing" Catholics at this time there is not a scintilla of evidence of it, anywhere. This would indicate the following general religious situation in South America today:

Total population (1940)	92,471,281
Practicing Roman Catholics	39,781,145
Nominal non-practicing Catholics	26,520,763
Wholly unreached persons	23,663,302
Non-Catholic "adherents"	2,067,389
Non-Cahtolic church members	438,682

Can any sane person who is a Christian at all fail to see in this situation the challenge of a very great and a very needy mission field in South America?

POPULATION OF 25 LARGEST SOUTHERN CITIES

1910—1920—1930—1940

Correcting Some Misinformation: Some two or three years ago, the president of the Northern Baptist Convention, became greatly alarmed over what he claimed were the serious losses of Southern Baptists in the cities of the South. Just where he found such misinformation and why he felt called upon to rush out to the public to spread it abroad, I have never been able to learn. Perhaps it was because he had discovered that the Northern Baptist Convention territory where he lived at that time (the Pacific Northwest) had one Baptist in every 80 persons in the population; whereas the Southeastern states in Southern Baptist Convention territory had one Baptist to every 4.4 persons in the population. At any rate, we are giving our readers herewith the Census figures of the growth of the total population of the twenty-five main cities of the South, together with the growth of the white Baptists in these same Southern cities, covering the past twenty years. As will be seen from these tabulations, the white Baptists who live in our Southern cities, have been growing over four times (400%) faster than the population.

ONWARD MARCH OF CHRISTIANITY

The following figures, furnished by "Christian Herald," are perhaps the most nearly accurate of all the various estimates of the march of Christianity down the centuries.

"We have never seen any estimate claiming to be accurate, showing the aggregate number of Christians in the first century A.D. From that little gathering of 120 souls in Jerusalem (mentioned in Acts 1), the numbers must have increased rapidly, especially when we taken into consideration the activities of the disciples, not only in home but in foreign missionary work. Greece, Italy, and what s now Asia Minor or Anatolia, were visited, and the gospel preached with most encouraging results. There is a tradition that the king of Edessa with all his people accepted Christianity in one day. Many of the larger cities had doubtless a considerable Christian following. Besides these, the gospel spread, during the first century, to the southern shores of the Mediterranean and the islands of that sea. We give below the figures of the growth during the following centuries and the total throughout the world today. It should not be forgotten, however, that there are extensive territories in Asia (including Tibet) and in Central Africa, and part of South America still unreached to say nothing of the Arctic lands. At the close of Jesus' earthly ministry, thousands were brought into the kingdom and at the end of the first century A.D., the little group in the 'upper room' had augmented to half a million, according to the best estimates of experienced writers. In one of his sermons, Doctor Talmage quotes Sharon Turner, an eminent English jurist and historian, and recognized as a man of unusual accuracy—who gives these surprising statistics in regard to the growth of Christianity:"

We will thank our editors in particular if they will have the kindness to note, in their columns, all ministerial changes from week to week; and we will likewise take it as a great favor if all our ministers will notify us by postcard when they change their field of labor and particularly when they change their post office address or even their street address.
